Foreword

The OECD hosted Global Forum on Transparency and Exchange of Information for Tax Purposes (the Global Forum) provides a multilateral response to tackle offshore tax evasion. It brings together over 160 jurisdictions dedicated to improving transparency and the exchange of information for tax purposes.

The Global Forum promotes and ensures the effective implementation of two complementary international standards: the exchange of information on request (EOIR) and the automatic exchange of financial account information (AEOI), both of which provide for closer co-operation between tax authorities worldwide so that they can obtain information necessary to ensure tax compliance.

The OECD developed the Standard for Automatic Exchange of Financial Account Information in Tax Matters (AEOI Standard) in 2014, working with the G20. It provides for the annual exchange of a predefined set of information on financial accounts held by non-resident individuals and entities between tax authorities. The Global Forum has been supporting, monitoring and reviewing the implementation of the AEOI Standard since its inception. It has published detailed yearly reports on the implementation of the AEOI Standard by all participating jurisdictions since exchanges commenced in 2017.

This report, for the first time, presents the results of the peer reviews conducted by the Global Forum with respect to the domestic and international legal frameworks put in place by the first 100 jurisdictions to implement the AEOI Standard.

The Global Forum is also conducting peer reviews with respect to the effectiveness of the implementation of the AEOI Standard in practice, the results of which are expected to be published in 2022.

This document was approved by the AEOI Peer Review Group at its third meeting on 2-3 November 2020 and adopted by the AEOI Peers on 30 November 2020. It was prepared for publication by the Secretariat of the Global Forum on Transparency and Exchange of Information for Tax Purposes.

Executive summary

The Standard for Automatic Exchange of Financial Account Information in Tax Matters (AEOI Standard), developed by the OECD working with G20 countries, provides a common international framework for the domestic collection and international exchange of information on Financial Accounts for tax purposes.

Under the AEOI Standard, Financial Institutions report information to their domestic tax authorities in relation to Financial Accounts held by foreign tax residents or, in certain cases, held by Entities controlled by foreign tax residents (defined as Controlling Persons). Tax authorities then exchange that information with the tax authority from the jurisdiction where the Account Holder/Controlling Person is resident.

Access to such information provides a powerful tool for tax authorities to verify whether taxpayers are properly declaring their international financial affairs and paying the tax that is due to their domestic tax authorities. This is important to tackle tax avoidance and evasion as well as to maintain public confidence that the increasing globalisation of the financial system is not undermining domestic tax systems. This is of heightened importance as jurisdictions work to address the impacts of the COVID-19 pandemic.

That almost 100 jurisdictions exchanged information in 2019 relating to 84 million financial accounts with a total value of around EUR 10 trillion demonstrates the significance of the AEOI Standard. These figures are also set to grow further. In 2020, 105 jurisdictions are due to exchange information and the network of exchange relationships has increased by 15%, to around 7 000. As for the 2020 exchanges, the Global Forum on Transparency and Exchange of Information for Tax Purposes (the Global Forum) agreed to jurisdictions completing them by the end of December, rather than the end of September, due to the operational impact of the COVID-19 pandemic on tax authorities and financial institutions.

While recognising the huge progress made, there is still work to do to ensure the AEOI Standard is fully effective in delivering on the international community's objective of tackling tax avoidance and evasion. This includes ensuring that the few remaining jurisdictions delayed in commencing exchanges deliver on their commitment and ensuring that each jurisdiction that has implemented the AEOI Standard has done so in a way that works effectively in practice. For these purposes, it needs to be ensured that the domestic and international legal frameworks implementing the AEOI Standard have been put in place in accordance with the requirements, along with the requirements to ensure the frameworks operate effectively in practice.

Therefore, in addition to the monitoring of the timeliness of the delivery of the commitments made to implement the AEOI Standard, the Global Forum is carrying out peer reviews to ensure the effectiveness of the implementation of the AEOI Standard. These are conducted in accordance with the agreed Terms of Reference for the AEOI reviews (the AEOI Terms of Reference).

The peer reviews consist of:

- A review of each jurisdiction's domestic and international legal frameworks to ensure they are complete, in accordance with the detailed requirements.
- A review of the effectiveness of each jurisdiction's implementation of the AEOI Standard in practice, including the operational frameworks put in place to ensure compliance by Financial Institutions with the requirements.

This report contains, for the first time, the conclusions of the peer reviews of the legal frameworks put in place by each jurisdiction to implement the AEOI Standard. The results relate to the 100 jurisdictions that committed to exchanging information from 2017 or 2018. The Global Forum has also commenced the reviews of the effectiveness in practice of these 100 jurisdiction's implementation of the AEOI Standard. It is due to publish the results in 2022.

This report is structured as follows:

- Chapter 1 provides the latest results of the monitoring process to track the timeliness of the delivery of the commitments by each jurisdiction to implement the AEOI Standard.
- Chapter 2 sets out details of the peer reviews of the legal frameworks that have been conducted, along with a summary of the results, including the determinations made with respect to each jurisdiction.
- Chapter 3 presents the analysis and results of each jurisdiction's peer review, including the specific recommendations made.
- Annex A details the staging of the various reviews (the "Staged Approach").
- Annex B provides information on all the exchange agreements that are in place with respect to the AEOI Standard, including those activated through multilateral frameworks, as well as bilateral agreements.
- Annex C presents an extract from the AEOI Terms of Reference with respect to the legal frameworks.

The information in this report is up to date as of 2 December 2020. Further information and updates are available on the AEOI Portal (www.oecd.org/tax/automatic-exchange) and the relevant communication channels that each jurisdiction has in place domestically.

1 Monitoring the implementation of the AEOI Standard

Driven by the G20's ambition to advance the global agenda on transparency and the exchange of information for tax purposes, the OECD developed the Standard for Automatic Exchange of Financial Account Information in Tax Matters (AEOI Standard) in 2014. All members of the Global Forum, aside from developing countries that did not host a financial centre, were then asked to commit to automatically exchanging financial information under the AEOI Standard by 2017 or 2018. This section contains details on the status and timeliness of the implementation of the AEOI Standard by all committed jurisdictions.

As mentioned in the Executive summary of this report, and in response to a request by the G20, the Global Forum monitors the implementation of the AEOI Standard. This started with the Global Forum putting in place a commitment process to facilitate the widespread application of the AEOI Standard based on a level playing field.

The AEOI commitment process

While the OECD developed the AEOI Standard in 2014, working with G20 countries, the Global Forum recognised that, together with its existing standard of exchange of information on request (EOIR), it would offer tax authorities with a powerful tool to advance tax transparency and the exchange of information for tax purposes. The Global Forum was therefore quick to put in place a process to promote the global implementation of the AEOI Standard, through collective commitments to agreed timelines. All Global Forum members, except for developing countries that did not host a financial centre, were subsequently asked to commit to:

- implementing the AEOI Standard;
- exchanging information with all Interested Appropriate Partners (all jurisdictions interested in receiving information from a jurisdiction and that meet the expected standards in relation to confidentiality and data safeguards); and
- commencing exchanges in 2017 or 2018.

This resulted in a group of 49 “early adopter” jurisdictions committing to exchanging information in 2017 and a further 51 jurisdictions committing to commencing exchanges in 2018.

Further jurisdictions have subsequently committed to implementing the AEOI Standard to specific timelines. These include: (i) four jurisdictions that have been identified through the Global Forum’s “jurisdiction of relevance” process, established to maintain a level playing field with respect to the AEOI Standard; and (ii) nine developing countries not asked to commit to the AEOI Standard to a specific timeline, but that wish to access the benefits of the AEOI Standard.

Further details on the specific commitments made are contained in the tables 1.1 to 1.3 below.

Monitoring the timeliness of delivery

Once a jurisdiction commits to implementing the AEOI Standard, the Global Forum monitors the timeliness of delivery for each milestone necessary to deliver the commitment. The key milestones require putting in place:

- a domestic legislative framework to require Financial Institutions to collect and report the information for exchange, which should be in place to require the collection of the information in the year prior to its reporting and exchange;
- an international legal framework allowing the exchange of information with the jurisdiction’s Interested Appropriate Partners in the year of exchange, comprising of an international legal basis to exchange information automatically and a competent authority agreement containing the details of the exchanges (the vast majority of exchanges take place using the multilateral Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters (the Convention) and the CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement (the CRS MCAA)¹); and
- a suitable technical infrastructure to receive the information from Financial Institutions, to process it as necessary and to transmit it to a jurisdiction’s exchange partners (all jurisdictions use the Common Transmission System (CTS), developed and procured by the OECD and managed by the Global Forum).

Further details on the jurisdictions' timeliness in meeting these milestones are contained in the tables 1.2 to 1.3 below.

Delivery of the commitments

Table 1.1 presents details of the exchanges that took place in 2018 and 2019. It shows that the overwhelming majority of jurisdictions put in place the necessary legal and technical requirements and successfully commenced exchanges, in accordance with their commitments. Details of the 2020 exchanges are not yet available as the Global Forum extended the deadline to carry out exchanges from September 2020 to the end of December 2020, in response to the COVID-19 pandemic.

94% of the jurisdictions delivered on their commitment to exchange in 2019.

Notes: The United States has undertaken automatic information exchanges pursuant to FATCA from 2015 and entered into intergovernmental agreements (IGAs) with other jurisdictions to do so. The Model 1A IGAs entered into by the United States acknowledge the need for the United States to achieve equivalent levels of reciprocal automatic information exchange with partner jurisdictions. They also include a political commitment to pursue the adoption of regulations and to advocate and support relevant legislation to achieve such equivalent levels of reciprocal automatic exchange.

1. These jurisdictions were delayed so did not commence AEOI exchanges in 2018 but exchanged in 2019 the information that should have been exchanged in 2018. In the case of Brunei Darussalam, it exchanged in 2020 the information that should have been exchanged in 2018 and 2019. Where the exchanges are reciprocal, this is reflected in the timing of the exchanges with respect to their exchanges partners.

2. These jurisdictions are developing countries that were not asked to commit to implementing the AEOI Standard to a particular timeline, but did so voluntarily.

3. Bulgaria temporarily suspended exchanges while it strengthened its confidentiality and data safeguarding frameworks.

4. Due to technical difficulties, the Turks and Caicos Islands was delayed in undertaking exchanges in 2019.

Notwithstanding the highly significant successes reflected in Table 1.1, some jurisdictions have not delivered on their commitments to commencing exchanges. A fully effective AEOI Standard requires a level playing field. The Global Forum therefore continues to work closely with these jurisdictions to support them in delivering on their commitments.

Table 1.2 shows the jurisdictions that are late in putting in place the necessary legal frameworks to implement the AEOI Standard, namely Sint Maarten and Trinidad and Tobago.

Delivery of exchanges in 2020

The COVID-19 pandemic made 2020 an extraordinary year, with many tax authorities and Financial Institutions facing significant operational challenges. These include moving to remote working arrangements, sometimes with limited access to secured systems. This has affected the ability of many tax authorities to collect, sort, validate and transmit the information in time for exchanges to take place in September 2020 (as is normally the case). To respond to these challenges, and to ensure that the 2020 exchanges take place in an orderly, coordinated and predictable way, the Global Forum agreed to an extension of the deadline. Where needed, jurisdictions could undertake exchanges up until the end of December 2020. A large number of jurisdictions have made use of this extension.

Over 96% of the jurisdictions have the necessary legal and technical frameworks in place to deliver their commitment to exchange in 2020.

Three jurisdictions committed to exchange in 2020 for the first time. These are set out in Table 1.4, namely Nigeria, Oman and Peru. These jurisdictions have the necessary frameworks in place, or are finalising their completion, and are on track to deliver on their commitments.

2. Developed country that joined the Global Forum after the commitment process was conducted in 2014. They were therefore asked to commit to a particular timeline upon joining.

Commitments to commence exchanges in the future

A further ten jurisdictions are committed to starting exchanges in the coming years. These are set out in Table 1.5 below.

Table 1.5. Jurisdictions committed to commencing exchanges from 2021 onwards

Year of commitment to first exchanges	Jurisdiction

1. Developing countries that do not host a financial centre and that were not asked to commit to a specific date to exchange information, but that have done so voluntarily.

2. Jordan, Kazakhstan, Montenegro and Thailand were subject to the Global Forum process aimed at identifying jurisdictions of relevance for the implementation of the AEOI Standard and, if considered relevant, would have been expected to commit to exchange under the AEOI Standard to a particular timeline. They however voluntarily committed to implement the AEOI Standard to the timeline that would have been expected.

From monitoring to peer reviews

In order to realise the potential benefits the AEOI Standard has to offer, jurisdictions must not only implement it on a widespread basis and in a timely manner. They also have to implement its detailed requirements in a complete and effective manner.

To ensure this is the case, the Global Forum conducts peer reviews with respect to all aspects of the implementation of the AEOI Standard. Chapter 2 contains further details in this regard.

Note

2 Peer reviews of the AEOI Standard's implementation

In addition to monitoring the timeliness of the delivery of each jurisdiction's commitment to implementing the Standard for Automatic Exchange of Financial Account Information in Tax Matters (AEOI Standard), the Global Forum conducts peer reviews to ensure its implementation is both complete and effective. This chapter provides an overview of the methodology used for the peer reviews. It also includes a summary of the findings from the assessments of the legal frameworks put in place by each jurisdiction to implement the AEOI Standard.

In addition to the monitoring the timeliness of the delivery of the commitments made to implement the AEOI Standard, the Global Forum conducts peer reviews to ensure the implementation is both complete and effective. These are conducted in accordance with the agreed Terms of Reference for the AEOI reviews (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

Global Forum AEOI peer reviews: A multifaceted assessment process

The Global Forum conducts various peer review processes in order to cover the various requirements in the AEOI Terms of Reference. The Global Forum designed the timing and content of each of the processes to best assess the particular requirements in question. The various processes are as follows:

- Reviews to provide assurance jurisdictions are meeting the legal and operational requirements with respect to confidentiality and data safeguards. Given the sensitivity of the taxpayer information involved, the Global Forum conducts the reviews in advance of exchanges commencing. This is to identify issues early, to facilitate jurisdictions addressing them prior to exchange. The Global Forum provides assistance to address any issues as necessary. The Global Forum then conducts a further review in relation to confidentiality and data safeguards after exchanges have commenced, in order to provide continuing assurance. The Global Forum also has a mechanism to react to breaches of confidentiality or the safeguarding of data.
- Peer reviews of the legal frameworks in place to implement the AEOI Standard. These reviews cover the domestic legislative frameworks in place to implement the AEOI Standard (i.e. to require Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting rules) and the international legal frameworks (i.e. to exchange the information). The results of these reviews are the focus of this report. Further information on the processes and the conclusions is below.
- Peer reviews of the effectiveness in practice of each jurisdiction's implementation of the AEOI Standard, including the operational frameworks to ensure compliance by Financial Institutions and the systems and processes in place to transmit the information. The Global Forum has commenced the effectiveness reviews, now that a number of exchange cycles have taken place. It expects to publish the results in 2022.

The Global Forum conducts these reviews in stages, to match the timings of the implementation process. This ensures that issues are identified early, supporting the effectiveness of the AEOI Standard during the implementation process. Further details on the staging of the various reviews (the "Staged Approach") are available in Annex A.

Focus of this report: Peer reviews of the AEOI legal frameworks

This report focuses on the results of the peer reviews of the legal frameworks put in place to implement the AEOI Standard, including determinations on the extent to which each jurisdiction put the necessary frameworks in place. The results relate to all jurisdictions that committed to commencing exchanges under the AEOI Standard in either 2017 or 2018. Next year, the results in relation to jurisdictions committed to commencing exchanges in 2019 will be included, and so on (i.e. the Global Forum conducts the reviews of the legal frameworks in the early years of implementation and publishes the results two years after the exchanges are due to commence). Furthermore, where jurisdictions have addressed issues in relation to their legal frameworks, reassessments will be conducted and the results will be included in future reports.

Peer reviews of the legal frameworks

The AEOI Terms of Reference group the requirements with respect to the legal frameworks according to two Core Requirements (CRs). The first CR relates to the domestic legislative framework and the second CR relates to the international legal framework. These are set out below:

- CR1 Legal Framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein.
- CR2 Legal framework: Jurisdictions should have exchange relationships in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners as committed to and that provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the Model CAA.

Annex C reproduces these CRs, along with their associated Sub-Requirements.

Details of the Global Forum's peer review processes used to assess these requirements are set out below. For each of them, the Global Forum Secretariat conducts an initial in-depth analysis, before sending it to all AEOI Peers¹ for input. The AEOI Peer Review Group (APRG)² then approves the analysis and any recommendations, before all AEOI Peers adopt them.

Peers reviews in relation to Core Requirement 1

The AEOI Terms of Reference refer to the detailed due diligence and reporting procedures that Financial Institutions must follow contained in the AEOI Standard. These procedures are to ensure that Financial Institutions report the correct information on Financial Accounts and their Account Holders to the tax authority. It is therefore crucial that each jurisdiction properly reflects these requirements in its domestic legislative framework.

The Global Forum therefore carries out a detailed analysis and review of each jurisdiction's domestic legislative framework implementing the AEOI Standard. Where the review identifies gaps then it makes recommendations for the jurisdiction to address them. The particular elements reviewed are as follows:

- The detailed due diligence and reporting rules, as well as the framework to enforce the requirements, that each jurisdiction has introduced in its domestic legislative framework to implement the AEOI Standard. This includes a review of: (i) each jurisdiction's implementation of the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions, (ii) the scope of the Financial Accounts they must review, (iii) the detailed due diligence procedures that Financial Institutions must use to identify the Reportable Accounts, (iv) the information that must be reported and (v) the legal framework to enforce the requirements. The Global Forum conducts a detailed gap analysis to verify each jurisdiction has correctly implemented each key element of the procedures.
- The Non-Reporting Financial Institutions and Excluded Accounts provided for by each jurisdiction. This consists of a specific review to ensure that the Non-Reporting Financial Institutions and Excluded Accounts provided for by each jurisdiction meet the requirements of the categories of Non-Reporting Financial Institutions and Excluded Accounts contained in the AEOI Standard or have substantially similar characteristic to those categories and pose a low-risk use for tax evasion.
- A review of any other legal frameworks jurisdictions rely on for the implementation of the AEOI Standard. The scope of this review depends on how a particular jurisdiction has implemented the AEOI Standard. Some jurisdictions have cross-referenced pre-existing legislative provisions to define Controlling Persons and/or to enforce the due diligence and reporting requirements, rather than include bespoke provisions in their legislative framework implementing the AEOI Standard. This review may therefore involve: (i) a review of a jurisdiction's definition of "beneficial owner" contained in its legislative framework implementing the Financial Action Task Force (FATF) Recommendations, where relied upon for the identification of Controlling Persons, and/or (ii) a jurisdiction's pre-existing penalty and enforcement framework where it is relied upon to ensure compliance with the AEOI Standard.

Peers reviews in relation to Core Requirement 2

The AEOI Terms of Reference contain requirements with respect to both the contents of the international agreements used to exchange the information and the scope of the network of exchange relationships. These requirements are also essential for the AEOI Standard to operate effectively.

The Global Forum therefore has peer review processes with respect to the international legal frameworks for exchange to ensure each jurisdiction meets these requirements. Where the review identifies gaps in a jurisdiction's implementation then it makes recommendations for the jurisdiction to address them. The particular processes are as follows:

- There is a process to facilitate jurisdictions in identifying their Interested Appropriate Partners (i.e. those jurisdictions interested in receiving information from a jurisdiction and that meet the expected standards in relation to confidentiality and data safeguards).
- A jurisdiction may trigger a peer review mechanism if it becomes concerned with respect to delays in a particular potential partner putting in place an exchange agreement with them.
- There is also a peer review process in relation to the contents of the exchange agreements put in place to ensure they are in accordance with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference.

Conclusions of the various assessments and publication of the results

Once the Global Forum has completed the reviews of the legal frameworks in relation to Core Requirements 1 and 2, it draw overall conclusions with respect to the extent to which each jurisdiction is considered to have the required legal frameworks "in place".

In order to support it in this exercise, the APRG established an AEOI Assessment Panel of 13 experts drawn from AEOI Peer jurisdictions with a mandate of analysing the results of the peer reviews and preparing a short report on each jurisdiction that set out the extent to which each jurisdiction has the necessary legal frameworks in place. The reports include determinations on the extent to which each jurisdiction has the legal frameworks in place, including in relation to each of the Core Requirements as well as overall. The AEOI Assessment Panel consults each Assessed Jurisdiction in relation to its report and invites input on all of the reports from AEOI Peers. The APRG then discusses and approves the reports and the AEOI Peers adopt them for publication.

This report, for the first time, contains the results from the completion of the process to draw conclusions with respect to the legal frameworks of the 100 jurisdictions who committed to implementing the AEOI Standard in time to commence exchanges in either 2017 or 2018. The jurisdiction-specific reports are presented in Chapter 3.

Interpreting the results

The determinations made with respect to each Core Requirement and the overall determination are either: "In Place", "In Place But Needs Improvement" or "Not In Place". Further details on how to interpret each of these determinations are set out in Table 2.1 below.

Table 2.1. The determinations

Determination	Description
In Place	A jurisdiction's legal framework is determined as being "In Place" where the review of its legal framework does not identify any gaps that need to be addressed in order for the legal framework to be in accordance with the AEOI Terms of Reference. This is the case where the peer review processes have not resulted in any recommendations. It is possible, although unusual, for a legal framework to be determined to be In Place even where there is a recommendation. This is only the case where the gap is viewed as so minor that it would have a highly limited impact on the operation of the AEOI Standard.
In Place But Needs Improvement	A jurisdiction's legal framework is determined as being "In Place But Needs Improvement" where the review of its legal framework concludes that the legal framework is in place but certain aspects need improvement in order for it to be fully in accordance with the AEOI Terms of Reference. This is the case where the peer review processes have identified one or more deficiencies material to the proper functioning of elements of the AEOI Standard. The determination of In Place But Needs Improvement is therefore a broad category. It includes jurisdictions with one recommendation, as well as jurisdictions with multiple recommendations. In all cases, the deficiencies are viewed collectively as material to the proper functioning of certain elements of the AEOI Standard, but not to its overall operation.
Not In Place	A jurisdiction's legal framework is determined as being "Not In Place" where the review of its legal framework shows that the legal framework needs to be significantly improved in order to be in accordance with the AEOI Terms of Reference. At the extreme, this is the case where a jurisdiction has not implemented the relevant legal framework. More commonly, this is where the peer review processes have resulted in recommendations viewed collectively as having a material impact on the overall operation of the AEOI Standard. It is important to note, aside from the jurisdictions that have not implemented a legal framework, a determination of Not In Place does not mean that a jurisdiction's legal framework is not in effect. In fact, several aspects of that legal framework are likely to be in place as required. The determination instead means that the impact of the deficiencies found are viewed as creating a material risk to the overall proper functioning of the AEOI Standard (e.g. a jurisdiction's legal framework to enforce the due diligence requirements is substantively incomplete).

A global effort with very encouraging results: Conclusions from the peer reviews

When considering the results it should be noted how extraordinary the progress has been to implement the AEOI Standard. Following the commitments by 100 jurisdictions to implement the AEOI Standard in time to commence exchanges by 2017 or 2018, they moved in record time to put in place the necessary legal frameworks. In a scale perhaps unprecedented, around 100 jurisdictions simultaneously enacted detailed due diligence and reporting requirements for Financial Institutions to follow. Furthermore, around 7 000 bilateral exchange relationships have been put in place to date to exchange the information, the vast majority of which through the signature and activation of a new international legal instrument (the CRS MCAA). This represents a remarkable amount of change over just a few years.

Iterative peer review process helped jurisdictions respond to deficiencies

The Global Forum conducted reviews of the domestic and international legal frameworks the around 100 jurisdictions put in place to implement the AEOI Standard. This included a review of over 550 jurisdiction-specific exclusions from the AEOI Standard. The purpose of conducting these reviews during the implementation process was to highlight issues early to support the effectiveness of the AEOI Standard from the start.

This approach worked. Many jurisdictions were quick to address the issues raised to ensure a complete implementation of the required legal frameworks. Several jurisdictions made amendments before the reviews were even completed and the recommendations issued. Where the Global Forum made recommendations, 64 jurisdictions were quick to bring into effect amendments to their due diligence, reporting and enforcement frameworks and requested a reassessment by the Global Forum. The reassessments showed that these amendments successfully addressed over 400 recommendations. Furthermore, over 50 jurisdiction-specific exclusions from the AEOI Standard that were found to insufficiently meet the requirements were removed and therefore brought within the scope of the requirements. It is expected that several more jurisdictions will make such changes. In some cases this has been delayed due to the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic. The Global Forum will continue to reassess any amendments made to the legal frameworks and will publish updated analysis and conclusions accordingly.

Summary of the main findings

There is a very high level of compliance of the legal frameworks put in place to implement the AEOI Standard with the AEOI Terms of Reference. Of the 100 jurisdictions committed to commencing exchanges in 2017 or 2018, virtually all of them (98) have an international legal framework that is fully in accordance with the AEOI Terms of Reference. The Global Forum has therefore issued them a determination of “In Place” for CR2. Furthermore, the majority of jurisdictions (54) have domestic legislative frameworks that are also fully in accordance with the AEOI Terms of Reference. The Global Forum has therefore issued these jurisdictions with a determination of “In Place” for CR1. Fifty-four jurisdictions received an overall determination of “In Place”.

By far the next largest group of jurisdictions (34) are those for which the Global Forum issued a determination of “In Place” for CR2 and “In Place But Needs Improvement” for CR1. Their peer review reports include one or more recommendations to amend their domestic legislative framework in order for it to be fully consistent with the AEOI Terms of Reference. Consequently, 34 jurisdictions received an overall determination of “In Place But Needs Improvement”. In total, 88% of the jurisdictions have domestic and international legal frameworks that are fully or substantially in place. This demonstrates a generally high level of compliance with the Terms of Reference.

Following the Global Forum’s peer reviews, 88% of the jurisdictions have been determined to have domestic and international legal frameworks that are fully or substantially in accordance with the AEOI Terms of Reference.

Of the remaining jurisdictions (12), 10 have implemented a domestic legislative framework which contains many of the requirements, but includes deficiencies that could undermine the AEOI Standard’s operation. The remaining two jurisdictions have not yet implemented a domestic legal framework. They have not yet brought into effect the necessary primary and secondary legislations containing the due diligence and reporting procedures, which is also necessary to activate the international legal framework. Twelve jurisdictions have therefore received an overall determination of “Not In Place”. Figure 2.1 summarise the distribution of the peer review results.

Horizontal analysis of common areas in need of improvements

While the results of the peer reviews show a generally high level of compliance with the requirements, it is also possible to identify some commonalities where recommendations are made. Some of these are highlighted below. The Global Forum will work with the jurisdictions concerned to assist them in addressing all of the issues where recommendations have been made.

The most common issues relate to the following:

- The AEOI Standard permits jurisdictions to provide for jurisdiction-specific Non-Reporting Financial Institutions and Excluded Accounts that have substantially similar characteristics to the provisions in the AEOI Standard and pose a low risk of being used for tax evasion. In some cases, following the peer review, the Global forum has found that the entries provided for are not sufficiently similar to the categories in the AEOI Standard. This is the largest category of remaining recommendations.
- The AEOI Standard requires jurisdictions to have in place various legislative provisions to enforce the requirements. The reports identify that these provisions are sometimes incomplete. This includes cases where jurisdictions rely on their pre-existing and general enforcement frameworks, which do not fully reflect the requirements specific to the AEOI Standard. For example, the requirement to having powers that can be used to address avoidance of the due diligence and reporting requirements, the ability to impose sanctions on Account Holders and Controlling Persons for submitting false self-certifications and having record-keeping obligations that cover the full scope of the records required to be kept under the AEOI Standard. Recommendations relating to the enforcement frameworks represent the next largest category of issues. This is of course a particularly important area of the requirements and all of the jurisdictions with legal frameworks that have been determined to be “Not In Place” have multiple recommendations with respect to their enforcement frameworks.
- Several more specific recommendations have also been made in cases where jurisdictions have looked to summarise the detailed definitions in the AEOI Standard or have otherwise omitted some elements of the definitions that are needed to ensure their full and proper operation.

Jurisdiction-specific conclusions

Table 2.2 contains a summary of the determinations made with respect to legal frameworks introduced by each jurisdiction to implement the AEOI Standard. Further details on the analysis and reasons for the determinations can be found in Chapter 3.

3 Jurisdiction-specific reports

Andorra

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place But Needs Improvement

Andorra's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place but needs improvement in order to be fully consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. While Andorra's international legal framework to exchange the information with all of Andorra's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2) is consistent with the requirements, its domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) has deficiencies significant to the proper functioning of an element of the AEOI Standard. More specifically, Andorra's legal framework includes jurisdiction-specific Excluded Accounts that are not in accordance with the AEOI Standard.

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Andorra commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2018.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Andorra:

- enacted Law 19/2016, of 30 November 2016, on automatic exchange of information in tax matters as amended by Law 29/2017, Law 30/2017, and Law 19/2018;
- introduced Decree of 2 August 2017, Decree of 7 February 2018, Decree of 3 October 2018 and Decree of 16 January 2019;
- introduced the Ministerial Order of 7 February 2018;
- issued further guidance, which is not legally binding; and
- made reference to the Law 14/2017, of 22 June, on the prevention and fight against money laundering and terrorist financing with respect to the identification of Controlling Persons.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 January 2017. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2017 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2018.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Andorra:

- is a Party to the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2018; and
- has in place an agreement with the European Union.

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for Andorra are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

CR1 Domestic legal framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein.

Determination: In Place But Needs Improvement

Andorra's domestic legislative framework is in place and contains most of the key aspects of the CRS and its Commentary requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures, but it needs improvement in relation to the scope of Financial Accounts required to be reported (SR 1.2). More specifically, Andorra provides for several jurisdiction-specific Excluded Accounts that are not in accordance with the requirements.

SR 1.1 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions consistently with the CRS.

Andorra has defined the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.2 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Financial Accounts and Reportable Accounts consistently with the CRS and incorporate the due diligence procedures to identify them.

Andorra has defined the scope of the Financial Accounts that are required to be reported in its domestic legislative framework and incorporated the due diligence procedures that must be applied to identify them in a manner that is largely consistent with the CRS and its Commentary. However, deficiencies have been identified. More specifically, Andorra provides for four jurisdiction-specific Excluded Accounts that are not in accordance with the requirements. The definition of Financial Accounts, including the provision of Excluded Accounts, is material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

Andorra should amend its domestic legislative framework to remove four entries from its jurisdiction-specific list of Excluded Accounts as they do not meet the requirements because they are not subject to regulation as a savings or investment vehicle. The entries are: i) accounts linked to insurance contracts or any other contractual arrangement for pension plans or other social welfare instruments; ii) accounts linked to insurance contracts or any other arrangement for savings products for purposes other than retirement; iii) operative current accounts exclusively used for payments associated with ownership or usage of a residence in Andorra; and iv) custodial accounts holding Andorran Government public debt securities with an average balance not exceeding USD 50 000.

SR 1.3 Jurisdictions should incorporate the reporting requirements contained in Section I of the CRS into their domestic legislative framework.

Andorra has incorporated the reporting requirements in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.4 Jurisdictions should have a legislative framework in place that allows for the enforcement of the requirements of the CRS in practice.

Andorra has a legislative framework in place to enforce the requirements in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

CR2 International legal framework: Jurisdictions should have exchange relationships in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners as committed to and that provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the Model CAA.

Determination: In Place

Andorra's international legal framework to exchange the information is in place, is consistent with the Model CAA and its Commentary and provides for exchange with all of Andorra's Interested Appropriate Partners (i.e. all jurisdictions that are interested in receiving information from Andorra and that meet the required standard in relation to confidentiality and data safeguards). (SRs 2.1 – 2.3)

SR 2.1 Jurisdictions should have exchange agreements in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information.

Andorra has exchange agreements that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information in effect with all its Interested Appropriate Partners.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.2 Such an exchange agreement should be put in place without undue delay, following the receipt of an expression of interest from an Interested Appropriate Partner.

Andorra put in place its exchange agreements without undue delay.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.3 Jurisdictions should ensure that the exchange agreements in effect provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Andorra's exchange agreements provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

Comments by the assessed jurisdiction

Since 2009, Andorra has initiated a transformative process to meet its commitments to transparency and meeting international standards of exchange of tax information, and has also consolidated a modern national tax and economic regulatory framework to be equivalent to those of our neighbouring countries. While it has been a challenging task, Andorra has had notable success in such a short period of time and Andorra has done it with the conviction that this was the only path to follow. The outcome of the evaluation contained in this report confirms this commitment.

Andorra's priority is to be as competitive as possible in a globalized economy, with full commitment to transparency and compliance with international standards, while continuing to improve the legal framework and ensuring a level playing field.

Anguilla

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place

Anguilla's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place and is consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. This includes Anguilla's domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) and its international legal framework to exchange the information with all of Anguilla's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2).

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Anguilla initially intended to commence exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2017 but due to the impact of the hurricanes in the region instead commenced exchanging in 2018.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Anguilla:

- enacted the Tax Information Exchange (International Cooperation) Act;
- introduced the International Tax Compliance (CRS) Regulations; and
- issued further guidance (referred to as Guidance Notes), which is not legally binding.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 July 2016. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2016 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2017.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Anguilla:

- has the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters in place¹ and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2018; and
- put in place three bilateral agreements.²

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for Anguilla are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

CR1 Domestic legal framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein.

Determination: In Place

Anguilla's domestic legislative framework is in place and contains all of the key aspects of the CRS and its Commentary requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (SRs 1.1 – 1.3). It also provides for a framework to enforce the requirements (SR 1.4).

SR 1.1 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions consistently with the CRS.

Anguilla has defined the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.2 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Financial Accounts and Reportable Accounts consistently with the CRS and incorporate the due diligence procedures to identify them.

Anguilla has defined the scope of the Financial Accounts that are required to be reported in its domestic legislative framework and incorporated the due diligence procedures that must be applied to identify them in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.3 Jurisdictions should incorporate the reporting requirements contained in Section I of the CRS into their domestic legislative framework.

Anguilla has incorporated the reporting requirements in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.4 Jurisdictions should have a legislative framework in place that allows for the enforcement of the requirements of the CRS in practice.

Anguilla has a legislative framework in place to enforce the requirements in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

CR2 International legal framework: Jurisdictions should have exchange relationships in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners as committed to and that provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the Model CAA.

Determination: In Place

Anguilla's international legal framework to exchange the information is in place, is consistent with the Model CAA and its Commentary and provides for exchange with all of Anguilla's Interested Appropriate Partners

(i.e. all jurisdictions that are interested in receiving information from Anguilla and that meet the required standard in relation to confidentiality and data safeguards). (SRs 2.1 – 2.3)

SR 2.1 Jurisdictions should have exchange agreements in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information.

Antigua and Barbuda

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place But Needs Improvement

Antigua and Barbuda's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place but needs improvement in order to be fully consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. While Antigua and Barbuda's international legal framework to exchange the information with all of Antigua and Barbuda's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2) is consistent with the requirements, its domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) has deficiencies significant to the proper functioning of elements of the AEOI Standard. Most significantly, Financial Account is not defined in accordance with the AEOI Standard and there are no sanctions on Account Holders and Controlling Persons for the provision of false self-certifications.

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Antigua and Barbuda commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2018.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Antigua and Barbuda:

- enacted the Automatic Exchange of Financial Account Information Act 2016 (No. 11 of 2016);
- enacted the Automatic Exchange of Financial Account Information (Amendment) Act 2017 (No. 39 of 2017); and
- introduced the Automatic Exchange of Financial Account Information Regulations 2017, (Statutory Instrument No. 18 of 2017).

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 January 2017. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2017 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2018.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Antigua and Barbuda is a Party to the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2018.

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for Antigua and Barbuda are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

CR1 Domestic legal framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein.

Determination: In Place But Needs Improvement
--

Antigua and Barbuda's domestic legislative framework is in place and contains most of the key aspects of the CRS and its Commentary requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures, but it needs improvement in relation to the scope of Financial Accounts required to be reported (SR 1.2), the reporting requirements (SR 1.3) and the framework to enforce the requirements (SR 1.4). Most significantly, Financial Account is not defined in accordance with the requirements and there are no sanctions on Account Holders and Controlling Persons for the provision of false self-certifications.

SR 1.1 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions consistently with the CRS.

Antigua and Barbuda has defined the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.2 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Financial Accounts and Reportable Accounts consistently with the CRS and incorporate the due diligence procedures to identify them.

Antigua and Barbuda has defined the scope of the Financial Accounts that are required to be reported in its domestic legislative framework and incorporated the due diligence procedures that must be applied to identify them in a manner that is largely consistent with the CRS and its Commentary. However, a deficiency has been identified. More specifically, Antigua and Barbuda's domestic legislative framework omits several key details of the definition of Financial Account, which is material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

Antigua and Barbuda should amend its domestic legislative framework to define Financial Account in accordance with the AEOI Standard, rather than defining it by exclusion as is currently the case (i.e. an account that is not (a) a retirement or pension account; (b) a non-retirement tax favoured account; (c) a term life insurance contract; (d) a estate account; (e) a depository account due to not-returned over payments and (g) a low risk excluded account).

SR 1.3 Jurisdictions should incorporate the reporting requirements contained in Section I of the CRS into their domestic legislative framework.

Antigua and Barbuda has incorporated the reporting requirements in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary. While a deficiency has been identified with respect to the timing of the measurement of the balance of a Reportable Account, given the account is still required to be reported along with its balance, the deficiency is considered to be relatively minor and its impact not to be material.

Recommendations:

Antigua and Barbuda should amend its domestic legislative framework to specify that Reporting Financial Institutions should always report the balance or value of a Reportable Account as at the end of the calendar year.

SR 1.4 Jurisdictions should have a legislative framework in place that allows for the enforcement of the requirements of the CRS in practice.

Antigua and Barbuda has a legislative framework in place to enforce the requirements in a manner that is largely consistent with the CRS and its Commentary. However, deficiencies have been identified. Most significantly, Antigua and Barbuda's legislative framework does not impose sanctions for the provision of false self-certifications by Account Holders and Controlling Persons. This is a key element of the required enforcement framework and is therefore material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

Antigua and Barbuda should amend its domestic legislative framework to include sanctions on Account Holders and Controlling Persons for providing false self-certifications.

Antigua and Barbuda should amend its domestic legislative framework to require Reporting Financial Institutions to maintain records of self-certifications for at least five years from the deadline to report the information, rather than five years from the date when an account is closed.

CR2 International legal framework: Jurisdictions should have exchange relationships in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners as committed to and that provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the Model CAA.

Determination: In Place

Antigua and Barbuda's international legal framework to exchange the information is in place, is consistent with the Model CAA and its Commentary and provides for exchange with all of Antigua and Barbuda's Interested Appropriate Partners (i.e. all jurisdictions that are interested in receiving information from Antigua and Barbuda and that meet the required standard in relation to confidentiality and data safeguards). (SRs 2.1 – 2.3)

SR 2.1 Jurisdictions should have exchange agreements in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information.

Antigua and Barbuda has exchange agreements that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information in effect with all its Interested Appropriate Partners.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.2 Such an exchange agreement should be put in place without undue delay, following the receipt of an expression of interest from an Interested Appropriate Partner.

Antigua and Barbuda put in place its exchange agreements without undue delay.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.3 Jurisdictions should ensure that the exchange agreements in effect provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Antigua and Barbuda's exchange agreements provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

Comments by the assessed jurisdiction

Antigua and Barbuda has conducted remedial action and submitted legislative amendments to the Automatic Exchange of Financial Account Information Act 2016 as amended and the Automatic Exchange of Financial Account Information Regulations 2017, in accordance with the stated recommendations. Accordingly, the said amendments will be subjected to the Parliamentary process of debate and passage in 2020.

Argentina

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place But Needs Improvement

Argentina's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place but needs improvement in order to be fully consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. While Argentina's international legal framework to exchange information with all Argentina's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2) is consistent with the requirements, its domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) has deficiencies significant to the proper functioning of elements of the AEOI Standard. More specifically, Argentina's legal framework has deficiencies related to the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions and the due diligence procedures to identify Reportable Accounts. Moreover, Argentina's domestic legal framework does not impose sanctions on Account Holders and Controlling Persons for the provision of a false self-certification.

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Argentina commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2017.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Argentina:

- relies on Section 7 of the Decree No. 618/1997;
- enacted the AFIP General Resolution No. 4.056/2017 and amendments, that replaced the AFIP General Resolution 3.826/2015;
- introduced the FIU Resolutions 121, 229 and 230; and
- issued further guidance, which is not legally binding.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 January 2016. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2016 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2017.

Following the initial Global Forum peer review, Argentina made various amendments to its legislative framework to address issues identified, the last of which was effective from 14 February 2019.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Argentina is a Party to the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2017.

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for Argentina are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

CR1 Domestic legal framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein.

Determination: In Place But Needs Improvement
--

Argentina's domestic legislative framework is in place and contains most of the key aspects of the CRS and its Commentary requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures, but it needs improvement in relation to the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions required to report information (SR 1.1), the due diligence procedures required to identify Reportable Accounts (SR 1.2) and the framework to enforce the requirements (SR 1.4). More specifically, Argentina's legal framework provides for some jurisdiction-specific Non-Reporting Financial Institutions that do not meet the requirements, does not fully incorporate the due diligence procedures for the purposes of identifying if a Controlling Person of a Passive NFE is a Reportable Person and does not impose sanctions on Account Holders and Controlling Persons for the provision of false self-certifications.

SR 1.1 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions consistently with the CRS.

Argentina has defined the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions in its domestic legislative framework in a manner that is largely consistent with the CRS and its Commentary. However, deficiencies have been identified. More specifically, Argentina has provided for six jurisdiction-specific Non-Reporting Financial Institutions that are not in accordance with the requirements. The definition of Reporting Financial Institution, including the provision of Non-Reporting Financial Institutions, is material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

Argentina should amend its domestic legislative framework to remove six entities from its jurisdiction-specific list of Non-Reporting Financial Institutions as they are Non-Financial Entities and should therefore be treated as such under the AEOI Standard. The entries are: i) Property Insurance; ii) Insurance on the Income related to the Labour Risk Law and Life Insurance; iii) Health Insurance and Personal Accidents Insurance that do not provide the creation of Savings Reserve; iv) Marketable Securities Broker Agents; v) Foreign Exchange Brokers; and vi) Foreign Exchange Houses, Agencies and Offices.

SR 1.2 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Financial Accounts and Reportable Accounts consistently with the CRS and incorporate the due diligence procedures to identify them.

Argentina has defined the scope of the Financial Accounts that are required to be reported in its domestic legislative framework and incorporated the due diligence procedures that must be applied to identify them in a manner that is largely consistent with the CRS and its Commentary. However, a deficiency has been identified. More specifically, Argentina does not specify that Reporting Financial Institutions may only rely on a self-certification by the Account Holder or its Controlling Person for the purposes of determining whether the Controlling Person is a Reportable Person.

Recommendations:

Argentina should amend its domestic legislative framework to specify that, for New Entity Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions may only rely on a self-certification provided by a Passive NFE Account Holder or its Controlling Person to determine whether the Controlling Person is a Reportable Person.

SR 1.3 Jurisdictions should incorporate the reporting requirements contained in Section I of the CRS into their domestic legislative framework.

Argentina has incorporated the reporting requirements in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.4 Jurisdictions should have a legislative framework in place that allows for the enforcement of the requirements of the CRS in practice.

Argentina has a legislative framework in place to enforce the requirements in a manner that is largely consistent with the CRS and its Commentary. However, a deficiency has been identified. More specifically, Argentina's legislative framework does not impose sanctions for the provision of false self-certifications by Account Holders and Controlling Persons. This is a key element of the required enforcement framework and is therefore material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

Argentina should amend its domestic legislative framework to include sanctions on Account Holders and Controlling Persons for the provision of a false self-certification.

CR2 International legal framework: Jurisdictions should have exchange relationships in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners as committed to and that provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the Model CAA.

Determination: In Place

Argentina's international legal framework to exchange the information is in place, is consistent with the Model CAA and its Commentary and provides for exchange with all of Argentina's Interested Appropriate Partners (i.e. all jurisdictions that are interested in receiving information from Argentina and that meet the required standard in relation to confidentiality and data safeguards). (SRs 2.1 – 2.3)

SR 2.1 Jurisdictions should have exchange agreements in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information.

Argentina has exchange agreements that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information in effect with all its Interested Appropriate Partners.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.2 Such an exchange agreement should be put in place without undue delay, following the receipt of an expression of interest from an Interested Appropriate Partner.

Argentina put in place its exchange agreements without undue delay.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.3 Jurisdictions should ensure that the exchange agreements in effect provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Argentina exchange agreements provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

Comments by the assessed jurisdiction

Argentina is working on further amendments of AFIP General Resolution N° 4056/17, which are currently being analysed within the Federal Administration of Public Revenue.

The draft provides for amendments to the list of Non-Reporting Financial Institutions (Annex II) and self-certifications for controlling persons (Annex IV).

The amendments will be made during the year in course and shall be in force for 2022 information exchanges with respect to information for the period 2021.

In addition, we are also working on a joint resolution between the Federal Administration of Public Revenue and the regulatory bodies of reporting entities with the purpose of creating and keeping updated a registry of reporting entities, provided they fall within the requirements stipulated in the CRS definition of Financial Institution, and that they are under the supervision of each regulatory body, that is to say, the Central Bank of the Argentine Republic, the National Securities Commission (CNV, for its Spanish acronym) and the National Superintendence of Insurance.

The Argentine Republic will continue to implement the necessary measures to ensure the successful implementation of the CRS.

Aruba

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: Not In Place

Aruba's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is not in place in accordance with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. While Aruba's international legal framework to exchange the information with all of Aruba's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2) is consistent with the requirements, its domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) has significant deficiencies in areas that are fundamental to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard. Most significantly, Aruba's legislative framework does not set out some of the key due diligence timelines, does not properly identify all of the relevant Financial Institutions and lacks sanctions under its enforcement framework.

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Aruba commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2018.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Aruba:

- enacted Ordinance No. 74 of 2017;
- introduced State Decree No. 76 of 2017;
- issued further guidance, which is not legally binding; and
- relies on its legal framework implementing the FATF Recommendations for the purposes of the identification of Controlling Persons under the AEOI Standard.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 January 2017. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, the non-binding guidance states that the review of High Value Individual Accounts should be completed in time for the 2018 reporting deadline and by 31 December 2018 in the cases of Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Aruba has the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters in place¹ and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2018.

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for Aruba are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

CR1 Domestic legal framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein.

Determination: Not In Place

Aruba's domestic legislative framework is not in place as required as it does not contain several key aspects of the CRS and its Commentary. Significant deficiencies have been identified in relation to the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions required to report information (SR 1.1), the scope of Financial Accounts required to be reported and the due diligence procedures to be applied (SR 1.2) and the framework to enforce the requirements (SR 1.4). Most significantly, the due diligence provisions in Aruba's legislative framework do not include some key dates determining the application of the due diligence obligations, the procedures and evidence that may be relied upon for the determination of the status of Financial Institutions depart from those set out in the AEOI Standard and there are no sanctions in the enforcement framework.

SR 1.1 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions consistently with the CRS.

Aruba has defined the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions in its domestic legislative framework in a manner that is largely consistent with the AEOI Standard and its Commentary. However, deficiencies have been identified. More specifically, Aruba's legislative framework:

- classifies certain entities as Non-Reporting Financial Institutions that are not in accordance with the requirements set out in the AEOI Standard; and
- does not specify the date as of when Qualified Credit Card Issuers that are treated as Non-Reporting Financial Institutions are required to implement policies requiring the returning of overpayments made.

The scope of Reporting Financial Institutions, including the specification of Non-Reporting Financial Institutions, is material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

Aruba should amend its domestic legislative framework to remove the classification of: (i) entities with shareholders, participants or controlling persons from one single family or a very limited group; and (ii) Trust Office Foundation (or STAK) as Non-Financial Entities without regard to the requirements to be classified as such.

Aruba should amend its domestic legislative framework to require Qualified Credit Card Issuers to implement policies with respect to the returning of overpayments from a specified date in order to be treated as Non-Reporting Financial Institutions.

Aruba should amend its domestic legislative framework to remove two entries from its jurisdiction-specific list of Non-Reporting Financial Institutions as they do not meet the requirements with respect to legally defined thresholds on contributions and limited options of withdrawal. The entries are: (i) Cooperative Savings and Credit Associations; and (ii) Customs and Savings and Credit Associations.

SR 1.2 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Financial Accounts and Reportable Accounts consistently with the CRS and incorporate the due diligence procedures to identify them.

Aruba has not defined the scope of the Financial Accounts that are required to be reported in its domestic legislative framework and has not incorporated the due diligence procedures that must be applied to identify them in a manner that is consistent with the AEOI Standard and its Commentary as significant deficiencies have been identified. More specifically, Aruba's legislative framework:

- does not specify the date as of when the Qualified Credit Card Issuers need to implement policies for the returning of overpayments, which is required for Depository Accounts due to not-returned overpayments to be treated as Excluded Accounts;
- does not follow the conditions set out in the AEOI Standard for when Reporting Financial Institutions can use existing classifications as Documentary Evidence with respect to Preexisting Entity Accounts;
- does not specify the date on which a Preexisting Entity Account is first to be identified; and
- does not specify the dates by when the due diligence procedures on High and Lower Value Preexisting Individual Accounts as well as Preexisting Entity Accounts are to be completed; the non-binding guidance indicates that these procedures should be completed in time for 2018 reporting deadline in the case of High Value Individual Accounts and by 31 December 2018 in the cases of Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts.

The scope of Financial Accounts and the due diligence procedures to identify them are material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

Aruba should amend its domestic legislative framework to require Qualified Credit Card Issuers to implement policies with respect to the returning of overpayments from a specified date in order for Depository Accounts due to not-returned overpayments to be treated as Excluded Accounts.

Aruba should amend its domestic legislative framework to require Reporting Financial Institutions to only use Documentary Evidence in relation to the due diligence procedures for Preexisting Entity Accounts in accordance with the conditions in the AEOI Standard.

Aruba should amend its domestic legislative framework to specify the date on which a Preexisting Entity Account is first to be identified using the USD 250 000 balance or value threshold.

Aruba should amend its legislative framework to specify the completion dates for the reviews of: (i) Preexisting High Value Individual Accounts; (ii) Preexisting Lower Value Individual Accounts; and (iii) Preexisting Entity Accounts.

SR 1.3 Jurisdictions should incorporate the reporting requirements contained in Section I of the CRS into their domestic legislative framework.

Aruba has incorporated the reporting requirements in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary. While a deficiency has been identified with respect to the reporting of the currency denomination, it is considered to be relatively minor as the CRS XML Schema will compel the reporting of a currency type.

Recommendations:

Aruba should amend its domestic legislative framework to require Reporting Financial Institutions to identify the currency in which each account is denominated.

SR 1.4 Jurisdictions should have a legislative framework in place that allows for the enforcement of the requirements of the CRS in practice.

Aruba does not have a legislative framework in place to enforce the requirements in a manner that is consistent with the CRS and its Commentary as significant deficiencies have been identified. More specifically, Aruba's legislative framework:

- does not include rules to prevent Financial Institutions, persons or intermediaries from adopting practices intended to circumvent the due diligence and reporting procedures as required;

- does not contain provisions imposing sanctions on Account Holders and Controlling Persons for the provision of a false self-certification;
- does not impose sanctions on Reporting Financial Institutions for failing to apply the due diligence procedures (they are restricted to failing to report the relevant information); and
- allows self-certifications to be obtained after the opening of the account in circumstances beyond those that are permitted.

These are key elements of the required enforcement framework and are therefore material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

Aruba should amend its domestic legislative framework to include rules to prevent Financial Institutions, persons and intermediaries from adopting practices intended to circumvent the due diligence and reporting procedures.

Aruba should amend its domestic legislative framework to include sanctions on Account Holders and Controlling Persons for the provision of a false self-certification.

Aruba should amend its domestic legislative framework to include sanctions for failure to comply with the due diligence and reporting procedures in accordance with the AEOI Standard.

Aruba should amend its domestic legislative framework to limit the circumstances when it is permissible to obtain a valid self-certification after the opening of a New Account in accordance with the requirements.

CR2 International legal framework: Jurisdictions should have exchange relationships in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners as committed to and that provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the Model CAA.

Determination: In Place

Aruba's international legal framework to exchange the information is in place, is consistent with the Model CAA and its Commentary and provides for exchange with all of Aruba's Interested Appropriate Partners (i.e. all jurisdictions that are interested in receiving information from Aruba and that meet the required standard in relation to confidentiality and data safeguards). (SRs 2.1 – 2.3)

SR 2.1 Jurisdictions should have exchange agreements in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information.

Aruba has exchange agreements that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information in effect with all its Interested Appropriate Partners.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.2 Such an exchange agreement should be put in place without undue delay, following the receipt of an expression of interest from an Interested Appropriate Partner.

Aruba put in place its exchange agreements without undue delay.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.3 Jurisdictions should ensure that the exchange agreements in effect provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Aruba's exchange agreements provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

Australia

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place But Needs Improvement

Australia's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place but needs improvement in order to be fully consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. While Australia's international legal framework to exchange the information with all of Australia's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2) is consistent with the requirements, its domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) has deficiencies significant to the proper functioning of elements of the AEOI Standard. More specifically, Australia's legal framework includes a category of jurisdiction-specific Non-Reporting Financial Institution and a jurisdiction-specific Excluded Account that are not in accordance with the AEOI Standard. Moreover, Australia's rules to prevent Financial Institutions, persons or intermediaries from adopting practices intended to circumvent the reporting and due diligence procedures are insufficient in scope.

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Australia commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2018.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Australia:

- enacted the Tax Laws Amendment (Implementation of the Common Reporting Standard) Act 2015 (TLA(ICRS) 2015); and
- issued further guidance, which is not legally binding.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 July 2017. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 July 2018 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 July 2019 and 31 July 2018 respectively.

Following the initial Global Forum peer review, Australia amended its legislative framework to address issues identified, effective from November 2018.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Australia:

- is a Party to the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2018; and
- put in place a bilateral agreement.¹

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for Australia are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

CR1 Domestic legal framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein.

Determination: In Place But Needs Improvement
--

Australia's domestic legislative framework is in place and contains most of the key aspects of the CRS and its Commentary requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures, but it needs improvement in relation to the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions required to report information (SR 1.1), the scope of Financial Accounts required to be reported (SR 1.2), and the framework to enforce the requirements (SR 1.4). More specifically, Australia's legislative framework provides for a category of jurisdiction-specific Non-Reporting Financial Institution and a jurisdiction-specific Excluded Account that do not meet all the requirements, and the rules to prevent persons or intermediaries from adopting practices intended to circumvent the reporting and due diligence procedures are insufficient in scope.

SR 1.1 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions consistently with the CRS.

Australia has defined the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions in its domestic legislative framework in a manner that is largely consistent with the CRS and its Commentary. However, a deficiency has been identified. More specifically, Australia provides for a category of jurisdiction-specific Non-Reporting Financial Institutions that is not in accordance with the requirements, such as not necessarily being related to an employer-employee relationship. The definition of Reporting Financial Institutions, including the provision of Non-Reporting Financial Institutions, is material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

Australia should amend its domestic legislative framework to remove the Narrowly Based Superannuation Funds from its jurisdiction-specific list of Non-Reporting Financial Institutions as their characteristics do not meet the requirements of the AEOI Standard, such as not necessarily being related to an employer-employee relationship, not indexing or limiting contributions based on the contributor's salary and permitting non-residents to own up to 50% of the fund's assets.

SR 1.2 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Financial Accounts and Reportable Accounts consistently with the CRS and incorporate the due diligence procedures to identify them.

Australia has defined the scope of the Financial Accounts that are required to be reported in its domestic legislative framework and incorporated the due diligence procedures that must be applied to identify them in a manner that is largely consistent with the CRS and its Commentary. However, a deficiency has been identified. More specifically, Australia provides for a jurisdiction-specific Excluded Account that is not in accordance with the requirements, as it does not provide for effective penalties for withdrawals that do not meet the criteria of the account. The definition of Financial Accounts, including the provision of Excluded Accounts, is material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

Australia should amend its domestic legislative framework to remove the Scholarship Plans from its jurisdiction-specific list of Excluded Accounts, as they do not meet the requirements in the AEOI Standard, such as by not having penalties for withdrawals from the accounts for non-educational purposes.

SR 1.3 Jurisdictions should incorporate the reporting requirements contained in Section I of the CRS into their domestic legislative framework.

Australia has incorporated the reporting requirements in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.4 Jurisdictions should have a legislative framework in place that allows for the enforcement of the requirements of the CRS in practice.

Australia has a legislative framework in place to enforce the requirements in a manner that is largely consistent with the CRS and its Commentary. However, a deficiency has been identified. More specifically, Australia's legislative framework does not include rules to prevent all relevant persons (including other persons and intermediaries) from adopting practices intended to circumvent the due diligence and reporting procedures to the extent required. This is a key element of the required enforcement framework and is therefore material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

Australia should amend its domestic legislative framework to include rules to prevent all Financial Institutions, persons or intermediaries from adopting practices intended to circumvent the due diligence and reporting procedures, rather than just Reporting Financial Institutions or Account Holders involved in transactions or arrangements with the purpose of causing an account to not be a Reportable Account.

CR2 International legal framework: Jurisdictions should have exchange relationships in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners as committed to and that provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the Model CAA.

Determination: In Place

Australia's international legal framework to exchange the information is in place, is consistent with the Model CAA and its Commentary and provides for exchange with all of Australia's Interested Appropriate Partners (i.e. all jurisdictions that are interested in receiving information from Australia and that meet the required standard in relation to confidentiality and data safeguards). Austria

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place

Austria's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place and is consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. This includes Austria's domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) and its international legal framework to exchange the information with all of Austria's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2).

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Austria commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2018.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Austria:

- enacted the Common Reporting Standard Act (Federal Law Gazette I Nr 115/2015);
- issued further guidance, which is legally binding; and
- made reference to the Beneficial Owners Register Act for the purposes of the identification of Controlling Persons under the AEOI Standard.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 October 2016. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2017 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2018.

Following the initial Global Forum peer review, Austria made various amendments to its legislative framework to address issues identified, the last of which was effective from 24 April 2020.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Austria:

- is a Party to the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2018;
- has in place European Directive 2011/16/EU on Administrative Cooperation in the Field of Taxation as amended by Directive 2014/107/EU; and
- has in place European Union agreements with five European third countries.¹

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for Austria are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

CR1 Domestic legal framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein.

Determination: In Place

Austria's domestic legislative framework is in place and contains all of the key aspects of the CRS and its Commentary requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (SRs 1.1 – 1.3). It also provides for a framework to enforce the requirements (SR 1.4).

SR 1.1 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions consistently with the CRS.

Austria has defined the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.2 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Financial Accounts and Reportable Accounts consistently with the CRS and incorporate the due diligence procedures to identify them.

Austria has defined the scope of the Financial Accounts that are required to be reported in its domestic legislative framework and incorporated the due diligence procedures that must be applied to identify them in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.3 Jurisdictions should incorporate the reporting requirements contained in Section I of the CRS into their domestic legislative framework.

Austria has incorporated the reporting requirements in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.4 Jurisdictions should have a legislative framework in place that allows for the enforcement of the requirements of the CRS in practice.

Austria has a legislative framework in place to enforce the requirements in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

CR2 International legal framework: Jurisdictions should have exchange relationships in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners as committed to and that provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the Model CAA.

Determination: In Place

Austria's international legal framework to exchange the information is in place, is consistent with the Model CAA and its Commentary and provides for exchange with all of Austria's Interested Appropriate Partners

(i.e. all jurisdictions that are interested in receiving information from Austria and that meet the required standard in relation to confidentiality and data safeguards). (SRs 2.1 – 2.3)

SR 2.1 Jurisdictions should have exchange agreements in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information.

Austria has exchange agreements that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information in effect with all its Interested Appropriate Partners.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.2 Such an exchange agreement should be put in place without undue delay, following the receipt of an expression of interest from an Interested Appropriate Partner.

Austria put in place its exchange agreements without undue delay.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.3 Jurisdictions should ensure that the exchange agreements in effect provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Austria's exchange agreements provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

Azerbaijan

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: Not In Place

Azerbaijan's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is not in place in accordance with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. While Azerbaijan's international legal framework to exchange the information with all of Azerbaijan's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2) is consistent with the requirements, the domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) has significant deficiencies in areas that are fundamental to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard. More specifically, there are deficiencies in relation to various definitions relevant to defining Reporting Financial Institutions and Financial Accounts and there are deficiencies relating to the enforcement framework.

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Azerbaijan commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2018.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Azerbaijan:

- enacted Limits and Regulations for provision of information on financial transactions carried out by legal entities and individuals of foreign states in the territory of Azerbaijan to the competent authorities of those countries approved by the Cabinet of Ministers in the decision No. 211 as amended on 22 June, 2018; and
- made reference to the Law of the Republic of Azerbaijan on the Prevention of the Legalisation of Criminally Obtained Funds or Other Property and the Financing of Terrorism for the purposes of the identification of Controlling Persons under the AEOI Standard.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 July 2017. Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on all Preexisting Accounts by 30 June 2018.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Azerbaijan is a Party to the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2018.

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for Azerbaijan are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

CR1 Domestic legal framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein.

Determination: Not In Place

Azerbaijan's domestic legislative framework is not in place as required as it does not contain several key aspects of the CRS and the Commentary. Significant deficiencies have been identified relating to the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions required to report information (SR 1.1), the scope of Financial Accounts required to be reported and the due diligence procedures to be applied (SR 1.2) and the framework to enforce the requirements (SR 1.4). Most significantly, Azerbaijan's legislative framework does not include or does not correctly include a range of definitions that are critical to the functioning of the AEOI Standard including the definitions of Investment Entity, Reportable Person, Reportable Jurisdiction Person, Controlling Person and Equity Interest.

SR 1.1 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions consistently with the CRS.

Azerbaijan has not defined the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions in its domestic legislative framework in a manner that is consistent with the CRS and its Commentary as significant deficiencies have been identified. Most significantly, Azerbaijan's legislative framework does not define Investment Entities in accordance with the requirements and does not have rules to determine the residency of trusts and fiscally transparent entities. The scope of Reporting Financial Institutions is material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

Azerbaijan should amend its domestic legislative framework to include the definition of Participating Jurisdiction Financial Institution in accordance with the AEOI Standard.

Azerbaijan should amend its domestic legislative framework to ensure that the residency of a trust that is a Financial Institution is determined in accordance with the AEOI Standard.

Azerbaijan should amend its domestic legislative framework to ensure that the residency of a fiscally transparent Financial Institution is determined in accordance with the AEOI Standard.

Azerbaijan should amend its domestic legislative framework to define Investment Entity in accordance with the AEOI Standard.

Azerbaijan should amend its domestic legislative framework to define the terms International Organisation and Pension Fund of a Governmental Entity, International Organisation and Central Bank in accordance with the AEOI Standard.

Azerbaijan should amend its domestic legislative framework to ensure that a Financial Institution cannot be a jurisdiction-specific Non-Reporting Financial Institutions unless it is defined as such in domestic law.

Azerbaijan should amend its domestic legislative framework to require the term Investment Entity to be interpreted consistently with similar language defining "financial Institution" in the Financial Action Task Force Recommendations.

SR 1.2 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Financial Accounts and Reportable Accounts consistently with the CRS and incorporate the due diligence procedures to identify them.

Azerbaijan has not defined the scope of the Financial Accounts that are required to be reported in its domestic legislative framework and has not incorporated the due diligence procedures that must be applied to identify them in a manner that is consistent with the CRS and its Commentary as significant deficiencies have been identified. Most significantly, Azerbaijan's legislative framework:

- does not require Controlling Persons with respect to New Entity Accounts to be identified in accordance with the requirements;
- does not define, or does not correctly define, a range of terms including Reportable Person, Reportable Jurisdiction Person, Controlling Person and Equity Interest in accordance with the requirements;
- does not specify the due diligence requirements in accordance with the AEOI Standard when there are changes in circumstances relevant to the status of accounts;
- does not forbid reliance on self-certifications and documentary evidence that are incorrect or unreliable; and
- does not require self-certifications to be provided when determining the status of Controlling Persons of Passive NFEs in all cases where required by the AEOI Standard.

The scope of Financial Accounts and the due diligence procedures to identify them are material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

Azerbaijan should amend its domestic legislative framework to require Reporting Financial Institutions to always identify and determine the reportable status of Controlling Persons in accordance with the AEOI Standard.

Azerbaijan should amend its domestic legislative framework to define the term Equity Interest in accordance with the AEOI Standard.

Azerbaijan should amend its domestic legislative framework to define Reportable Jurisdiction Person in accordance with the AEOI Standard.

Azerbaijan should amend its domestic legislative framework to define Reportable Jurisdiction in accordance with the AEOI Standard.

Azerbaijan should amend its domestic legislative framework to ensure that a Reporting Financial Institution is not able to rely on a self-certification or Documentary Evidence if it has reason to know it is incorrect or unreliable.

Azerbaijan should amend its domestic legislative framework to require Reporting Financial Institutions to treat a Non-Financial Entity Account Holder as a Passive Non-Financial Entity unless a self-certification from the Account Holder or other permitted information shows it is an Active NFE or Financial Institution.

Azerbaijan should amend its domestic legislative framework to specify when and how a Reporting Financial Institution may use the alternative procedures for Cash Value Insurance Contracts and Annuity Contracts in accordance with the AEOI Standard.

Azerbaijan should amend its domestic legislative framework to require Reporting Financial Institutions to apply the specified procedures if there is a change of circumstance with respect to a High Value Account.

Azerbaijan should amend its domestic legislative framework to specify that, for New Entity Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions may only rely on a self-certification provided by a Passive NFE Account Holder or its Controlling Person to determine whether the Controlling Person is a Reportable Person.

Azerbaijan should amend its domestic legislative framework to ensure that the definition of “dormant account” is fully incorporated in accordance with the AEOI Standard.

Azerbaijan should amend its domestic legislative framework to require Reporting Financial Institutions to apply the specified procedures if there is a change of circumstance relating to any of the relevant documentation held, not only the original Documentary Evidence obtained.

Azerbaijan should amend its domestic legislative framework to require Reporting Financial Institutions to apply the specified procedures if there is a change of circumstance relating to all self-certifications, not only a self-certification obtained upon account opening.

Azerbaijan should amend its domestic legislative framework to fully incorporate the definition of Controlling Persons in accordance with the AEOI Standard, including by incorporating all of the elements set out in the Commentary.

Azerbaijan should amend its domestic legislative framework to ensure that “change of circumstances” is defined in accordance with the AEOI Standard, rather than being restricted to circumstances that lead or may lead to the change of residence for tax purposes.

Azerbaijan should amend its domestic legislative framework to ensure that the standard of knowledge test applicable to Documentary Evidence also applies to any other such documentation, in accordance with the AEOI Standard.

Azerbaijan should amend its domestic legislative framework to include all of the required categories of Equity or debt interest in the definition of Financial Account, in accordance with the AEOI Standard.

Azerbaijan should amend its domestic legislative framework to define escrow accounts in accordance with the AEOI Standard.

Azerbaijan should amend its domestic legislative framework to define the term Cash Value in accordance with the AEOI Standard.

SR 1.3 Jurisdictions should incorporate the reporting requirements contained in Section I of the CRS into their domestic legislative framework.

Azerbaijan has incorporated the reporting requirements in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.4 Jurisdictions should have a legislative framework in place that allows for the enforcement of the requirements of the CRS in practice.

Azerbaijan has a legislative framework in place to enforce the requirements in a manner that is largely consistent with the CRS and its Commentary. However, deficiencies have been identified. More specifically, Azerbaijan's legislative framework:

- does not contain rules to prevent Financial Institutions, persons or intermediaries from adopting practices intended to circumvent the reporting and due diligence procedures as required;
- does not contain provisions imposing sanctions on Account Holders and Controlling Persons for the provision of a false self-certification; and
- does not include rules requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to keep records in accordance with the requirements.

These are key elements of the required enforcement framework and are therefore material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

Azerbaijan should amend its domestic legislative framework to include rules to prevent Financial Institutions, persons and intermediaries from adopting practices intended to circumvent the due diligence and reporting procedures.

Azerbaijan should amend its domestic legislative framework to include sanctions on Account Holders and Controlling Persons for the provision of a false self-certification.

Azerbaijan should amend its domestic legislative framework to require Reporting Financial Institutions to maintain records for at least five years from the deadline to report the information, by specifying the start date from which the retention period commences.

CR2 International legal framework: Jurisdictions should have exchange relationships in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners as committed to and that provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the Model CAA.

Determination: In Place

Azerbaijan's international legal framework to exchange the information is in place, is consistent with the Model CAA and its Commentary and provides for exchange with all of Azerbaijan's Interested Appropriate Partners (i.e. all jurisdictions that are interested in receiving information from Azerbaijan and that meet the required standard in relation to confidentiality and data safeguards). (SRs 2.1 – 2.3)

SR 2.1 Jurisdictions should have exchange agreements in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information.

Azerbaijan has exchange agreements that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information in effect with all its Interested Appropriate Partners.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.2 Such an exchange agreement should be put in place without undue delay, following the receipt of an expression of interest from an Interested Appropriate Partner.

Azerbaijan put in place its exchange agreements without undue delay.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.3 Jurisdictions should ensure that the exchange agreements in effect provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Azerbaijan's exchange agreements provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

Comments by the assessed jurisdiction

Azerbaijan acknowledges that recommendations have been made in the report and advises that action is being taken to address the recommendations. This is expected to be finalised shortly and Azerbaijan will request a reassessment as soon as these are completed. Azerbaijan notes that in 2017 it voluntarily committed to implementing the AEOI Standard from 1 July 2017 and did so under a very rapid implementation timeframe, successfully delivering the first exchanges in 2018. It remains committed to ensuring successful exchanges with partner jurisdictions.

For the recommendation at Question 64, Azerbaijan wishes to advise that this is partly addressed through a power in its legal framework to impose a sanction on a person who makes a false self-certification, provided that it is informed of the deficiency by a jurisdiction with whom it exchanges information.

The Bahamas

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place But Needs Improvement

The Bahamas' legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place but needs improvement in order to be fully consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. While The Bahamas' international legal framework to exchange the information with all of The Bahamas' Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2) is consistent with the requirements, its domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) has deficiencies significant to the proper functioning of elements of the AEOI Standard. Most significantly, a jurisdiction-specific Non-Reporting Financial Institution is provided for that does not meet the requirements and incorrect values may be reported in relation to certain Controlling Persons of trusts.

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

The Bahamas commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2018.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, The Bahamas:

- enacted the Automatic Exchange of Financial Account Information Act 2016 (amended in 2017 and in 2019);
- introduced the Automatic Exchange of Financial Account Information Regulations 2017 (amended in 2017); and
- issued further guidance, which is not legally binding.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 July 2017. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2017 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2018.

Following the initial Global Forum peer review, The Bahamas made various amendments to its legislative framework to address issues identified, the last of which was effective from 30 April 2019.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, The Bahamas is a Party to the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2018.

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for The Bahamas are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

CR1 Domestic legal framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein.

Determination: In Place But Needs Improvement
--

The Bahamas' domestic legislative framework is in place and contains many of the key aspects of the CRS and its Commentary requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures, but it needs improvement in some areas relating to the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions required to report information (SR 1.1) and the reporting requirements (SR 1.3). Most significantly, a jurisdiction-specific Non-Reporting Financial Institution is provided for that does not meet the requirements and incorrect values may be reported with respect to certain Controlling Persons of trusts.

SR 1.1 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions consistently with the CRS.

The Bahamas has defined the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions in its domestic legislative framework in a manner that is largely consistent with the CRS and its Commentary. However, a deficiency has been identified. More specifically, The Bahamas provides for a jurisdiction-specific Non-Reporting Financial Institution that is not in accordance with the requirements. The scope of Reporting Financial Institution, including the provision of Non-Reporting Financial Institutions, is material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard, which may materially impact the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

The Bahamas should amend its domestic legislative framework to remove Bahamas Executive Entities from its list of categories of jurisdiction-specific Non-Reporting Financial Institutions, as they do not meet the requirements of the AEOI Standard.

SR 1.2 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Financial Accounts and Reportable Accounts consistently with the CRS and incorporate the due diligence procedures to identify them.

The Bahamas has defined the scope of the Financial Accounts that are required to be reported in its domestic legislative framework and incorporated the due diligence procedures that must be applied to identify them in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.3 Jurisdictions should incorporate the reporting requirements contained in Section I of the CRS into their domestic legislative framework.

The Bahamas has incorporated the reporting requirements in its domestic legislative framework in a manner that is largely consistent with the CRS and its Commentary. However, deficiencies have been identified. Most significantly, The Bahamas has guidance advising that in the case of a Reportable Person who is a settlor of an irrevocable trust, or a protector or any other natural person exercising ultimate effective control over any trust (revocable or irrevocable), the account balance attributable to them is zero if that person has no beneficial interest in the trust. The reporting of account balance or value is a key element of the reporting requirements and is therefore material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

The Bahamas should amend its domestic legislative framework to ensure that lodging a notification of reporting in another jurisdiction is not a substitute for reporting on Reportable Accounts maintained in The Bahamas in the limited circumstances where reporting may be required in both jurisdictions.

The Bahamas should amend its domestic legislative framework to require the account balance or value with respect to all Controlling Persons of a trust holding a Reportable Account to be reported in accordance with the AEOI Standard.

SR 1.4 Jurisdictions should have a legislative framework in place that allows for the enforcement of the requirements of the CRS in practice.

The Bahamas has a legislative framework in place to enforce the requirements in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

CR2 International legal framework: Jurisdictions should have exchange relationships in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners as committed to and that provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the Model CAA.

Determination: In Place

The Bahamas' international legal framework to exchange the information is in place, is consistent with the Model CAA and its Commentary and provides for exchange with all of The Bahamas' Interested Appropriate Partners (i.e. all jurisdictions that are interested in receiving information from The Bahamas and that meet the required standard in relation to confidentiality and data safeguards). SR 2.1 Jurisdictions should have exchange agreements in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information.

The Bahamas has exchange agreements that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information in effect with all its Interested Appropriate Partners.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.2 Such an exchange agreement should be put in place without undue delay, following the receipt of an expression of interest from an Interested Appropriate Partner.

The Bahamas put in place its exchange agreements without undue delay.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.3 Jurisdictions should ensure that the exchange agreements in effect provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

The Bahamas' exchange agreements provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Bahrain commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2018.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Bahrain:

- transposed the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement on Automatic Exchange of Financial Account Information (MCAA) and the Multilateral Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters (MAC) into its domestic law; and
- enacted the CBB Common Reporting Standard (CRS) Directive OG/53/2017, the CBB CRS Directive OG/212/2017, the CBB CRS Directive OG/277/2018, and the MOICT circular FAEI/90/HR/2018.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 July 2017. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2017 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2018.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Bahrain is a Party to the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2018.

Barbados

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place But Needs Improvement

Barbados' legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place but needs improvement in order to be fully consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. While Barbados' international legal framework to exchange the information with all of Barbados' Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2) is consistent with the requirements, its domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) has deficiencies significant to the proper functioning of elements of the AEOI Standard. Most significantly, Barbados' legal framework includes categories of jurisdiction-specific Non-Reporting Financial Institutions that are not in accordance with the AEOI Standard and there are some deficiencies with respect to the enforcement framework.

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Barbados commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2018.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Barbados:

- enacted Section 83 of the Income Tax Act of Barbados; and
- introduced the Income Tax (Automatic Exchange of Information) Regulations 2017.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 July 2017. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2017 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2018.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Barbados is a Party to the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2018.

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for Barbados are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

CR1 Domestic legal framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein.

Determination: In Place But Needs Improvement
--

Barbados' domestic legislative framework is in place and contains most of the key aspects of the CRS and its Commentary requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures, but it needs improvement in relation to the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions required to report information (SR 1.1) and the framework to enforce the requirements (SR 1.4). Most significantly, Barbados' legislative framework provides for three jurisdiction-specific Non-Reporting Financial Institutions that are not in accordance with the requirements, does not provide for sanctions on Account Holders and Controlling Persons for the provision of a false self-certification and sets out non-recurring record keeping obligations with respect to the reportable accounts subject to annual reporting.

SR 1.1 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions consistently with the CRS.

Barbados has defined the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions in its domestic legislative framework in a manner that is largely consistent with the CRS and its Commentary. However, deficiencies have been identified. More specifically, Barbados provides for three jurisdiction-specific Non-Reporting Financial Institutions that are not in accordance with the requirements. The definition of Reporting Financial Institutions, including the provision of Non-Reporting Financial Institutions, is material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

Barbados should amend its domestic legislative framework to remove three entries from its jurisdiction-specific list of Non-Reporting Financial Institutions as they do not meet the requirements. The entries are: (i) the Co-operative Credit Union League Ltd; (ii) the Agency for Micro Enterprise Development Ltd (Fund Access); and (iii) the Enterprise Growth Fund Ltd.

SR 1.2 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Financial Accounts and Reportable Accounts consistently with the CRS and incorporate the due diligence procedures to identify them.

Barbados has defined the scope of the Financial Accounts that are required to be reported in its domestic legislative framework and incorporated the due diligence procedures that must be applied to identify them in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.3 Jurisdictions should incorporate the reporting requirements contained in Section I of the CRS into their domestic legislative framework.

Barbados has incorporated the reporting requirements in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary. While a deficiency has been identified with respect to the reporting of the account number, it is considered to be relatively minor as an account number or functional equivalent is required to be reported.

Recommendations:

Barbados should amend its domestic legislative framework to require Reporting Financial Institutions to always report an account number when one exists, rather than a functional equivalent.

SR 1.4 Jurisdictions should have a legislative framework in place that allows for the enforcement of the requirements of the CRS in practice.

Barbados has a legislative framework in place to enforce the requirements in a manner that is largely consistent with the CRS and its Commentary. However, deficiencies have been identified. More specifically, Barbados' legislative framework:

- does not impose sanctions on Account Holders and Controlling Persons for the provision of a false self-certification; and
- does not include rules requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to keep records in accordance with the requirements.

These are key elements of the required enforcement framework and are therefore material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

Barbados should amend its domestic legislative framework to include sanctions on Account Holders and Controlling Persons for the provision of a false self-certification.

Barbados should amend its domestic legislative framework to require Reporting Financial Institutions to maintain records for at least five years from the deadline to report the information, rather than five years from the end of the calendar year for which the record was made.

CR2 International legal framework: Jurisdictions should have exchange relationships in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners as committed to and that provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the Model CAA.

Determination: In Place

Barbados' international legal framework to exchange the information is in place, is consistent with the Model CAA and its Commentary and provides for exchange with all of Barbados' Interested Appropriate Partners (i.e. all jurisdictions that are interested in receiving information from Barbados and that meet the required standard in relation to confidentiality and data safeguards). (SRs 2.1 – 2.3)

SR 2.1 Jurisdictions should have exchange agreements in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information.

Barbados has exchange agreements that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information in effect with all its Interested Appropriate Partners.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.2 Such an exchange agreement should be put in place without undue delay, following the receipt of an expression of interest from an Interested Appropriate Partner.

Barbados put in place its exchange agreements without undue delay.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.3 Jurisdictions should ensure that the exchange agreements in effect provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Barbados' exchange agreements provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

Belgium

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place But Needs Improvement

Belgium's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place but needs improvement in order to be fully consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. While Belgium's international legal framework to exchange information with all Belgium's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2) is consistent with the requirements, its domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) has a deficiency significant to the proper functioning of an element of the AEOI Standard. More specifically, a deficiency has been identified in Belgium's enforcement framework.

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Belgium commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2017.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Belgium:

- enacted "Loi du 16 décembre 2015 réglant la communication des renseignements relatifs aux comptes financiers, par les institutions financières belges et le SPF Finances, dans le cadre d'un échange automatique de renseignements au niveau international et à des fins fiscales"; and
- issued further guidance, which is legally binding.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 January 2016. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2016 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2017.

Following the initial Global Forum review, Belgium amended its legislative framework to address issues identified, effective from 1 January 2018.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Belgium:

- is a Party to the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2016;
- has in place European Directive 2011/16/EU on Administrative Co-operation in the Field of Taxation as amended by Directive 2014/107/EU; and
- has in place agreements with five European third countries¹

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for Belgium are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

CR1 Domestic legal framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein.

Determination: In Place But Needs Improvement
--

Belgium's domestic legislative framework is in place and contains most of the key aspects of the CRS and its Commentary requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures, but it needs improvement in relation to the framework to enforce the requirements (SR 1.4). More specifically, Belgium does not have rules to prevent the circumvention of the due diligence and reporting procedures.

SR 1.1 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions consistently with the CRS.

Belgium has defined the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.2 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Financial Accounts and Reportable Accounts consistently with the CRS and incorporate the due diligence procedures to identify them.

Belgium has defined the scope of the Financial Accounts that are required to be reported in its domestic legislative framework and incorporated the due diligence procedures that must be applied to identify them in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.3 Jurisdictions should incorporate the reporting requirements contained in Section I of the CRS into their domestic legislative framework.

Belgium has incorporated the reporting requirements in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.4 Jurisdictions should have a legislative framework in place that allows for the enforcement of the requirements of the CRS in practice.

Belgium has a legislative framework in place to enforce the requirements in a manner that is largely consistent with the CRS and its Commentary. However, a deficiency has been identified. More specifically, Belgium's legislative framework does not include rules to prevent Financial Institutions, persons or intermediaries from adopting practices intended to circumvent the due diligence and reporting procedures. This is a key element of the required enforcement framework and is therefore material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

Belgium should amend its domestic legislative framework to include rules to prevent Financial Institutions, persons or intermediaries adopting practices intended to circumvent the due diligence and reporting procedures.

CR2 International legal framework: Jurisdictions should have exchange relationships in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners as committed to and that provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the Model CAA.

Belize

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: Not In Place

Belize's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is not in place in accordance with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. While Belize's international legal framework to exchange the information with all of Belize's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2) is consistent with the requirements, Belize's domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) has significant deficiencies in areas that are fundamental to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard. More specifically, deficiencies have been identified in Belize's enforcement framework and in other key areas.

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Belize commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2018.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Belize:

- enacted the Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters Act; and
- introduced the Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters (Automatic Exchange of Financial Account Information) Regulations, Statutory Instrument No 52 of 2017.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 January 2017. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2017 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2018.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Belize is a Party to the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2018.

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for Belize are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

CR1 Domestic legal framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein.

Determination: Not In Place

Belize's domestic legislative framework is not in place as required as it does not contain several key aspects of the CRS and the Commentary. Significant deficiencies have been identified in relation to the framework to enforce the requirements (SR 1.4). Moreover there are deficiencies in relation to the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions required to report information (SR 1.1) and the scope of Financial Accounts required to be reported (SR 1.2). Most significantly, Belize's domestic legislative framework does not contain rules requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to keep records in accordance with the requirements, does not incorporate a framework for enforcement to address non-compliance, and does not include strong measures to ensure that valid self-certifications are always obtained for New Accounts.

SR 1.1 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions consistently with the CRS.

Belize has defined the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions in its domestic legislative framework in a manner that is largely consistent with the CRS and its Commentary. However, a deficiency has been identified. More specifically, Belize's legislative framework does not define Investment Entity in accordance with the requirements. The definition of Investment Entity is a key element of the AEOI Standard and is therefore material to its proper functioning.

Recommendations:

Belize should amend its domestic legislative framework to define the term Investment Entity in accordance with the AEOI Standard.

SR 1.2 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Financial Accounts and Reportable Accounts consistently with the CRS and incorporate the due diligence procedures to identify them.

Belize has defined the scope of the Financial Accounts that are required to be reported in its domestic legislative framework and incorporated the due diligence procedures that must be applied to identify them in a manner that is largely consistent with the CRS and its Commentary. However, deficiencies have been identified. More specifically, Belize has provided for two categories of jurisdiction-specific Excluded Accounts that are not in accordance with the requirements. The scope of Financial Accounts, including the provision of Excluded Accounts is material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

Belize should amend its domestic legislative framework to remove two entries from its jurisdiction-specific list of Excluded Accounts: i) the Pension Accounts and ii) the Tax Exempt Savings Plans of Cooperative Societies. These do not meet the relevant requirements as i) no restrictions are made in accordance with the AEOI Standard and ii) the contributions into the accounts are not limited and withdrawals are also not restricted to the relevant criteria.

SR 1.3 Jurisdictions should incorporate the reporting requirements contained in Section I of the CRS into their domestic legislative framework.

Belize has incorporated the reporting requirements in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.4 Jurisdictions should have a legislative framework in place that allows for the enforcement of the requirements of the CRS in practice.

Belize does not have a legislative framework in place to enforce the requirements in a manner that is consistent with the CRS and its Commentary as significant deficiencies have been identified. More specifically, Belize's domestic legislative framework:

- does not include sanctions on Account Holders and Controlling Persons for the provision of a false self-certification;
- does not incorporate rules requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to keep records in accordance with the requirements;
- does not provide for sanctions on Reporting Financial Institutions for failing to carry out the due diligence procedures; and
- does not incorporate measures to ensure that self-certifications are always obtained and validated for New Accounts as is required.

These are key elements of the required enforcement framework and are therefore material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard

Recommendations:

Belize should amend its domestic legislative framework to include sanctions on Account Holders and Controlling Persons for the provision of a false self-certification.

Belize should amend its domestic legislative framework to require Reporting Financial Institutions maintain records for at least five years from the deadline to report the information, rather than six years from when the information relates or during which the due diligence steps were undertaken.

Belize should amend its domestic legislative framework to include sanctions for failure to comply with the due diligence and reporting procedures, rather than being limited to failures leading to incorrect information reporting.

Belize should amend its domestic legislative framework to include strong measures to ensure that valid self-certifications are always obtained for New Accounts in accordance with the requirements.

CR2 International legal framework: Jurisdictions should have exchange relationships in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners as committed to and that provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the Model CAA.

Determination: In Place

Belize's international legal framework to exchange the information is in place, is consistent with the Model CAA and its Commentary and provides for exchange with all of Belize's Interested Appropriate Partners (i.e. all jurisdictions that are interested in receiving information from Belize and that meet the required standard in relation to confidentiality and data safeguards). (SRs 2.1 – 2.3)

SR 2.1 Jurisdictions should have exchange agreements in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information.

Belize has exchange agreements that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information in effect with all its Interested Appropriate Partners.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.2 Such an exchange agreement should be put in place without undue delay, following the receipt of an expression of interest from an Interested Appropriate Partner.

Belize put in place its exchange agreements without undue delay.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.3 Jurisdictions should ensure that the exchange agreements in effect provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Belize's exchange agreements provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

Bermuda

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place

Bermuda's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place and is consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. This includes Bermuda's domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) and its international legal framework to exchange the information with all of Bermuda's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2).

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Bermuda commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2017.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Bermuda:

- amended its International Cooperation (Tax Information Exchange Agreements) Act 2005;
- introduced International Cooperation (Tax Information Exchange Agreements) Common Reporting Standard Regulations in 2017; and
- introduced further guidance, which is not legally binding.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 January 2016. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2016 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2017.

Following the initial Global Forum peer review, Bermuda made various amendments to its legislative framework to address issues identified, the last of which was effective from 18 August 2017.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Bermuda:

- has the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters in place¹ and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2017; and
- put in place three bilateral agreements.²

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for Bermuda are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

CR1 Domestic legal framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein.

British Virgin Islands

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place But Needs Improvement

The British Virgin Islands' legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place but needs improvement in order to be fully consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. While the British Virgin Islands' international legal framework to exchange the information with all of the British Virgin Islands' Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2) is consistent with the requirements, its domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) has deficiencies significant to the proper functioning of elements of the AEOI Standard. More specifically, deficiencies have been identified with respect to the British Virgin Islands' enforcement framework.

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

The British Virgin Islands commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2017.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, the British Virgin Islands:

- enacted the Mutual Legal Assistance (Tax Matters) (Amendment) (No.2) Act, 2015, as amended in 2018; and
- issued further guidance, which is not legally binding.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 January 2016. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2016 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2017.

Following the initial Global Forum peer review, the British Virgin Islands amended its legislative framework to address issues identified, effective from 17 September 2018.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, the British Virgin Islands:

- has the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters in place¹ and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2017; and
- put in place three bilateral agreements.²

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for the British Virgin Islands are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

CR1 Domestic legal framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein.

Determination: In Place But Needs Improvement
--

The British Virgin Islands' domestic legislative framework is in place and contains most of the key aspects of the CRS and its Commentary requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures, but it needs improvement in relation to the framework to enforce the requirements (SR 1.4). More specifically, the British Virgin Islands does not impose sanctions on Account Holders and Controlling Persons for the provision of a false self-certification and does not require records to be kept in accordance with the requirements.

SR 1.1 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions consistently with the CRS.

The British Virgin Islands has defined the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.2 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Financial Accounts and Reportable Accounts consistently with the CRS and incorporate the due diligence procedures to identify them.

The British Virgin Islands has defined the scope of the Financial Accounts that are required to be reported in its domestic legislative framework and incorporated the due diligence procedures that must be applied to identify them in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.3 Jurisdictions should incorporate the reporting requirements contained in Section I of the CRS into their domestic legislative framework.

The British Virgin Islands has incorporated the reporting requirements in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.4 Jurisdictions should have a legislative framework in place that allows for the enforcement of the requirements of the CRS in practice.

The British Virgin Islands has a legislative framework in place to enforce the requirements in a manner that is largely consistent with the CRS and its Commentary. However, deficiencies have been identified. More specifically, the British Virgin Islands' legislative framework:

- does not impose sanctions for the provision of a false self-certifications by Account Holders and Controlling Persons; and
- does not include rules requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to keep records in accordance with the requirements.

These are key elements of the required enforcement framework and are therefore material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

The British Virgin Islands should amend its domestic legislative framework to include sanctions on Account Holders and Controlling Persons for the provision of a false self-certification.

The British Virgin Islands should amend its domestic legislative framework to require Reporting Financial Institutions to keep records of the steps taken and evidence relied upon for the performance of the procedures, rather than permitting either to be kept.

The British Virgin Islands should amend its domestic legislative framework to require Reporting Financial Institutions to maintain records for at least five years from the deadline to report the information, rather than for six years from the end of the year to which the information relates or during which the due diligence steps were undertaken.

CR2 International legal framework: Jurisdictions should have exchange relationships in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners as committed to and that provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the Model CAA.

Determination: In Place

The British Virgin Islands' international legal framework to exchange the information is in place, is consistent with the Model CAA and its Commentary and provides for exchanges with all of the British Virgin Islands' Interested Appropriate Partners (i.e. all jurisdictions that are interested in receiving information from the British Virgin Islands and that meet the required standard in relation to confidentiality and data safeguards). (SRs 2.1 – 2.3)

SR 2.1 Jurisdictions should have exchange agreements in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information.

The British Virgin Islands has exchange agreements that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information in effect with all its Interested Appropriate Partners.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.2 Such an exchange agreement should be put in place without undue delay, following the receipt of an expression of interest from an Interested Appropriate Partner.

The British Virgin Islands put in place its exchange agreements without undue delay.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.3 Jurisdictions should ensure that the exchange agreements in effect provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

The British Virgin Islands' exchange agreements provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Brunei Darussalam

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place

Brunei Darussalam's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place and is consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. This includes Brunei Darussalam's domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) and its international legal framework to exchange the information with all of Brunei Darussalam's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2).

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

Brunei Darussalam commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2018.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Brunei Darussalam:

- enacted Income Tax Act (Amendment) No. 3 Order, 2017;
- issued Income Tax (International Tax Compliance Agreements) (Common Reporting Standard) Regulations 2017; and
- published further guidance, which is not legally binding.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 January 2017. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2017 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2018.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Brunei Darussalam is a Party to the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2018.

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for Brunei Darussalam are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

CR1 Domestic legal framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein.

Determination: In Place

Brunei Darussalam's domestic legislative framework is in place and contains all of the key aspects of the CRS and its Commentary requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (SRs 1.1 – 1.3). It also provides for a framework to enforce the requirements (SR 1.4).

SR 1.1 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions consistently with the CRS.

Brunei Darussalam has defined the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.2 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Financial Accounts and Reportable Accounts consistently with the CRS and incorporate the due diligence procedures to identify them.

Brunei Darussalam has defined the scope of the Financial Accounts that are required to be reported in its domestic legislative framework and incorporated the due diligence procedures that must be applied to identify them in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.3 Jurisdictions should incorporate the reporting requirements contained in Section I of the CRS into their domestic legislative framework.

Brunei Darussalam has incorporated the reporting requirements in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.4 Jurisdictions should have a legislative framework in place that allows for the enforcement of the requirements of the CRS in practice.

Brunei Darussalam has a legislative framework in place to enforce the requirements in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

CR2 International legal framework: Jurisdictions should have exchange relationships in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners as committed to and that provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the Model CAA.

Determination: In Place

Brunei Darussalam's international legal framework to exchange the information is in place, is consistent with the Model CAA and its Commentary and provides for exchange with all of Brunei Darussalam's Interested Appropriate Partners (i.e. all jurisdictions that are interested in receiving information from Brunei Darussalam and that meet the required standard in relation to confidentiality and data safeguards). (SRs 2.1 – 2.3)

SR 2.1 Jurisdictions should have exchange agreements in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information.

Brunei Darussalam has exchange agreements that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information in effect with all its Interested Appropriate Partners.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.2 Such an exchange agreement should be put in place without undue delay, following the receipt of an expression of interest from an Interested Appropriate Partner.

Brunei Darussalam put in place its exchange agreements without undue delay.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.3 Jurisdictions should ensure that the exchange agreements in effect provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Brunei Darussalam's exchange agreements provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

Bulgaria

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place

Bulgaria's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place and is consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. This includes Bulgaria's domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) and its international legal framework to exchange the information with all of Bulgaria's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2).

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Bulgaria commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2017.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Bulgaria:

- enacted Art. 142a to Art. 142y of the Tax and Social Security Procedure Code (TSSPC), §1a of the Additional Provisions of the TSSPC;
- enacted Order ZCU-1576/18.12.2015 of the Executive Director of the National Revenue Agency as amended by Order № ZCU-720/22.05.2018 of the Executive Director of the National Revenue Agency;
- introduced § 55 - § 66 of the Transitional and Concluding Provisions; and
- made reference to §2 of the Supplementary Provisions of the Measures Against Money Laundering Act implementing the FATF Recommendations for the purposes of the identification of Controlling Persons under the AEOI Standard.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 January 2016. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2016 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2017.

Following the initial Global Forum peer review, Bulgaria amended its legislative framework to address an issue identified, effective from 22 May 2018.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Bulgaria:

- is a Party to the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2017;
- has in place European Directive 2011/16/EU on Administrative Cooperation in the Field of Taxation as amended by Directive 2014/107/EU; and
- has in place European Union agreements with five European third countries.¹

Canada

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place But Needs Improvement

Canada's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place but needs improvement in order to be fully consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. While Canada's international legal framework to exchange the information with all of Canada's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2) is consistent with the requirements, its domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) has deficiencies significant to the proper functioning of elements of the AEOI Standard. More specifically, Canada's legislative framework does not incorporate the definition of Investment Entity in line with the requirements and provides for a jurisdiction-specific Non-Reporting Financial Institution that does not meet the requirements.

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Canada commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2018.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Canada:

- enacted Part XIX of the Income Tax Act (ITA);
- Introduced Sections 9005 and 9006 of the Income Tax Regulations; and
- issued further guidance, which is not legally binding.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 July 2017. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2018 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2019.

Following the initial Global Forum peer review, Canada amended its legislative framework to address issues identified, effective from 10 July 2020.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Canada:

- is a Party to the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2018; and
- put in place two bilateral agreements.¹

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for Canada are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

CR1 Domestic legal framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein.

Determination: In Place But Needs Improvement
--

Canada's domestic legislative framework is in place and contains most of the key aspects of the CRS and its Commentary requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures, but it needs improvement in relation to the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions required to report information (SR 1.1). More specifically, Canada's legislative framework does not incorporate the definition of Investment Entity in line with the requirements, and provides for a jurisdiction-specific Non-Reporting Financial Institution that does not meet the requirements.

SR 1.1 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions consistently with the CRS.

Canada has defined the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions in its domestic legislative framework in a manner that is largely consistent with the CRS and its Commentary. However, deficiencies have been identified. More specifically, Canada's legislative framework does not fully incorporate the definition of Investment Entity in line with the requirements. In addition, Canada's legislative framework provides for a jurisdiction-specific Non-Reporting Financial Institution that does not meet the requirements. The definition of Reporting Financial Institutions, including the provision of Non-Reporting Financial Institutions, is material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

Canada should amend its domestic legislative framework to ensure that its definition of Investment Entity includes all relevant Entities, not only those promoting or representing themselves to the public as an investment vehicle.

Canada should amend its domestic legislative framework to remove Labour Sponsored Venture Capital Corporations (LSVCCs) from its jurisdiction-specific list of Non-Reporting Financial Institutions as they do not meet the requirements, including not being established to provide benefits upon retirement, disability or death and not having limits on the contributions as required.

SR 1.2 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Financial Accounts and Reportable Accounts consistently with the CRS and incorporate the due diligence procedures to identify them.

Canada has defined the scope of the Financial Accounts that are required to be reported in its domestic legislative framework and incorporated the due diligence procedures that must be applied to identify them in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.3 Jurisdictions should incorporate the reporting requirements contained in Section I of the CRS into their domestic legislative framework.

Canada has incorporated the reporting requirements in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.4 Jurisdictions should have a legislative framework in place that allows for the enforcement of the requirements of the CRS in practice.

Canada has a legislative framework in place to enforce the requirements in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

CR2 International legal framework: Jurisdictions should have exchange relationships in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners as committed to and that provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the Model CAA.

Determination: In Place

Canada's international legal framework to exchange the information is in place, is consistent with the Model CAA and its Commentary and provides for exchange with all of Canada's Interested Appropriate Partners (i.e. all jurisdictions that are interested in receiving information from Canada and that meet the required standard in relation to confidentiality and data safeguards). Chile

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place But Needs Improvement

Chile's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place but needs improvement in order to be fully consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. While Chile's international legal framework to exchange the information with all of Chile's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2) is consistent with the requirements, Chile's domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) has a deficiency significant to the proper functioning of an element of the AEOI Standard. More specifically, a deficiency has been identified in Chile's enforcement framework.

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Chile commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2018.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Chile:

- enacted Decree N°418, 2017, Ministry of Finance, Article 62 ter of the Tax Code which was introduced by Act 21.047; and
- introduced secondary legislation in Resolución Ex. SII N°48 of 31 May 2018 and Resolución Ex. Ministry of Finance N°173 of 27 June 2018.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 July 2017. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 30 June 2018 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 30 June 2019.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Chile is a Party to the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2018.

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for Chile are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

CR1 Domestic legal framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein.

Determination: In Place But Needs Improvement
--

Chile's domestic legislative framework is in place and contains most of the key aspects of the CRS and its Commentary requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures, but it needs improvement in relation to the framework to enforce the requirements (SR 1.4). More specifically, Chile's legislative framework does not include rules to prevent Financial Institutions, persons or intermediaries from adopting practices intended to circumvent the due diligence and reporting requirements.

SR 1.1 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions consistently with the CRS.

Chile has defined the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary. While a deficiency has been identified concerning making explicit how to interpret the term Investment Entity, given there is nothing to suggest the interpretation would otherwise be incorrect, the deficiency is considered to be relatively minor and its impact not to be material.

Recommendations:

Chile should amend its domestic legislative framework to require the term Investment Entity to be interpreted consistently with similar language defining "financial institution" in the Financial Action Task Force Recommendations.

SR 1.2 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Financial Accounts and Reportable Accounts consistently with the CRS and incorporate the due diligence procedures to identify them.

Chile has defined the scope of the Financial Accounts that are required to be reported in its domestic legislative framework and incorporated the due diligence procedures that must be applied to identify them in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.3 Jurisdictions should incorporate the reporting requirements contained in Section I of the CRS into their domestic legislative framework.

Chile has incorporated the reporting requirements in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.4 Jurisdictions should have a legislative framework in place that allows for the enforcement of the requirements of the CRS in practice.

Chile has a legislative framework in place to enforce the requirements in a manner that is largely consistent with the CRS and its Commentary. However, a deficiency has been identified. More specifically, Chile's domestic legislative framework does not contain rules to prevent Financial Institutions, persons or intermediaries from adopting practices intended to circumvent the due diligence and reporting procedures as required. This is a key element of the required enforcement framework and is therefore material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

CR2 International legal framework: Jurisdictions should have exchange relationships in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners as committed to and that provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the Model CAA.

Determination: In Place

Chile's international legal framework to exchange the information is in place, is consistent with the Model CAA and its Commentary and provides for exchange with all of Chile's Interested Appropriate Partners (i.e. all jurisdictions that are interested in receiving information from Chile and that meet the required standard in relation to confidentiality and data safeguards). SR 2.1 Jurisdictions should have exchange agreements in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information.

Chile has exchange agreements that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information in effect with all its Interested Appropriate Partners.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.2 Such an exchange agreement should be put in place without undue delay, following the receipt of an expression of interest from an Interested Appropriate Partner.

Chile put in place its exchange agreements without undue delay.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.3 Jurisdictions should ensure that the exchange agreements in effect provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Chile's exchange agreements provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

Comments by the assessed jurisdiction

Chile would like to express its appreciation for the work done by the Global Forum Secretariat, the AEOI Assessment Panel and the AEOI Peer Review Group in evaluating Chile's legal frameworks implementing the AEOI Standard. Chile also thanks the Secretariat of the Global Forum for its valuable assistance throughout this process. Chile supports the work of the Global Forum, remains fully committed to the effective exchange of information and will continue working towards ensuring full compliance with the AEOI Standard.

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place

Colombia's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place and is consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. This includes Colombia's domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) and its international legal framework to exchange the information with all of Colombia's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2).

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Colombia commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2017.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Colombia:

- enacted Law 1661 of 2013 and introduced articles 23-1, 631, 631-4, of the Colombian Tax Code;
- introduced Resolutions 119 of 2015 and 31 of 2017, superseded by Resolution 78 of 2020, as issued by the Colombian Tax and Customs Authority; and
- introduced Resolution 4 of 2020.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 January 2016. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2016 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2017.

Following the initial Global Forum peer review, Colombia made various amendments to its legislative framework to address issues identified, the last of which will be effective from 1 January 2021.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Colombia is a Party to the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2017.

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for Colombia are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

CR1 Domestic legal framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein.

Determination: In Place

Colombia's domestic legislative framework is in place and contains all of the key aspects of the CRS and its Commentary requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (SRs 1.1 – 1.3). It also provides for a framework to enforce the requirements (SR 1.4).

SR 1.1 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions consistently with the CRS.

Colombia defined the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.2 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Financial Accounts and Reportable Accounts consistently with the CRS and incorporate the due diligence procedures to identify them.

Colombia has defined the scope of the Financial Accounts that are required to be reported in its domestic legislative framework and incorporated the due diligence procedures that must be applied to identify them in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.3 Jurisdictions should incorporate the reporting requirements contained in Section I of the CRS into their domestic legislative framework.

Colombia has incorporated the reporting requirements in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.4 Jurisdictions should have a legislative framework in place that allows for the enforcement of the requirements of the CRS in practice.

Colombia has a legislative framework in place to enforce the requirements in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

CR2 International legal framework: Jurisdictions should have exchange relationships in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners as committed to and that provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the Model CAA.

Determination: In Place

Colombia's international legal framework to exchange the information is in place, is consistent with the Model CAA and its Commentary and provides for exchange with all of Colombia's Interested Appropriate

Partners (i.e. all jurisdictions that are interested in receiving information from Colombia and that meet the required standard in relation to confidentiality and data safeguards). (SRs 2.1 – 2.3)

SR 2.1 Jurisdictions should have exchange agreements in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information.

Colombia has exchange agreements that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information in effect with all its Interested Appropriate Partners.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.2 Such an exchange agreement should be put in place without undue delay, following the receipt of an expression of interest from an Interested Appropriate Partner.

Colombia put in place its exchange agreements without undue delay.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.3 Jurisdictions should ensure that the exchange agreements in effect provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Colombia's exchange agreements provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

Cook Islands

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place

The Cook Islands' legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place and is consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. This includes the Cook Islands' domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) and its international legal framework to exchange the information with all of the Cook Islands' Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2).

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

The Cook Islands commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2018.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, the Cook Islands:

- enacted amendments to the Income Tax Act 1997;
- issued the Income Tax (Automatic Exchange of Financial Account Information) Regulations 2017; and
- published guidance, which is not legally binding.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 January 2017. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2017 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2018.

Following the initial Global Forum peer review, the Cook Islands amended its legislative framework to address an issue identified, effective from 4 December 2019.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, the Cook Islands is a Party to the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2018.

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for the Cook Islands are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

CR1 Domestic legal framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein.

Costa Rica

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: Not In Place

Costa Rica's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is not in place in accordance with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. While Costa Rica's international legal framework to exchange the information with all of Costa Rica's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2) is consistent with the requirements, its domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) has significant deficiencies in areas that are fundamental to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard. More specifically, deficiencies have been identified with respect to Costa Rica's enforcement framework.

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Costa Rica commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2018.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Costa Rica:

- enacted Article 106 quáter of the General Tax Code Law No. 4755; and
- introduced the Resolution No. DGT-R-006-2017, Resolution No. DGT-R-006-2018 and Resolution No. DGT-R-16-2020.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 January 2017. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2017.

Following the initial Global Forum review, Costa Rica amended its legislative framework to address issues identified, effective from 5 August 2020.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Costa Rica is a Party to the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2018.

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for Costa Rica are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

CR1 Domestic legal framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein.

Determination: Not In Place

Costa Rica's domestic legislative framework is not in place as required as it does not contain key aspects of the CRS and its Commentary. Significant deficiencies have been identified relating to the framework to enforce the requirements (SR 1.4). More specifically, Costa Rica's legislative framework does not require records to be kept by Financial Institutions in accordance with the AEOI Standard and it does not apply sanctions for non-compliance in all cases including where self-certifications have not been obtained for New Accounts.

SR 1.1 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions consistently with the CRS.

Costa Rica has defined the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.2 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Financial Accounts and Reportable Accounts consistently with the CRS and incorporate the due diligence procedures to identify them.

Costa Rica has defined the scope of the Financial Accounts that are required to be reported in its domestic legislative framework and incorporated the due diligence procedures that must be applied to identify them in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.3 Jurisdictions should incorporate the reporting requirements contained in Section I of the CRS into their domestic legislative framework.

Costa Rica has incorporated the reporting requirements in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.4 Jurisdictions should have a legislative framework in place that allows for the enforcement of the requirements of the CRS in practice.

Costa Rica does not have a legislative framework in place to enforce the requirements in a manner that is consistent with the CRS and its Commentary, as significant deficiencies have been identified. More specifically, Costa Rica's domestic legislative framework:

- does not include rules requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to keep records in accordance with the requirements;
- does not include rules that ensure that a Reporting Financial Institution is sanctioned for failing to apply due diligence procedures in accordance with the requirements; and
- does not incorporate measures to ensure that self-certifications are always obtained and validated for New Accounts as required.

These are key elements of the required enforcement framework and are therefore material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

Costa Rica should amend its domestic legislative framework to require all Reporting Financial Institutions to keep all of the records required to be maintained, rather than relying only on the requirements contained in the AML framework.

Costa Rica should amend its domestic legislative framework to require Reporting Financial Institutions to maintain records for at least five years from the deadline to report the information, in accordance with the AEOI Standard.

Costa Rica should amend its domestic legislative framework to include sanctions for failure to comply with the due diligence and reporting procedures in accordance with the AEOI Standard.

Costa Rica should amend its domestic legislative framework to include strong measures to ensure that valid self-certifications are always obtained for New Accounts and, more specifically, in the limited circumstances where a valid self-certification is permitted to be obtained after the opening of a New Account.

CR2 International legal framework: Jurisdictions should have exchange relationships in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners as committed to and that provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the Model CAA.

Determination: In Place

Costa Rica's international legal framework to exchange the information is in place, is consistent with the Model CAA and its Commentary and provides for exchange with all of Costa Rica's Interested Appropriate Partners (i.e. all jurisdictions that are interested in receiving information from Costa Rica and that meet the required standard in relation to confidentiality and data safeguards). (SRs 2.1 – 2.3)

SR 2.1 Jurisdictions should have exchange agreements in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information.

Costa Rica has exchange agreements that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information in effect with all its Interested Appropriate Partners.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.2 Such an exchange agreement should be put in place without undue delay, following the receipt of an expression of interest from an Interested Appropriate Partner.

Costa Rica put in place its exchange agreements without undue delay.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.3 Jurisdictions should ensure that the exchange agreements in effect provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Costa Rica's exchange agreements provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

Comments by the assessed jurisdiction

The Costa Rica Tax Administration appreciates the assistance provided by the Global Forum experts in this assessment in order to amend our secondary legislation (the Resolution) in accordance with the CRS standard.

The recommendations included in this Report are useful and will be part of the specific regulation regarding the implementation of the CRS standard in the Financial Institutions that we are going to draft together with the Superintendence of Financial Entities (GSFE-SUGEF) and the National Council of Financial Supervision in the upcoming months.

We renew our commitment with tax transparency in all of its modalities, and in turn, we are always open to receive comments to improve our internal proceedings in order to provide information with the best quality.

Croatia

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place But Needs Improvement

Croatia's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place but needs improvement in order to be fully consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. While Croatia's international legal framework to exchange the information with all of Croatia's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2) is consistent with the requirements, Croatia's domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) has a deficiency in an area significant to the proper functioning of an element of the AEOI Standard. More specifically, a deficiency has been identified with respect to Croatia's enforcement framework.

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Croatia commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2017.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Croatia:

- amended its Act on Administrative Cooperation in the Field of Taxation (OG 115/2016);
- introduced an Ordinance on the Automatic Exchange of Information in the field of taxation (OG 18/2017, as amended by an Ordinance published in OG 1/2020); and
- issued further guidance, which is not legally binding.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 January 2016. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2016 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2017.

Following the initial Global Forum peer review, Croatia made various amendments to its legislative framework to address issues identified, the last of which was effective from 3 January 2020.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Croatia:

- is a Party to the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2017;
- has in place European Directive 2011/16/EU on Administrative Cooperation in the Field of Taxation, as amended by Directive 2014/107/EU; and
- has in place European Union agreements with five European third countries.¹

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for Croatia are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

Curaçao

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: Not In Place

Curaçao's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is not in place in accordance with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. This is because Curaçao's domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) has significant deficiencies in areas that are fundamental to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard. Most significantly, deficiencies have been identified in Curaçao's enforcement framework and in other key areas.

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Curaçao commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2018.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Curaçao:

- enacted National Ordinance International Assistance Taxation;
- introduced National Decree International Assistance Taxation; and
- issued further guidance, which is not legally binding.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 January 2017. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2017 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2018.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Curaçao has the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters in place¹ and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2018.

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for Curaçao are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

CR1 Domestic legal framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein.

Determination: Not In Place

Curaçao's domestic legislative framework is not in place as required as it does not contain several key aspects of the CRS and its Commentary. Significant deficiencies have been identified in relation to the framework to enforce the requirements (SR 1.4). Most significantly, Curaçao's domestic legislative framework does not provide for rules to prevent the circumvention of the reporting and due diligence procedures, does not incorporate sanctions for the provision of false self-certifications and does not contain strong measures to ensure valid self-certifications are always obtained for New Accounts. Moreover, there are deficiencies in relation to the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions required to report information (SR 1.1) and the scope of Financial Accounts required to be reported and the due diligence procedures required to identify them (SR 1.2).

SR 1.1 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions consistently with the CRS.

Curaçao has defined the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions in its domestic legislative framework in a manner that is largely consistent with the CRS and its Commentary. However, deficiencies have been identified. More specifically, Curaçao's legislative framework:

- classifies certain Entities as Non-Financial Entities, which are not in accordance with the requirements set out in the AEOI Standard;
- does not specify the date as of when Qualified Credit Card Issuers need to implement policies for the returning of overpayments, which is required for them to be treated as Non-Reporting Financial Institutions; and
- does not specify the date as of when Exempt Collective Investment Vehicles are prevented from issuing bearer shares nor the date prior to which any existing bearer shares are required to be redeemed or immobilised, which is required for them to be treated as Non-Reporting Financial Institutions.

The scope of Reporting Financial Institutions, including the specification of Non-Reporting Financial Institutions, is material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

Curaçao should amend its domestic legislative framework to remove the classifications of entities held by one single family or a very limited group and Trust Office Foundation ("Stichting administratiekantoor" or STAK) as Non-Financial Entities without regard to the requirements to be classified as such.

Curaçao should amend its domestic legislative framework to require Qualified Credit Card Issuers to implement policies with respect to the returning of overpayments from a specified date in order to be treated as Non-Reporting Financial Institutions.

Curaçao should amend its domestic legislative framework to prevent Exempt Collective Investment Vehicles from issuing bearer shares from a specified date and for any existing bearer shares to be redeemed or immobilised prior to that date in order to be treated as Non-Reporting Financial Institutions.

SR 1.2 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Financial Accounts and Reportable Accounts consistently with the CRS and incorporate the due diligence procedures to identify them.

Curaçao has defined the scope of the Financial Accounts that are required to be reported in its domestic legislative framework and has incorporated the due diligence procedures that must be applied to identify them in a manner that is largely consistent with the CRS and its Commentary. However, deficiencies have been identified. More specifically, Curaçao's legislative framework:

- does not specify the date on which a Preexisting Entity Account is first to be identified;
- does not define Controlling Persons in accordance with the requirements;

- does not specify the date as of when Qualified Credit Card Issuers need to implement policies for the returning of overpayments, which is required for Depository Accounts due to not-returned overpayments to be treated as Excluded Accounts; and
- does not follow the conditions set out in the AEOI Standard for when Reporting Financial Institutions can use existing classifications as Documentary Evidence with respect to Preexisting Entity Accounts.

The scope of Financial Accounts and the due diligence procedures to identify them is material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

Curaçao should amend its domestic legislative framework to specify the date on which a Preexisting Entity Account is first to be identified using the USD 250 000 balance or value threshold.

Curaçao should amend its domestic legislative framework to require Reporting Financial Institutions to always identify and determine the reportable status of Controlling Persons in accordance with the AEOI Standard.

Curaçao should amend its domestic legislative framework to define Controlling Persons in accordance with the AEOI Standard, by removing the 25% ownership or share of profits threshold for partnerships in order to ensure the identification of all relevant Controlling Persons of partnerships and legal arrangements similar to partnerships.

Curaçao should amend its domestic legislative framework to require Qualified Credit Card Issuers to implement policies with respect to the returning of overpayments from a specified date in order for Depository Accounts due to not-returned overpayments to be treated as Excluded Accounts.

Curaçao should amend its domestic legislative framework to require Reporting Financial Institutions to only use Documentary Evidence in relation to the due diligence procedures for Preexisting Entity Accounts in accordance with the conditions in the AEOI Standard.

SR 1.3 Jurisdictions should incorporate the reporting requirements contained in Section I of the CRS into their domestic legislative framework.

Curaçao has incorporated the reporting requirements in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary. While a deficiency has been identified with respect to the reporting of the currency denomination, it is considered to be relatively minor as the CRS XML schema will compel the reporting of a currency type.

Recommendations:

Curaçao should amend its domestic legislative framework to require Reporting Financial Institutions to identify the currency in which each account is denominated.

SR 1.4 Jurisdictions should have a legislative framework in place that allows for the enforcement of the requirements of the CRS in practice.

Curaçao does not have a legislative framework in place to enforce the requirements in a manner that is consistent with the CRS and its Commentary as significant deficiencies have been identified. More specifically, Curaçao's legislative framework:

- does not include rules to prevent Financial Institutions, persons or intermediaries from adopting practices intended to circumvent the due diligence and reporting procedures as required;
- does not include sanctions on Account Holders and Controlling Persons for the provision of a false self-certification; and

- allows self-certifications to be obtained after the opening of the account in circumstances beyond those that are permitted.

These are key elements of the required enforcement framework and are therefore material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

Curaçao should amend its domestic legislative framework to introduce rules to prevent Financial Institutions, persons and intermediaries from adopting practices intended to circumvent the due diligence and reporting procedures.

Curaçao should amend its domestic legislative framework to include sanctions on Account Holders and Controlling Persons for the provision of a false self-certification.

Curaçao should amend its domestic legislative framework to limit the circumstances when it is permissible to obtain a valid self-certification after the opening of a New Account in accordance with the requirements.

CR2 International legal framework: Jurisdictions should have exchange relationships in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners as committed to and that provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the Model CAA.

Determination: In Place

Curaçao's international legal framework to exchange the information is in place, is consistent with the Model CAA and its Commentary and provides for exchange with all of Curaçao's Interested Appropriate Partners (i.e. all jurisdictions that are interested in receiving information from Curaçao and that meet the required standard in relation to confidentiality and data safeguards). (SRs 2.1 – 2.3)

SR 2.1 Jurisdictions should have exchange agreements in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information.

Curaçao has exchange agreements that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information in effect with all its Interested Appropriate Partners.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.2 Such an exchange agreement should be put in place without undue delay, following the receipt of an expression of interest from an Interested Appropriate Partner.

Curaçao put in place its exchange agreements without undue delay.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.3 Jurisdictions should ensure that the exchange agreements in effect provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Curaçao's exchange agreements provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

No recommendations made.

Cyprus

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place

Cyprus' legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place and is consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. This includes Cyprus' domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) and its international legal framework to exchange the information with all of Cyprus' Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2).

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Cyprus commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2017.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Cyprus:

- incorporated Article 6(16) into the Assessment and Collection of Taxes Law (L4/1978), amended on November 2017;
- enacted the National CRS Decree (161/2016); and
- issued further guidance, which is legally binding and which was updated in May 2020.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 January 2016. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2016 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2017.

Following the initial Global Forum peer review, Cyprus amended its legislative framework to address issues identified, effective from 10 November 2017.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Cyprus:

- is a Party to the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2017;
- has in place European Directive 2011/16/EU on Administrative Cooperation in the Field of Taxation as amended by Directive 2014/107/EU; and
- has in place European Union agreements with five European third countries.¹

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for Cyprus are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

CR1 Domestic legal framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein.

Determination: In Place

Cyprus domestic legislative framework is in place and contains all of the key aspects of the CRS and its Commentary requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (SRs 1.1 – 1.3). It also provides for a framework to enforce the requirements (SR 1.4).

SR 1.1 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions consistently with the CRS.

Cyprus has defined the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.2 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Financial Accounts and Reportable Accounts consistently with the CRS and incorporate the due diligence procedures to identify them.

Cyprus has defined the scope of the Financial Accounts that are required to be reported in its domestic legislative framework and incorporated the due diligence procedures that must be applied to identify them in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.3 Jurisdictions should incorporate the reporting requirements contained in Section I of the CRS into their domestic legislative framework.

Cyprus has incorporated the reporting requirements in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.4 Jurisdictions should have a legislative framework in place that allows for the enforcement of the requirements of the CRS in practice.

Cyprus has a legislative framework in place to enforce the requirements in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

CR2 International legal framework: Jurisdictions should have exchange relationships in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners as committed to and that provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the Model CAA.

Determination: In Place

Cyprus' international legal framework to exchange the information is in place, is consistent with the Model CAA and its Commentary and provides for exchange with all of Cyprus' Interested Appropriate Partners

(i.e. all jurisdictions that are interested in receiving information from Cyprus and that meet the required standard in relation to confidentiality and data safeguards). (SRs 2.1 – 2.3)

SR 2.1 Jurisdictions should have exchange agreements in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information.

Cyprus has exchange agreements that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information in effect with all its Interested Appropriate Partners.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.2 Such an exchange agreement should be put in place without undue delay, following the receipt of an expression of interest from an Interested Appropriate Partner.

Cyprus put in place its exchange agreements without undue delay.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.3 Jurisdictions should ensure that the exchange agreements in effect provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Cyprus' exchange agreements provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

Czech Republic

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place But Needs Improvement

The Czech Republic's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place but needs improvement in order to be fully consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. While the Czech Republic's international legal framework to exchange the information with all of the Czech Republic's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2) is consistent with the requirements, its domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) has a deficiency significant to the proper functioning of an element of the AEOI Standard. More specifically, the Czech Republic's legislative framework does not impose sanctions on Account Holders and Controlling Persons for providing a false self-certification.

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

The Czech Republic commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2017.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, the Czech Republic:

- enacted Act No. 164/2013 Coll. as amended by Act No. 105/2016 and Act No. 80/2019;
- introduced Decree No. 108/2016 Coll. repealed and replaced by Decree No. 26/2019 Coll.;
- issued further guidance, which is not legally binding; and
- made reference to Act No 253/2008 Coll. (as amended in July 2018) implementing the FATF Recommendations for the purposes of the identification of Controlling Persons under the AEOI Standard.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 January 2016. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2016 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2017.

Following the initial Global Forum peer review, the Czech Republic made various amendments to its legislative framework to address issues identified, the last of which was effective from 27 March 2019.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, the Czech Republic:

- is a Party to the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2017;
- has in place European Directive 2011/16/EU on Administrative Cooperation in the Field of Taxation as amended by Directive 2014/107/EU; and
- has in place agreements with five European third countries.¹

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for the Czech Republic are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

CR1 Domestic legal framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein.

Determination: In Place But Needs Improvement
--

The Czech Republic's domestic legislative framework is in place and contains most of the key aspects of the CRS and its Commentary requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures, but it needs improvement in one area relating to the framework to enforce the requirements (SR 1.4). More specifically, the Czech Republic's legislative framework does not impose sanctions on Account Holders and Controlling Persons for providing a false self-certification as required.

SR 1.1 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions consistently with the CRS.

The Czech Republic has defined the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.2 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Financial Accounts and Reportable Accounts consistently with the CRS and incorporate the due diligence procedures to identify them.

The Czech Republic has defined the scope of the Financial Accounts that are required to be reported in its domestic legislative framework and incorporated the due diligence procedures that must be applied to identify them in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.3 Jurisdictions should incorporate the reporting requirements contained in Section I of the CRS into their domestic legislative framework.

The Czech Republic has incorporated the reporting requirements in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.4 Jurisdictions should have a legislative framework in place that allows for the enforcement of the requirements of the CRS in practice.

The Czech Republic has a legislative framework in place to enforce the requirements in a manner that is largely consistent with the CRS and its Commentary. However, a deficiency has been identified. More specifically, the Czech Republic's legislative framework does not impose sanctions on Account Holders and Controlling Persons for the provision of a false self-certification. This is a key element of the required enforcement framework and is therefore material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

The Czech Republic should amend its domestic legislative framework to include sanctions on Account Holders and Controlling Persons for the provision of a false self-certification.

CR2 International legal framework: Jurisdictions should have exchange relationships in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners as committed to and that provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the Model CAA.

Determination: In Place

The Czech Republic's international legal framework to exchange the information is in place, is consistent with the Model CAA and its Commentary and provides for exchange with all of the Czech Republic's Interested Appropriate Partners (i.e. all jurisdictions that are interested in receiving information from the Czech Republic and that meet the required standard in relation to confidentiality and data safeguards). (SRs 2.1 – 2.3)

SR 2.1 Jurisdictions should have exchange agreements in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information.

The Czech Republic has exchange agreements that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information in effect with all its Interested Appropriate Partners.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.2 Such an exchange agreement should be put in place without undue delay, following the receipt of an expression of interest from an Interested Appropriate Partner.

The Czech Republic put in place its exchange agreements without undue delay.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.3 Jurisdictions should ensure that the exchange agreements in effect provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

The Czech Republic's exchange agreements provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

Comments by the assessed jurisdiction

The Czech Republic has initiated the process to amend its domestic legislative framework to address the recommendation made.

Denmark

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place

Denmark's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place and is consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. This includes Denmark's domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) and its international legal framework to exchange the information with all of Denmark's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2).

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Denmark commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2017.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Denmark:

- enacted Section 66 of the Tax Control Act and sections 22 and 23 of the Tax Reporting Act (and in connection to sections 22 and 23, paragraphs 2 and 3 of section 48, section 52, paragraphs 5 and 6 of section 54, sections 55-57, and sections 59-63 of the Tax Reporting Act);
- introduced the Regulation on Identification of and Reporting on Foreign Financial Accounts; and
- issued Frequently Asked Questions, which are not legally binding.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 January 2016. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2016 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2017.

Following the initial Global Forum peer review, Denmark made various amendments to its legislative framework to address issues identified, the last of which was effective from 1 January 2019.

Dominica

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: Not In Place

Dominica's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is not in place in accordance with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. While Dominica's international legal framework to exchange the information with all of Dominica's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2) is consistent with the requirements, Dominica's domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) has significant deficiencies in areas that are fundamental to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard. More specifically, deficiencies have been identified in relation to Dominica's enforcement framework.

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Dominica committed to exchange information by 2018, although due to delays in implementing the legal framework, Dominica does not expect to commence exchanges until the end of 2020.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Dominica:

- enacted the Automatic Exchange of Financial Account Information (Common Reporting Standard) Act, 2019; and
- made reference to the Money Laundering (Prevention) Statutory Rules and Orders No. 4 of 2013 for the purposes of the identification of Controlling Persons under the AEOI Standard.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 January 2019. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2019 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2020.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Dominica is a Party to the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2020.

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for Dominica are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

CR1 Domestic legal framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein.

Determination: Not In Place

Dominica's domestic legislative framework is not in place as required as it does not contain key aspects of the CRS and its Commentary. Significant deficiencies have been identified relating to the framework to enforce the requirements (SR 1.4). More specifically, Dominica's legislative framework does not require records to be kept by Financial Institutions in accordance with the AEOI Standard and it does not apply sanctions for non-compliance in all cases including where self-certifications have not been obtained for New Accounts.

SR 1.1 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions consistently with the CRS.

Dominica has defined the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.2 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Financial Accounts and Reportable Accounts consistently with the CRS and incorporate the due diligence procedures to identify them.

Dominica has defined the scope of the Financial Accounts that are required to be reported in its domestic legislative framework and incorporated the due diligence procedures that must be applied to identify them in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.3 Jurisdictions should incorporate the reporting requirements contained in Section I of the CRS into their domestic legislative framework.

Dominica has incorporated the reporting requirements in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.4 Jurisdictions should have a legislative framework in place that allows for the enforcement of the requirements of the CRS in practice.

Dominica does not have a legislative framework in place to enforce the requirements in a manner that is consistent with the CRS and its Commentary as significant deficiencies have been identified. More specifically, Dominica's legislative framework:

- does not include rules requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to keep records in accordance with the requirements;
- does not impose sanctions on Reporting Financial Institutions for failing to apply the due diligence procedures (they are restricted to failing to report the relevant information); and
- allows self-certifications to be obtained after the opening of the account under the permitted circumstances but does not specify the consequences if a valid self-certification is not obtained thereafter as required.

These are key elements of the required enforcement framework and are therefore material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

Dominica should amend its domestic legislative framework to require all Reporting Financial Institutions to keep all of the records required to be maintained, rather than relying only on the requirements contained in the AML framework.

Dominica should amend its domestic legislative framework to require Reporting Financial Institutions to maintain records for at least five years from the deadline to report the information, in accordance with the AEOI Standard.

Dominica should amend its domestic legislative framework to include sanctions for failure to comply with the due diligence and reporting procedures in accordance with the AEOI Standard.

Dominica should amend its domestic legislative framework to include strong measures to ensure that valid self-certifications are always obtained for New Accounts in accordance with the requirements.

CR2 International legal framework: Jurisdictions should have exchange relationships in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners as committed to and that provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the Model CAA.

Determination: In Place

Dominica's international legal framework to exchange the information is in place, is consistent with the Model CAA and its Commentary and provides for exchange with all of Dominica's Interested Appropriate Partners (i.e. all jurisdictions that are interested in receiving information from Dominica and that meet the required standard in relation to confidentiality and data safeguards). (SRs 2.1 – 2.3)

SR 2.1 Jurisdictions should have exchange agreements in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information.

Dominica has exchange agreements that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information in effect with all its Interested Appropriate Partners.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.2 Such an exchange agreement should be put in place without undue delay, following the receipt of an expression of interest from an Interested Appropriate Partner.

Dominica put in place its exchange agreements without undue delay.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.3 Jurisdictions should ensure that the exchange agreements in effect provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Dominica's exchange agreements provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

Comments by the assessed jurisdiction

There is a plan in place to make potential changes to the Domestic Legislative framework in order to provide for the inclusion of rules requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to keep records in accordance with the requirements. Also to impose sanctions on these institutions who fail to apply the due diligence procedures and finally to specify the consequences if a valid self-certification is not obtained as required after the opening of an account.

Estonia

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place But Needs Improvement

Estonia's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place but needs improvement in order to be fully consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. While Estonia's international legal framework to exchange the information with all of Estonia's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2) is consistent with the requirements, its domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) has deficiencies significant to the proper functioning of elements of the AEOI Standard. Most significantly, the definition of the term Controlling Persons is not consistent with the AEOI Standard.

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Estonia commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2017.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Estonia:

- enacted the Tax Information Exchange Act;
- published further guidance, which is not legally binding; and
- relies on its legal framework implementing the FATF Recommendations for the purposes of the identification of Controlling Persons under the AEOI Standard.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 January 2016. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2016 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2017.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Estonia:

- is a Party to the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2017;
- has in place European Directive 2011/16/EU on Administrative Cooperation in the Field of Taxation as amended by Directive 2014/107/EU;
- has in place European Union agreements with five European third countries¹; and
- put in place a bilateral agreement.²

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for Estonia are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

CR1 Domestic legal framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein.

Determination: In Place But Needs Improvement
--

Estonia's domestic legislative framework is in place and contains most of the key aspects of the CRS and its Commentary requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures, but it needs improvement in relation to the scope of Financial Accounts required to be reported and the due diligence procedures required to identify them (SR 1.2). Most significantly, the definition of the term Controlling Persons is not consistent with the requirements with respect to trusts and legal arrangements.

SR 1.1 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions consistently with the CRS.

Estonia has defined the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.2 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Financial Accounts and Reportable Accounts consistently with the CRS and incorporate the due diligence procedures to identify them.

Estonia has defined the scope of the Financial Accounts that are required to be reported in its domestic legislative framework and incorporated the due diligence procedures that must be applied to identify them in a manner that is largely consistent with the CRS and its Commentary. However, deficiencies have been identified. Most significantly, the definition of Controlling Persons including in Estonia's legislative framework is incomplete with respect to trusts and legal arrangements. This is a key element of the AEOI Standard and is therefore material to its proper functioning.

Recommendations:

Estonia should amend its domestic legislative framework to fully incorporate the definition of Controlling Persons in accordance with the AEOI Standard by including all natural persons required to be identified in relation to trusts and similar legal arrangements.

Estonia should amend its domestic legislative framework to remove Insurance Contracts for Supplementary Funded Pensions from its jurisdiction-specific list of Excluded Accounts as they do not meet the requirements of the AEOI Standard.

SR 1.3 Jurisdictions should incorporate the reporting requirements contained in Section I of the CRS into their domestic legislative framework.

Estonia has incorporated the reporting requirements in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.4 Jurisdictions should have a legislative framework in place that allows for the enforcement of the requirements of the CRS in practice.

Estonia has a legislative framework in place to enforce the requirements in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

CR2 International legal framework: Jurisdictions should have exchange relationships in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners as committed to and that provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the Model CAA.

Determination: In Place

Estonia's international legal framework to exchange the information is in place, is consistent with the Model CAA and its Commentary and provides for exchange with all of Estonia's Interested Appropriate Partners (i.e. all jurisdictions that are interested in receiving information from Estonia and that meet the required standard in relation to confidentiality and data safeguards). (SRs 2.1 – 2.3)

SR 2.1 Jurisdictions should have exchange agreements in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information.

Estonia has exchange agreements that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information in effect with all its Interested Appropriate Partners.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.2 Such an exchange agreement should be put in place without undue delay, following the receipt of an expression of interest from an Interested Appropriate Partner.

Estonia put in place its exchange agreements without undue delay.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.3 Jurisdictions should ensure that the exchange agreements in effect provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Estonia's exchange agreements provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Faroe Islands

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place But Needs Improvement

The Faroe Islands' legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place but needs improvement in order to be fully consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. While the Faroe Islands' international legal framework to exchange the information with all of the Faroe Islands' Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2) is consistent with the requirements, its domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) has deficiencies significant to the proper functioning of elements of the AEOI Standard. More specifically, the Faroe Islands' legislative framework does not include rules requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to keep records in accordance with the requirements.

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

The Faroe Islands commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2017.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, the Faroe Islands:

- enacted the Faroese Tax Act No. 86 of 1 September 1983 (amended by Act No. 50 of 6 May 2016); and
- introduced the Regulation No. 11 of 19 February 2016, as amended in 2017 and in 2019.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 January 2016. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2016 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2017.

Following the initial Global Forum peer review, the Faroe Islands made various amendments to its legislative framework to address issues identified, the last of which will be effective from 1 January 2021.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, the Faroe Islands:

- has the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters in place¹, and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2017; and
- put in place two bilateral agreements.²

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for the Faroe Islands are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

SR 1.1 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions consistently with the CRS.

The Faroe Islands has defined the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.2 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Financial Accounts and Reportable Accounts consistently with the CRS and incorporate the due diligence procedures to identify them.

The Faroe Islands has defined the scope of the Financial Accounts that are required to be reported in its domestic legislative framework and incorporated the due diligence procedures that must be applied to identify them in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.3 Jurisdictions should incorporate the reporting requirements contained in Section I of the CRS into their domestic legislative framework.

The Faroe Islands has incorporated the reporting requirements in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

This is a key element of the required enforcement framework and is therefore material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

The Faroe Islands should amend its domestic legislative framework to require Reporting Financial Institutions to keep records of the steps undertaken and any evidence relied upon for the performance of the due diligence procedures, rather than only of the steps taken.

The Faroe Islands should amend its domestic legislative framework to require Reporting Financial Institutions to maintain records for at least five years from the deadline to report the information, in accordance with the AEOI Standard.

CR2 International legal framework: Jurisdictions should have exchange relationships in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners as committed to and that provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the Model CAA.

Determination: In Place

The Faroe Islands' international legal framework to exchange the information is in place, is consistent with the Model CAA and its Commentary and provides for exchange with all of the Faroe Islands' Interested Appropriate Partners (i.e. all jurisdictions that are interested in receiving information from The Faroe Islands and that meet the required standard in relation to confidentiality and data safeguards). (SRs 2.1 – 2.3)

SR 2.1 Jurisdictions should have exchange agreements in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information.

The Faroe Islands has exchange agreements that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information in effect with all its Interested Appropriate Partners.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.2 Such an exchange agreement should be put in place without undue delay, following the receipt of an expression of interest from an Interested Appropriate Partner.

The Faroe Islands put in place its exchange agreements without undue delay.

Recommendations:

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place

Finland's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place and is consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. This includes Finland's domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) and its international legal framework to exchange the information with all of Finland's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2).

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Finland commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2017.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Finland:

- enacted the Act on the amendment of the Act on national implementation of provisions of a legislative nature in Council Directive on administrative cooperation in the field of taxation and repealing Directive 77/799/EEC, and application of the Directive (1703/2015) as amended by the amendment Act (881/2017), and the Act on the amendment of the Tax Assessment Procedure Act (227/2016) as amended by the amendment Act (1560/2019);
- introduced the Decision of the Tax Administration on the requirement to report information on financial accounts (A35/200/2016); and
- issued further guidance, which is legally binding.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 January 2016. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2016 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2017.

Following the initial Global Forum peer review, Finland made various amendments to its legislative framework to address issues identified, the last of which was effective from 1 January 2020.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Finland:

- is a Party to the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2017;
- has in place European Directive 2011/16/EU on Administrative Cooperation in the Field of Taxation as amended by Directive 2014/107/EU;
- has in place European Union agreements with five European third countries¹; and
- put in place a bilateral agreement.²

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for Finland are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

Germany

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place But Needs Improvement

Germany's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place but needs improvement in order to be fully consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. While Germany's international legal framework to exchange the information with all of Germany's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2) is consistent with the requirements, its domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) has deficiencies significant to the proper functioning of elements of the AEOI Standard. More specifically, Germany's legislative framework provides for jurisdiction-specific Non-Reporting Financial Institutions and Excluded Accounts that do not meet the requirements, and does not include strong measures to ensure valid self-certifications are obtained in all cases.

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Germany commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2017.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Germany:

- enacted the Law of December 21, 2015; announced in the Bundesgesetzblatt Part II, No. 35, December 29, 2015, page 1630 and Law of December 21, 2015; announced in Bundesgesetzblatt Part I, No. 55, December 30, 2015, page 2531; and
- issued further guidance, which is legally binding.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 January 2016. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2016 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2017.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Germany:

- is a Party to the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2017;
- has in place European Directive 2011/16/EU on Administrative Cooperation in the Field of Taxation as amended by Directive 2014/107/EU; and
- has in place European Union agreements with five European third countries.¹

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for Germany are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

CR1 Domestic legal framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein.

Determination: In Place But Needs Improvement
--

Germany's domestic legislative framework is in place and contains many of the key aspects of the CRS and its Commentary requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures, but it needs improvement in relation to the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions required to report information (SR 1.1), the scope of Financial Accounts required to be reported (SR 1.2), and the framework to enforce the requirements (SR 1.4). More specifically, Germany's legislative framework provides for jurisdiction-specific non-Reporting Financial Institutions and Excluded Accounts that do not meet the requirements, and there are insufficient sanctions related to the making and collection of self-certifications.

SR 1.1 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions consistently with the CRS.

Germany has defined the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions in its domestic legislative framework in a manner that is largely consistent with the CRS and its Commentary. However, deficiencies have been identified. More specifically, Germany provides for seven jurisdiction-specific Non-Reporting Financial Institutions that are not in accordance with the requirements. The definition of Reporting Financial Institutions, including the provision of Non-Reporting Financial Institutions, is material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard, although it should be noted that several of the incorrect entries are likely to have a very limited impact.

Recommendations:

Germany should amend its domestic legislative framework to remove four entries from its jurisdiction-specific list of categories of Non-Reporting Financial Institutions as they are Non-Financial Entities and should therefore be treated as such under the AEOI Standard. The entries are: i) "bad banks"; ii) leasing entities; iii) factoring entities; and iv) Chambers of Commerce.

Germany should amend its domestic legislative framework to remove a further three entries from its jurisdiction-specific list of categories of Non-Reporting Financial Institutions as they do not meet the requirements. The entries are: i) foundations; ii) closed ended funds; and iii) Building and Loan Associations.

SR 1.2 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Financial Accounts and Reportable Accounts consistently with the CRS and incorporate the due diligence procedures to identify them.

Germany has defined scope of the Financial Accounts that are required to be reported in its domestic legislative framework and incorporated the due diligence procedures that must be applied to identify them in a manner that is largely consistent with the CRS and its Commentary. However, deficiencies have been identified. More specifically, Germany provides for 19 jurisdiction-specific Excluded Accounts that are not in accordance with the requirements. The definition of Financial Accounts, including the provision of Excluded Accounts, is material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard, although it should be noted that several of the incorrect entries are likely to have a very limited impact.

Recommendations:

Germany should amend its domestic legislative framework to remove 19 entries from its jurisdiction-specific list of categories of Excluded Accounts as they are either not Financial Accounts or do not meet the requirements for exclusion from being Financial Accounts. The entries are: i) (OTC Derivatives and similarly derived non-depository instruments; ii) letters of credit; iii) deposits without financial instruments;

iv) customer cards; v) personal credit; vi) liens; vii) corporate mortgages; viii) credit lines; ix) factoring products; x) leasing products; xi) receivables in cash management; xii) passive loans, in particular promissory note (bond) loans; xiii) Riester accounts; xiv) collateral orders; xv) financing arrangements; xvi) credit line accounts; xvii) time-limited overdraft facilities; xviii) pocket-money accounts; and xix) escrow/securities accounts managed by lawyers, auditors, chartered accountants (tax advisers) and insolvency administrators.

SR 1.3 Jurisdictions should incorporate the reporting requirements contained in Section I of the CRS into their domestic legislative framework.

Germany has incorporated the reporting requirements in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.4 Jurisdictions should have a legislative framework in place that allows for the enforcement of the requirements of the CRS in practice.

Germany has a legislative framework in place to enforce the requirements in a manner that is largely consistent with the CRS and its Commentary. However, deficiencies have been identified. More specifically, Germany's legislative framework:

- does not impose sanctions on Account Holders and Controlling Persons for the provision of a false self-certification; and
- does not incorporate measures to ensure that self-certifications are always obtained and validated by Reporting Financial Institutions and in particular in the limited circumstances where valid self-certifications may be obtained after the opening of the account as required,

These are key elements of the required enforcement framework and are therefore material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

Germany should amend its domestic legislative framework to include sanctions on Account Holders and Controlling Persons for the provision of a false self-certification.

Germany should amend its domestic legislative framework to include strong measures to ensure that valid self-certifications are always obtained for New Accounts and, more specifically, in the limited circumstances where a valid self-certification is permitted to be obtained after the opening of a New Account.

CR2 International legal framework: Jurisdictions should have exchange relationships in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners as committed to and that provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the Model CAA.

Determination: In Place

Germany's international legal framework to exchange the information is in place, is consistent with the Model CAA and its Commentary and provides for exchange with all of Germany's Interested Appropriate Partners (i.e. all jurisdictions that are interested in receiving information from Germany and that meet the required standard in relation to confidentiality and data safeguards). (SRs 2.1 – 2.3)

SR 2.1 Jurisdictions should have exchange agreements in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information.

Germany has exchange agreements that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information in effect with all its Interested Appropriate Partners.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.2 Such an exchange agreement should be put in place without undue delay, following the receipt of an expression of interest from an Interested Appropriate Partner.

Germany put in place its exchange agreements without undue delay.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.3 Jurisdictions should ensure that the exchange agreements in effect provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Germany's exchange agreements provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

Comments by the assessed jurisdiction

With regard to the recommendations for SR 1.1, 1.2 and 1.4, Germany will promptly make changes to its regulations and will then apply for a reassessment.

Greece

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place

Greece's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place and is consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. This includes Greece's domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) and its international legal framework to exchange the information with all of Greece's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2).

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Greece commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2017.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged Greece:

- enacted Law 4428/2016, "Ratification of Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement on Automatic Exchange of Financial Account Information and implementing provisions";
- made reference to Law 4174/2013 "Tax Procedure Code and other provisions";
- issued the following Decisions from the Governor of the Independent Authority for Public Revenue: No. 1130/2017 as amended, No. 1133/2017 as amended and No. 1137/2017 as amended;
- issued the Joint Decision No. 1157/2018 of the Governor of the Independent Authority for Public Revenue and the Minister of Finance; and
- made reference to Law 4557/2018, "Prevention and suppression of money laundering and terrorist financing (transposition of Directive 2015/849/EU) and other provisions" for the purposes of the identification of Controlling Persons under the AEOI Standard.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 January 2016. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2016 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2017.

Following the initial Global Forum peer review, Greece made several amendments to its legislative framework to address issues identified, the last of which was effective from 9 July 2018.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Greece:

- Is a Party to the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2017;
- has in place European Directive 2011/16/EU on Administrative Cooperation in the Field of Taxation, as amended by Directive 2014/107/EU; and
- has in place European Union agreements with five European third countries.¹

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for Greece are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

CR1 Domestic legal framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein.

Comments by the assessed jurisdiction

Greece is satisfied with the overall determination of the legal framework by which the Common Reporting Standard is applied as in place. It is our strong commitment to implement the global standard in compliance with the AEOI Terms of Reference and to follow-up with any necessary improvements with a view to enhancing the outcomes of administrative cooperation.

Greenland

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place

Greenland's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place and is consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. This includes Greenland's domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) and its international legal framework to exchange the information with all of Greenland's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2).

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Greenland commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2018.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Greenland enacted the Government of Greenland Executive Order No. 13 of 30 August 2017 on Identification of and Reporting on Foreign Financial Accounts, pursuant to Section 35 of Greenland Landsting's Act No. 11 of 2 November of 2016 on administration of taxes. The Government of Greenland Executive Order No. 13 was later amended through the Government of Greenland Executive Order No. 15 of 24 October 2019.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 January 2016. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 1 August 2017 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2017.

Following the initial Global Forum peer review, Greenland amended its legislative framework to address issues identified, effective from 1 January 2020.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Greenland:

- has the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters in place¹ and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2018; and
- put in place two bilateral agreements.²

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for Greenland are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

CR1 Domestic legal framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein.

Determination: In Place

Greenland's domestic legislative framework is in place and contains all of the key aspects of the CRS and its Commentary requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (SRs 1.1 – 1.3). It also provides for a framework to enforce the requirements (SR 1.4).

SR 1.1 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions consistently with the CRS.

Greenland has defined the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.2 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Financial Accounts and Reportable Accounts consistently with the CRS and incorporate the due diligence procedures to identify them.

Greenland has defined the scope of the Financial Accounts that are required to be reported in its domestic legislative framework and incorporated the due diligence procedures that must be applied to identify them in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.3 Jurisdictions should incorporate the reporting requirements contained in Section I of the CRS into their domestic legislative framework.

Greenland has incorporated the reporting requirements in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.4 Jurisdictions should have a legislative framework in place that allows for the enforcement of the requirements of the CRS in practice.

Greenland has a legislative framework in place to enforce the requirements in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

CR2 International legal framework: Jurisdictions should have exchange relationships in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners as committed to and that provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the Model CAA.

Determination: In Place

Greenland's international legal framework to exchange the information is in place, is consistent with the Model CAA and its Commentary and provides for exchange with all of Greenland's Interested Appropriate

Partners (i.e. all jurisdictions that are interested in receiving information from Greenland and that meet the required standard in relation to confidentiality and data safeguards). (SRs 2.1 – 2.3)

SR 2.1 Jurisdictions should have exchange agreements in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information.

Greenland has exchange agreements that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information in effect with all its Interested Appropriate Partners.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.2 Such an exchange agreement should be put in place without undue delay, following the receipt of an expression of interest from an Interested Appropriate Partner.

Greenland put in place its exchange agreements without undue delay.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.3 Jurisdictions should ensure that the exchange agreements in effect provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Greenland's exchange agreements provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

Grenada

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: Not In Place

Grenada's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is not in place in accordance with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. While Grenada's international legal framework to exchange the information with all of Grenada's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2) is consistent with the requirements, Grenada's domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) has significant deficiencies in areas that are fundamental to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard. More specifically, deficiencies have been identified in Grenada's enforcement framework and in other key areas.

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Grenada commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2018.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Grenada:

- enacted the Mutual Exchange of Information on Taxation Matters Act 24 as amended by Act no.14 of 2017 and the Tax Administration Act; and
- introduced the Mutual Exchange of Information on Tax Matters (Common Reporting Standard) Regulations.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 January 2017. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2017 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2018.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Grenada is a Party to the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2018.

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for Grenada are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

CR1 Domestic legal framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein.

Determination: Not In Place

Grenada's domestic legislative framework is not in place as required as it does not contain several key aspects of the CRS and the Commentary. Most significantly, deficiencies have been identified in relation to the framework to enforce the requirements (SR 1.4), such as the lack of rules to prevent the circumvention of the reporting and due diligence procedures and to impose record keeping requirements, of a framework for enforcement to address non-compliance, and of strong measures to obtain a valid self-certification for New Accounts. Moreover Grenada's domestic legislative framework needs improvement in relation to the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions required to report information (SR 1.1), the due diligence procedures to be applied (SR 1.2) and the information required to be reported (SR 1.3).

SR 1.1 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions consistently with the CRS.

Grenada has defined the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions in its domestic legislative framework in a manner that is largely consistent with the CRS and its Commentary. However, a deficiency has been identified. More specifically, Grenada's domestic legislative framework does not provide for the interpretation of "managed by" in accordance with the requirements. The scope of Reporting Financial Institution is material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

Grenada should amend its domestic legislative framework to incorporate the definition of "managed by" in relation to the definition of Investment Entity.

SR 1.2 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Financial Accounts and Reportable Accounts consistently with the CRS and incorporate the due diligence procedures to identify them.

Grenada has defined the scope of the Financial Accounts that are required to be reported in its domestic legislative framework and incorporated the due diligence procedures that must be applied to identify them in a manner that is largely consistent with the CRS and its Commentary. However, deficiencies have been identified. Most significantly, Grenada's legislative framework does not require Reporting Financial Institutions to always obtain a self-certification from the Account Holder or Controlling Person of a Passive NFE to establish whether the Controlling Person is a Reportable Person. The due diligence procedures are material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

Grenada should amend its domestic legislative framework to specify that, for New Entity Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions may only rely on a self-certification provided by a Passive NFE Account Holder or its Controlling Person to determine whether the Controlling Person is a Reportable Person.

Grenada should amend its domestic legislative framework to require Reportable Accounts to be treated as such from the date they are identified as such.

Grenada should amend its domestic legislative framework to ensure that the responsibility to fulfil the due diligence and reporting obligations remains with Reporting Financial Institutions, even if service providers are used.

Grenada should amend its domestic legislative framework to remove the permission for Financial Institutions to not apply certain procedures with respect to Preexisting Individual Accounts if it is not "reasonably possible".

SR 1.3 Jurisdictions should incorporate the reporting requirements contained in Section I of the CRS into their domestic legislative framework.

Grenada has incorporated the reporting requirements in its domestic legislative framework in a manner that is largely consistent with the CRS and its Commentary. However, deficiencies have been identified. Most significantly, Grenada's legislative framework does not require Reporting Financial Institutions to report the jurisdiction of residence or to use reasonable efforts to obtain the TIN(s) or date of birth of the Account Holder with respect to Preexisting Accounts. The reporting requirements are material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

Grenada should amend its domestic legislative framework to require Reporting Financial Institutions to report the jurisdiction of residence for each Reportable Account.

Grenada should amend its domestic legislative framework to require Reporting Financial Institutions to use reasonable efforts, where they are needed to obtain a TIN or date of birth of a Preexisting Account Holder by the end of the second calendar year following the year in which a Preexisting Account is identified as a Reportable Account.

Grenada should amend its domestic legislative framework to require Reporting Financial Institutions to identify the currency in which each account is denominated.

Grenada should amend its domestic legislative framework to require Reporting Financial Institutions to report the account balance or value if an appropriate period other than a calendar year is used.

SR 1.4 Jurisdictions should have a legislative framework in place that allows for the enforcement of the requirements of the CRS in practice.

Grenada does not have a legislative framework in place to enforce the requirements in a manner that is consistent with the CRS and its Commentary as significant deficiencies have been identified. More specifically, Grenada's legislative framework:

- does not include rules to prevent Financial Institutions, persons or intermediaries from adopting practices intended to circumvent the reporting and due diligence procedures as required;
- does not incorporate rules requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to keep records in accordance with the requirements;
- does not provide for an enforcement framework to address non-compliance in relation to the due diligence procedures; or
- does not incorporate measures to ensure that self-certifications are always obtained and validated for New Accounts as is required, including in the limited circumstances where they may be obtained after account opening.

These are key elements of the required enforcement framework and are therefore material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

Grenada should amend its domestic legislative framework to include rules to prevent Financial Institutions, persons and intermediaries from adopting practices intended to circumvent the reporting and due diligence procedures.

Grenada should amend its domestic legislative framework to require Reporting Financial Institutions to keep records of the steps undertaken and evidence relied on for the performance of the due diligence procedures in accordance with the AEOI Standard.

Grenada should amend its domestic legislative framework to require Reporting Financial Institutions to maintain records for at least five years from the deadline to report the information, in accordance with the AEOI Standard.

Grenada should amend its domestic legislative framework to include sanctions for failure to comply with the due diligence and reporting procedures, rather than being limited to failures leading to incorrect information reporting.

Grenada should amend its domestic legislative framework to include strong measures to ensure that valid self-certifications are always obtained for New Accounts in accordance with the requirements.

CR2 International legal framework: Jurisdictions should have exchange relationships in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners as committed to and that provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the Model CAA.

Determination: In Place

Grenada's international legal framework to exchange the information is in place, is consistent with the Model CAA and its Commentary and provides for exchange with all of Grenada's Interested Appropriate Partners (i.e. all jurisdictions that are interested in receiving information from Grenada and that meet the required standard in relation to confidentiality and data safeguards). (SRs 2.1 – 2.3)

SR 2.1 Jurisdictions should have exchange agreements in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information.

Grenada has exchange agreements that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information in effect with all its Interested Appropriate Partners.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.2 Such an exchange agreement should be put in place without undue delay, following the receipt of an expression of interest from an Interested Appropriate Partner.

Grenada put in place its exchange agreements without undue delay.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.3 Jurisdictions should ensure that the exchange agreements in effect provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Grenada's exchange agreements provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

Guernsey

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place

Guernsey's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place and is consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. This includes Guernsey's domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) and its international legal framework to exchange the information with all of Guernsey's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2).

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Guernsey commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2017.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Guernsey:

- relies on Section 75C(4) and Section 75CC of the Income Tax Law, 1975;
- enacted The Income Tax (Approved International Agreements) (Implementation) (Common Reporting Standard) Regulations, 2015 (known as "the 2015 Regulations"), that was later amended in 2020 (known as "the 2020 amending Regulations"); and
- issued further guidance, which is not legally binding.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 January 2016. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2016 and Lower Value Individual Accounts and on Entity Accounts by 31 December 2017.

Following the initial Global Forum peer review, Guernsey amended its legislative framework to address issues identified, effective from 12 May 2020.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Guernsey:

- has the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters in place¹ and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2017; and
- put in place nine bilateral agreements.²

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for Guernsey are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

CR1 Domestic legal framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein.

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place

Hong Kong's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place and is consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. This includes Hong Kong's domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) and its international legal framework to exchange the information with all of Hong Kong's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2).

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Hong Kong commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2018.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Hong Kong:

- amended the Inland Revenue Ordinance (Cap. 112) by inserting new provisions implementing the CRS and its Commentary; and
- issued further guidance, which is admissible in evidence before a court though is not legally binding.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 January 2017. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2017 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2018.

Following the initial Global Forum peer review, Hong Kong made various amendments to its legislative framework to address issues identified, the last of which will be effective from 1 January 2021.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Hong Kong:

- has the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters in place¹ and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2018; and
- put in place 15 bilateral agreements under which exchanges started in 2018² and 2019³.

Hungary

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place But Needs Improvement

Hungary's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place but needs improvement in order to be fully consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. While Hungary's international legal framework to exchange the information with all of Hungary's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2) is consistent with the requirements, its domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures has deficiencies significant to the proper functioning of elements of the AEOI Standard. More specifically, deficiencies have been identified in relation to the scope of Financial Accounts and the due diligence procedures to identify them and the enforcement framework.

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Hungary commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2017.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Hungary:

- enacted Act CXC of 2015 on the publication of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement on Automatic Exchange of Financial Account Information and Annexes 1 and 2, and Section V/B of the Act XXXVII of 2013 on the international administrative cooperation in tax matters;
- issued further guidance, which is not legally binding; and
- made reference to Act LIII of 2017 Preventing and Combating Money Laundering and Terrorist Financing implementing the FATF Recommendations for the purposes of the identification of Controlling Persons under the AEOI Standard.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 January 2016. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2016 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2017.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Hungary:

- is a Party to the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2017;
- has in place European Directive 2011/16/EU on Administrative Cooperation in the Field of Taxation as amended by Directive 2014/107/EU; and
- has in place European Union agreements with five European third countries.¹

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for Hungary are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

CR1 Domestic legal framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein.

Determination: In Place But Needs Improvement
--

Hungary's domestic legislative framework is in place and contains many of the key aspects of the CRS and its Commentary requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures, but it needs improvement in several areas relating to the scope of Financial Accounts required to be reported and the due diligence procedures to identify them (SR 1.2) and the framework to enforce the requirements (SR 1.4).

SR 1.1 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions consistently with the CRS.

Hungary has defined the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.2 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Financial Accounts and Reportable Accounts consistently with the CRS and incorporate the due diligence procedures to identify them.

Hungary has defined the scope of the Financial Accounts that are required to be reported in its domestic legislative framework and incorporated the due diligence procedures that must be applied to identify them in a manner that is largely consistent with the CRS and its Commentary. However, deficiencies have been identified. More specifically, Hungary's domestic legislative framework:

- provides for four jurisdiction-specific Excluded Accounts that are not in accordance with the requirements.
- does not explicitly require Reporting Financial Institutions to use a "current" residence address for the purposes of the residence address test; and
- does not provide for the full required procedures when there is a change of circumstances with respect to New Entity Accounts.

The deficiencies relate to key elements of the AEOI Standard and are therefore material to its proper functioning.

Recommendations:

Hungary should amend its domestic legislative framework to remove four entries from its jurisdiction-specific list of Excluded Accounts as they do not meet the requirements. They are: i) Stability Saving Accounts; ii) Pension savings accounts; iii) Deposit accounts held by public notaries and advocates; and iv) Treasury Start Security Accounts (Start Accounts).

Hungary should amend its domestic legislative framework to require Reporting Financial Institutions to use only a "current" residence address when applying the residence address test.

Hungary should amend its domestic legislative framework to require Reporting Financial Institutions to apply all of the specific procedures if there is a change of circumstance in relation to a New Entity Account.

Hungary should amend its domestic legislative framework to require Reporting Financial Institution to apply all of the specified procedures if there is a change of circumstance in relation to a Preexisting Entity Account.

SR 1.3 Jurisdictions should incorporate the reporting requirements contained in Section I of the CRS into their domestic legislative framework.

Hungary has incorporated the reporting requirements in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.4 Jurisdictions should have a legislative framework in place that allows for the enforcement of the requirements of the CRS in practice.

Hungary has a legislative framework in place to enforce the requirements in a manner that is largely consistent with the CRS and its Commentary. However, a deficiency has been identified. More specifically, Hungary's legislative framework does not require Reporting Financial Institutions to keep records for the duration of time required. This is a key element of the required enforcement framework and is therefore material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

Hungary should amend its domestic legislative framework to require Reporting Financial Institutions to maintain records for at least five years from the deadline to report the information, in accordance with the AEOI Standard.

CR2 International legal framework: Jurisdictions should have exchange relationships in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners as committed to and that provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the Model CAA.

Determination: In Place

Hungary's international legal framework to exchange the information is in place, is consistent with the Model CAA and its Commentary and provides for exchange with all of Hungary's Interested Appropriate Partners (i.e. all jurisdictions that are interested in receiving information from Hungary and that meet the required standard in relation to confidentiality and data safeguards). (SRs 2.1 – 2.3)

SR 2.1 Jurisdictions should have exchange agreements in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information.

Hungary has exchange agreements that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information in effect with all its Interested Appropriate Partners.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.2 Such an exchange agreement should be put in place without undue delay, following the receipt of an expression of interest from an Interested Appropriate Partner.

Hungary put in place its exchange agreements without undue delay.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.3 Jurisdictions should ensure that the exchange agreements in effect provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Hungary's exchange agreements provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

Comments by the assessed jurisdiction

Hungary expresses its thanks and gratitude to the assessment team and to the Secretariat for the preparation of this report, for their availability and for the constructive collaboration throughout this review. Hungary takes due note of the findings of the report and the recommendations made and will examine them carefully, with the aim of further improving its legal framework in the area of automatic exchange of information.

Iceland

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place

Iceland's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place and is consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. This includes Iceland's domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) and its international legal framework to exchange the information with all of Iceland's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2).

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Iceland commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2017.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Iceland:

- enacted Paragraphs 6 and 8 of Art. 92 in the Income Tax Law no. 90/2003;
- introduced Regulation No. 1240/2015 as amended by Regulations No. 206/2016, No. 1231/2016, No. 940/2017 and No. 557/2019;
- issued further guidance, which is legally binding; and
- made reference to the Act on Measures Against Money Laundering and Terrorist Financing No. 140/2018 implementing the FATF Recommendations for the purposes of the identification of Controlling Persons under the AEOI Standard.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 January 2016. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2016 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2017.

Following the initial Global Forum peer review, Iceland made various amendments to its legislative framework to address issues identified, the last of which was effective from 28 May 2019.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Iceland:

- is a Party to the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2017; and
- put in place a bilateral agreement.¹

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for Iceland are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

CR1 Domestic legal framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein.

Determination: In Place

Iceland's domestic legislative framework is in place and contains all of the key aspects of the CRS and its Commentary requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (SRs 1.1 – 1.3). It also provides for a framework to enforce the requirements (SR 1.4).

SR 1.1 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions consistently with the CRS.

Iceland has defined the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.2 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Financial Accounts and Reportable Accounts consistently with the CRS and incorporate the due diligence procedures to identify them.

Iceland has defined the scope of the Financial Accounts that are required to be reported in its domestic legislative framework and incorporated the due diligence procedures that must be applied to identify them in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.3 Jurisdictions should incorporate the reporting requirements contained in Section I of the CRS into their domestic legislative framework.

Iceland has incorporated the reporting requirements in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.4 Jurisdictions should have a legislative framework in place that allows for the enforcement of the requirements of the CRS in practice.

Iceland has a legislative framework in place to enforce the requirements in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

CR2 International legal framework: Jurisdictions should have exchange relationships in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners as committed to and that provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the Model CAA.

Determination: In Place

Iceland's international legal framework to exchange the information is in place, is consistent with the Model CAA and its Commentary and provides for exchange with all of Iceland's Interested Appropriate Partners

(i.e. all jurisdictions that are interested in receiving information from Iceland and that meet the required standard in relation to confidentiality and data safeguards). (SRs 2.1 – 2.3)

SR 2.1 Jurisdictions should have exchange agreements in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information.

Iceland has exchange agreements that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information in effect with all its Interested Appropriate Partners.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.2 Such an exchange agreement should be put in place without undue delay, following the receipt of an expression of interest from an Interested Appropriate Partner.

Iceland put in place its exchange agreements without undue delay.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.3 Jurisdictions should ensure that the exchange agreements in effect provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Iceland's exchange agreements provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

India

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place But Needs Improvement

India's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place but needs improvement in order to be fully consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. While India's international legal framework to exchange the information with all of India's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2) is consistent with the requirements, its domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) has deficiencies in areas significant to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard. More specifically, India's legislative framework provides for several categories of jurisdiction-specific Non-Reporting Financial Institutions that do not meet the requirements of the AEOI Standard.

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

India commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2017.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, India:

- enacted Section 285BA of the Income-tax Act 1961 and Rules 114F to 114H of the Income-tax Rules, 1962;
- issued further guidance, which was amended on 30 July 2020 and is legally binding; and
- made reference to the Prevention of Money-laundering (Maintenance of Records) Rules, 2005 for the purposes of the identification of Controlling Persons under the AEOI Standard.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 January 2016. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2016 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 30 June 2017.

Following the initial Global Forum peer review, India amended its legislative framework to address issues identified, effective from 30 July 2020.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, India is a Party to the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2017.

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for India are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

CR1 Domestic legal framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein.

Determination: In Place But Needs Improvement
--

India's domestic legislative framework is in place and contains many of the key aspects of the CRS and its Commentary requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures but it needs improvement in relation to the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions required to report information (SR 1.1). More specifically, India provides for six categories of jurisdiction-specific Non-Reporting Financial Institutions that are not in line with the requirements.

SR 1.1 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions consistently with the CRS.

India has defined the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions in its domestic legislative framework in a manner that is largely consistent with the CRS and its Commentary. However, deficiencies have been identified. Most significantly, India has provided for four categories of jurisdiction-specific Non-Reporting Financial Institution that do not correspond to any of the categories of Non-Reporting Financial Institutions foreseen in the AEOI Standard. The definition of Reporting Financial Institutions, including the provision of Non-Reporting Financial Institutions, is material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

India should amend its domestic legislative framework to remove four categories from its jurisdiction-specific list of Non-Reporting Financial Institutions as they do not correspond to any of the categories of Non-Reporting Financial Institution foreseen in the AEOI Standard. The entries are: i) Financial Institutions with Low Value Accounts; ii) Local Banks; iii) Treaty Qualified Retirement Funds and iv) Financial Institutions with a local client base.

India should amend its domestic legislative framework to remove two further categories from its jurisdiction-specific list of Non-Reporting Financial Institutions as they are Non-Financial Entities and should therefore be treated as such under the AEOI Standard. The categories are: (i) the Gratuity Fund and (ii) the Non-Public Fund of the Armed Forces.

SR 1.2 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Financial Accounts and Reportable Accounts consistently with the CRS and incorporate the due diligence procedures to identify them.

India has defined the scope of the Financial Accounts that are required to be reported in its domestic legislative framework and incorporated the due diligence procedures that must be applied to identify them in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.3 Jurisdictions should incorporate the reporting requirements contained in Section I of the CRS into their domestic legislative framework.

India has incorporated the reporting requirements in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.4 Jurisdictions should have a legislative framework in place that allows for the enforcement of the requirements of the CRS in practice.

India has a legislative framework in place to enforce the requirements in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

CR2 International legal framework: Jurisdictions should have exchange relationships in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners as committed to and that provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the Model CAA.

Determination: In Place

India's international legal framework to exchange the information is in place, is consistent with the Model CAA and its Commentary and provides for exchange with all of India's Interested Appropriate Partners (i.e. all jurisdictions that are interested in receiving information from India and that meet the required standard in relation to confidentiality and data safeguards). (SRs 2.1 – 2.3)

SR 2.1 Jurisdictions should have exchange agreements in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information.

India has exchange agreements that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information in effect with all its Interested Appropriate Partners.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.2 Such an exchange agreement should be put in place without undue delay, following the receipt of an expression of interest from an Interested Appropriate Partner.

India put in place its exchange agreements without undue delay.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.3 Jurisdictions should ensure that the exchange agreements in effect provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

India's exchange agreements provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place

Indonesia's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place and is consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. This includes Indonesia's domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) and its international legal framework to exchange the information with all of Indonesia's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2).

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Indonesia commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2018.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Indonesia:

- enacted Law Number 9 of 2017 on Enactment of Government Regulation in Lieu of Law of The Republic of Indonesia, Number 1 of 2017 on Access to Financial Information for Tax Purposes to Become Law; and
- Introduced the Regulation of the Minister of Finance Number 70/PMK.03/2017 as most recently amended by Regulation of the Minister of Finance Number 19/PMK.03/2018 on Technical Guidance on Access to Financial Information for Tax Purposes.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 July 2017. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2017 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2018.

Following the initial Global Forum peer review, Indonesia amended its legislative framework to address issues identified, effective from 19 February 2019.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Indonesia:

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Ireland commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2017.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Ireland:

- amended Chapter 3 of Part 38 of the Taxes Consolidation Act, 1997 through Section 28 of the Finance Act 2014, to insert a new section 891F into the Taxes Consolidation Act, 1997;
- enacted Statutory Instrument No. 583 of 2015 and Statutory Instrument No. 560 of 2016 (European Union (Anti-Money Laundering: Beneficial Ownership of Corporate Entities) Regulations 2016);
- issued further guidance, which is not legally binding; and
- made reference to the Criminal Justice (Money Laundering and Terrorist Financing)(Amendment) Act, 2018 implementing the FATF Recommendations for the purposes of the identification of Controlling Persons under the AEOI Standard.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 January 2016. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2016 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2017.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Ireland:

- is a Party to the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2017;
- has in place European Directive 2011/16/EU on Administrative Cooperation in the Field of Taxation as amended by Directive 2014/107/EU;

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place

The Isle of Man's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place and is consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. This includes the Isle of Man's domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) and its international legal framework to exchange the information with all of the Isle of Man's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2).

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

The Isle of Man commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2017.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, the Isle of Man:

- issued Income Tax (Common Reporting Standard) Regulations in 2015, amended in 2017 and 2019; and
- introduced further guidance, last updated in December 2017, which is not legally binding.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 January 2016. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2016 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2017.

Following the initial Global Forum peer review, the Isle of Man made various amendments to its legislative framework to address issues identified, the last of which was effective from 21 March 2019.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, the Isle of Man:

- has the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters in place¹ and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2017; and
- put in place nine bilateral agreements.²

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for the Isle of Man are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

Israel

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: Not In Place

Israel's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is not in place in accordance with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. While Israel's international legal framework to exchange the information with all of Israel's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2) is consistent with the requirements, the domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) has significant deficiencies in areas that are fundamental to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard. More specifically, the deficiencies relate to the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions, the scope of Financial Accounts and the due diligence procedures to identify Reportable Accounts, and to the enforcement framework.

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Israel committed to commence exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2018. Due to delays in putting in place the necessary domestic legal framework, Israel commenced exchanges in 2019 and, where possible, also exchanged the information that was due to be exchanged in 2018.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Israel:

- amended the Tax Ordinance; and
- issued the Income Tax Regulations (Implementation of the Common Standard on Reporting and Due Diligence for Financial Account information) in 2019.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 April 2019. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2019 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2020.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Israel is a Party to the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2019.

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for Israel are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

CR1 Domestic legal framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein.

Determination: Not In Place

Israel's domestic legislative framework is not in place as required as it does not contain several key aspects of the CRS and the Commentary. Significant deficiencies have been identified relating to the scope of Financial Accounts and the due diligence procedures to identify Reportable Accounts (SR 1.2) and the framework to enforce the requirements (SR 1.4). Furthermore, Israel provides for several jurisdiction-specific Non-Reporting Financial Institutions (SR 1.1) that do not meet the requirements of the AEOI Standard.

SR 1.1 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions consistently with the CRS.

Israel has defined the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions in its domestic legislative framework in a manner that is largely consistent with the CRS and its Commentary. However, deficiencies have been identified. More specifically, Israel provides for two jurisdiction-specific Non-Reporting Financial Institutions that are not in accordance with the requirements. The definition of Reporting Financial Institutions, including the provision of Non-Reporting Financial Institutions, is material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

Israel should amend its domestic legislative framework to remove two entries from its jurisdiction-specific list of categories of Non-Reporting Financial Institutions as they do not meet the requirements. The entries are: i) provident funds; and ii) small financial institutions.

SR 1.2 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Financial Accounts and Reportable Accounts consistently with the CRS and incorporate the due diligence procedures to identify them.

Israel has not defined the scope of the Financial Accounts that are required to be reported in its domestic legislative framework in a manner that is consistent with the CRS and its Commentary and has not incorporated the due diligence procedures that must be applied to identify them correctly as significant deficiencies have been identified. More specifically, the exclusion of certain equity and debt interests from the definition of Financial Account is not in accordance with the AEOI Standard. Furthermore, Israel provides for several jurisdiction-specific Excluded Accounts that are not in accordance with the requirements. The scope of Financial Accounts and the due diligence procedures to identify them are material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

Israel should amend its domestic legislative framework to include all of the required categories of Equity or debt interest in the definition of Financial Account in accordance with the AEOI Standard.

Israel should amend its domestic legislative framework to define the term Active NFE in accordance with the AEOI Standard.

Israel should amend its domestic legislative framework to remove five entries from its jurisdiction-specific list of categories of Excluded Accounts as they do not meet the requirements. The entries are: i) undefined group of beneficiary accounts; ii) study fund accounts for employees; iii) study fund accounts for the self-employed; iv) escrow accounts maintained by lawyers, rabbinical pleaders or accountants; and v) dormant accounts.

SR 1.3 Jurisdictions should incorporate the reporting requirements contained in Section I of the CRS into their domestic legislative framework.

Israel has incorporated the reporting requirements in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.4 Jurisdictions should have a legislative framework in place that allows for the enforcement of the requirements of the CRS in practice.

Israel does not have a legislative framework in place to enforce the requirements in a manner that is consistent with the CRS and its Commentary as significant deficiencies have been identified. More specifically, Israel's legislative framework:

- does not contain rules to prevent Financial Institutions, persons or intermediaries from adopting practices intended to circumvent the reporting and due diligence procedures as required;
- does not contain provisions imposing sanctions on Account Holders and Controlling Persons for the provision of a false self-certification; and
- does not include rules requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to keep records in accordance with the requirements.

These are key elements of the required enforcement framework and are therefore material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

Israel should amend its domestic legislative framework to include rules to prevent Financial Institutions, persons and intermediaries from adopting practices intended to circumvent the due diligence and reporting procedures.

Israel should amend its domestic legislative framework to include sanctions on Account Holders and Controlling Persons for the provision of a false self-certification.

Israel should amend its domestic legislative framework to require all Reporting Financial Institutions to keep all of the records required to be maintained, rather than relying only on the requirements contained in the AML framework.

Israel should amend its domestic legislative framework to require Reporting Financial Institutions to maintain records for at least five years from the deadline to report the information, in accordance with the AEOI Standard.

Italy

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place

Italy's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place and is consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. This includes Italy's domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) and its international legal framework to exchange the information with all of Italy's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2).

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Italy commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2017.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Italy:

- enacted the Law of 18 June 2015, n. 95 (Legge 18 giugno 2015, n. 95);
- introduced the Ministerial Decree of 28 December 2015 (DM 28-12-2015); and
- issued guidance, which is not legally binding.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 January 2016. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2016 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2017.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Italy:

- is a Party to the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2017;
- has in place European Directive 2011/16/EU on Administrative Cooperation in the Field of Taxation as amended by Directive 2014/107/EU;
- has in place European Union agreements with five European third countries¹; and
- has in place two bilateral agreements.²

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for Italy are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

CR1 Domestic legal framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein.

Determination: In Place

Italy's domestic legislative framework is in place and contains all of the key aspects of the CRS and its Commentary requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (SRs 1.1 – 1.3). It also provides for a framework to enforce the requirements (SR 1.4).

SR 1.1 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions consistently with the CRS.

Italy has defined the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.2 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Financial Accounts and Reportable Accounts consistently with the CRS and incorporate the due diligence procedures to identify them.

Italy has defined the scope of the Financial Accounts that are required to be reported in its domestic legislative framework and incorporated the due diligence procedures that must be applied to identify them in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.3 Jurisdictions should incorporate the reporting requirements contained in Section I of the CRS into their domestic legislative framework.

Italy has incorporated the reporting requirements in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.4 Jurisdictions should have a legislative framework in place that allows for the enforcement of the requirements of the CRS in practice.

Italy has a legislative framework in place to enforce the requirements in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

CR2 International legal framework: Jurisdictions should have exchange relationships in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners as committed to and that provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the Model CAA.

Determination: In Place

Italy's international legal framework to exchange the information is in place, is consistent with the Model CAA and its Commentary and provides for exchange with all of Italy's Interested Appropriate Partners (i.e.

all jurisdictions that are interested in receiving information from Italy and that meet the required standard in relation to confidentiality and data safeguards). (SRs 2.1 – 2.3)

SR 2.1 Jurisdictions should have exchange agreements in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information.

Italy has exchange agreements that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information in effect with all its Interested Appropriate Partners.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.2 Such an exchange agreement should be put in place without undue delay, following the receipt of an expression of interest from an Interested Appropriate Partner.

Italy put in place its exchange agreements without undue delay.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.3 Jurisdictions should ensure that the exchange agreements in effect provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Italy's exchange agreements provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Japan

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place But Needs Improvement

Japan's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place but needs improvement in order to be fully consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. While Japan's international legal framework to exchange the information with all of Japan's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2) is consistent with the requirements, its domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) has deficiencies significant to the proper functioning of elements of the AEOI Standard. More specifically, Japan's legislative framework is deficient as far as the definition and identification process for Controlling Persons is concerned.

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Japan commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2018.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Japan:

- enacted the Act on Special Provisions of the Income Tax Act, the Corporation Tax Act and the Local Tax Act Incidental to Enforcement of Tax Treaties (CRS Act), as amended;
- introduced the Order for the Enforcement of the Act on Special Provisions of the Income Tax Act, the Corporation Tax Act and the Local Tax Act Incidental to Enforcement of Tax Treaties (CRS Order), as amended;
- introduced the Ordinance for the Enforcement of the Act on Special Provisions of the Income Tax Act, the Corporation Tax Act and the Local Tax Act Incidental to Enforcement of Tax Treaties (CRS Ordinance), as amended; and
- made reference to the Order for Enforcement of the Act on Prevention of Transfer of Criminal Proceeds as well as the Ordinance for Enforcement of the Act on Prevention of Transfer of Criminal Proceeds for the purposes of implementing the FATF Recommendations for the purposes of the identification of Controlling Persons under the AEOI Standard.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 January 2017. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2017 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2018.

Following the initial Global Forum peer review, Japan amended its legislative framework to address issues identified, effective from 1 April 2020.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Japan:

- is a Party to the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2018; and

- put in place two bilateral agreements.¹

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for Japan are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

CR1 Domestic legal framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein.

Determination: In Place But Needs Improvement
--

Japan's domestic legislative framework is in place and contains most of the key aspects of the CRS and its Commentary requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures, but it needs improvement in relation to the scope of Financial Accounts required to be reported (SR 1.2). More specifically, Japan's legislative framework does not fully incorporate the definitions and processes related to the identification of Controlling Persons of trusts and similar legal arrangements.

SR 1.1 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions consistently with the CRS.

Japan has defined the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.2 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Financial Accounts and Reportable Accounts consistently with the CRS and incorporate the due diligence procedures to identify them.

Japan has defined the scope of the Financial Accounts that are required to be reported in its domestic legislative framework and incorporated the due diligence procedures that must be applied to identify them in a manner that is largely consistent with the CRS and its Commentary. However, deficiencies have been identified. More specifically, Japan's legislative framework does not fully incorporate the definition of Controlling Persons as required and does not fully incorporate the due diligence procedures to identify Controlling Persons. The definition and identification of Controlling Persons is material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

Japan should amend its domestic legislative framework to require Reporting Financial Institutions to always identify and determine the reportable status of the Controlling Persons of trusts and similar legal arrangements in accordance with the AEOI Standard.

Japan should amend its domestic legislative framework to fully incorporate the definition of Controlling Persons in accordance with the AEOI Standard by including all natural persons required to be identified with respect to trusts and similar legal arrangements.

SR 1.3 Jurisdictions should incorporate the reporting requirements contained in Section I of the CRS into their domestic legislative framework.

Japan has incorporated the reporting requirements in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.4 Jurisdictions should have a legislative framework in place that allows for the enforcement of the requirements of the CRS in practice.

Japan has a legislative framework in place to enforce the requirements in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

CR2 International legal framework: Jurisdictions should have exchange relationships in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners as committed to and that provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the Model CAA.

Determination: In Place

Japan's international legal framework to exchange the information is in place, is consistent with the Model CAA and its Commentary and provides for exchange with all of Japan's Interested Appropriate Partners (i.e. all jurisdictions that are interested in receiving information from Japan and that meet the required standard in relation to confidentiality and data safeguards). (SRs 2.1 – 2.3)

SR 2.1 Jurisdictions should have exchange agreements in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information.

Japan has exchange agreements that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information in effect with all its Interested Appropriate Partners.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.2 Such an exchange agreement should be put in place without undue delay, following the receipt of an expression of interest from an Interested Appropriate Partner.

Japan put in place its exchange agreements without undue delay.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.3 Jurisdictions should ensure that the exchange agreements in effect provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Japan's exchange agreements provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

Comments by the assessed jurisdiction

Japan would like to extend its sincere appreciation to the assessment team for their dedicated work and professionalism throughout the peer review process. Japan will work on the implementation of the recommendations indicated in the report taking account of further contributions toward enhancing international tax transparency.

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place

Jersey's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place and is consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. This includes Jersey's domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) and its international legal framework to exchange the information with all of Jersey's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2).

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Jersey commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2017.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Jersey:

- relies on the Taxation (Implementation) (Jersey) Law 2004;
- introduced the Taxation (Implementation) (International Tax Compliance) (Common Reporting Standard) (Jersey) Regulations in 2015; and
- issued further guidance, which is not legally binding.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 January 2016. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2016 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2017.

Following the initial Global Forum peer review, Jersey made various amendments to its legislative framework to address issues identified, the last of which was effective from 17 October 2017.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Jersey:

- has the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters in place¹ and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2017; and
- put in place three bilateral agreements.²

Latvia

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place But Needs Improvement

Latvia's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place but needs improvement in order to be fully consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. While Latvia's international legal framework to exchange the information with all of Latvia's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2) is consistent with the requirements, its domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) has deficiencies significant to the proper functioning of elements of the AEOI Standard. More specifically, deficiencies have been identified in Latvia's enforcement framework.

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Latvia commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2017.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Latvia:

- amended the Law "On Taxes and Duties"; and
- introduced Regulation No. 20 "Procedures by which a Financial Institution Implements the Due Diligence Procedures for Financial Accounts and Provides Financial Accounts Information to the State Revenue Service".

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 January 2016. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2016 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2017.

Following the initial Global Forum peer review, Latvia made amendments to its legislative framework to address issues identified, the last of which was effective from 19 March 2020.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Latvia:

- is a Party to the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2017;
- has in place European Union Directive 2011/16/EU on Administrative Cooperation in the Field of Taxation, as amended by Directive 2014/107/EU;
- has in place agreements with five European third countries¹; and
- put in place three bilateral agreements.²

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for Latvia are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

CR1 Domestic legal framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein.

Determination: In Place But Needs Improvement
--

Latvia's domestic legislative framework is in place and contains most of the key aspects of the CRS and its Commentary requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures, but it needs improvement in relation to the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions (SR 1.1) and the framework to enforce the requirements (SR 1.4). Most significantly, Latvia's domestic legislative framework does not incorporate sanctions on Account Holders and Controlling Persons for the provision of false self-certifications and does not include strong measures to ensure that valid self-certifications are obtained for New Accounts.

SR 1.1 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions consistently with the CRS.

Latvia has defined the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions in its domestic legislative framework in a manner that is largely consistent with the CRS and its Commentary. However, deficiencies have been identified. More specifically, the definition of Investment Entity and the definition of the term "managed by" are not in accordance with the requirements. The scope of Reporting Financial Institutions is material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

Latvia should amend its domestic legislative framework to include the definition of "managed by" in relation to the definition of Investment Entity.

Latvia should amend its domestic legislative framework to require the term Investment Entity to be interpreted consistently with similar language defining "financial institution" in the Financial Action Task Force Recommendations.

SR 1.2 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Financial Accounts and Reportable Accounts consistently with the CRS and incorporate the due diligence procedures to identify them.

Latvia has defined the scope of the Financial Accounts that are required to be reported in its domestic legislative framework and incorporated the due diligence procedures that must be applied to identify them in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.3 Jurisdictions should incorporate the reporting requirements contained in Section I of the CRS into their domestic legislative framework.

Latvia has incorporated the reporting requirements in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.4 Jurisdictions should have a legislative framework in place that allows for the enforcement of the requirements of the CRS in practice.

Latvia has a legislative framework in place to enforce the requirements in a manner that is largely consistent with the CRS and its Commentary. However, deficiencies have been identified. More specifically, Latvia's legislative framework:

- does not impose sanctions on Account Holders and Controlling Persons for the provision of a false self-certification; and
- does not incorporate measures to ensure that self-certifications are always obtained and validated for New Accounts as is required.

The deficiencies relate to key elements of the AEOI Standard and are therefore material to its proper functioning.

Recommendations:

Latvia should amend its domestic legislative framework to include sanctions on Account Holders and Controlling Persons for the provision of a false self-certification.

Latvia should amend its domestic legislative framework to include strong measures to ensure that valid self-certifications are always obtained for New Accounts in accordance with the requirements.

CR2 International legal framework: Jurisdictions should have exchange relationships in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners as committed to and that provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the Model CAA.

Determination: In Place

Latvia's international legal framework to exchange the information is in place, is consistent with the Model CAA and its Commentary and provides for exchange with all of Latvia's Interested Appropriate Partners (i.e. all jurisdictions that are interested in receiving information from Latvia and that meet the required standard in relation to confidentiality and data safeguards). (SRs 2.1 – 2.3)

SR 2.1 Jurisdictions should have exchange agreements in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information.

Latvia has exchange agreements that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information in effect with all its Interested Appropriate Partners.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.2 Such an exchange agreement should be put in place without undue delay, following the receipt of an expression of interest from an Interested Appropriate Partner.

Latvia put in place its exchange agreements without undue delay.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.3 Jurisdictions should ensure that the exchange agreements in effect provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Latvia's exchange agreements provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

Comments by the assessed jurisdiction

In general, Latvia agrees with the findings of this report as they comply with the findings of the Checklist "Assessment of the domestic legislative framework implementing the AEOI Standard". However, we are in a position that our legislation provides the sanctions on Account Holders and Controlling Persons for the provision of false self-certification. These sanctions are a part of the Latvian anti-money laundering legislation, and we believe they are also applicable for the AEOI Standard. When addressing the recommendation put in the Checklist and this report, we will carry out consultations with the responsible institutions, providing a more detailed analysis on this issue and finding the optimal solution compatible with our legal system.

This includes Lebanon's domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) and its international legal framework to exchange the information with all of Lebanon's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2).

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Lebanon commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2018.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Lebanon:

- enacted Law 55 of 27 October 2016; and
- introduced Decree 1022 of 7 July 2017, Central Bank Decision 12625 of 21 July 2017 and the Decision of the Minister of Finance 1248 of 6 December 2017.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 July 2017. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2017 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2018.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Lebanon is a Party to the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2018.

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for Lebanon are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

Liechtenstein

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place But Needs Improvement

Liechtenstein's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place but needs improvement in order to be fully consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. While Liechtenstein's international legal framework to exchange the information with all of Liechtenstein's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2) is consistent with the requirements, its domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) has a deficiency in an area significant to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard. More specifically, Liechtenstein's legal framework extends the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions to some Passive Non-Financial Entities, which is not in accordance with the AEOI Standard.

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Liechtenstein commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2017.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Liechtenstein:

- enacted the Act on international automatic exchange of information in tax matters (AEOI Act), National Gazette 2015, No. 355, as amended in 2017 and 2018;
- introduced the Ordinance on international automatic exchange of information in tax matters (AEOI Ordinance), National Gazette 2015, No. 358, as amended in 2016; and
- issued further guidance, which is legally binding.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 January 2016. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2016 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2017.

Following the initial Global Forum peer review, Liechtenstein made various amendments to its legislative framework to address issues identified, the last of which was effective from 1 January 2019.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Liechtenstein:

- is a Party to the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2017; and
- has in place an agreement with the European Union.

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for Liechtenstein are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

CR1 Domestic legal framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein.

Determination: In Place But Needs Improvement
--

Liechtenstein's domestic legislative framework is in place and contains most of the key aspects of the CRS and its Commentary requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures, but it needs improvement in one area relating to the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions required to report information (SR 1.1). More specifically, Liechtenstein domestic legislative framework allows Passive Non-Financial Entities to classify themselves as Reporting Financial Institutions, which is not in accordance with the requirements.

SR 1.1 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions consistently with the CRS.

Liechtenstein has defined the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions in its domestic legislative framework in a manner that is largely consistent with the CRS and its Commentary. However, a deficiency has been identified. More specifically, Liechtenstein's legislative framework allows Passive Non-Financial Entities to classify themselves as Reporting Financial Institutions. The scope of Reporting Financial Institutions, as distinct from Passive Non-Financial Entities, is material to the proper functioning of AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

Liechtenstein should amend its domestic legislative framework to remove the permission for Liechtenstein-based Passive Non-Financial Entities to classify themselves as an Investment Entity.

SR 1.2 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Financial Accounts and Reportable Accounts consistently with the CRS and incorporate the due diligence procedures to identify them.

Liechtenstein has defined the scope of the Financial Accounts that are required to be reported in its domestic legislative framework and incorporated the due diligence procedures that must be applied to identify them in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.3 Jurisdictions should incorporate the reporting requirements contained in Section I of the CRS into their domestic legislative framework.

Liechtenstein has incorporated the reporting requirements in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.4 Jurisdictions should have a legislative framework in place that allows for the enforcement of the requirements of the CRS in practice.

Liechtenstein has a legislative framework in place to enforce the requirements in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

CR2 International legal framework: Jurisdictions should have exchange relationships in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners as committed to and that provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the Model CAA.

Determination: In Place

Liechtenstein's international legal framework to exchange the information is in place, is consistent with the Model CAA and its Commentary and provides for exchange with all of Liechtenstein's Interested Appropriate Partners (i.e. all jurisdictions that are interested in receiving information from Liechtenstein and that meet the required standard in relation to confidentiality and data safeguards). (SRs 2.1 – 2.3)

SR 2.1 Jurisdictions should have exchange agreements in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information.

Liechtenstein has exchange agreements that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information in effect with all its Interested Appropriate Partners.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.2 Such an exchange agreement should be put in place without undue delay, following the receipt of an expression of interest from an Interested Appropriate Partner.

Liechtenstein put in place its exchange agreements without undue delay.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.3 Jurisdictions should ensure that the exchange agreements in effect provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Liechtenstein's exchange agreements provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

Comments by the assessed jurisdiction

In order to address the Recommendation under SR 1.1, the Liechtenstein Government in its meeting of 14 July 2020 approved a draft bill according to which the voluntary classification permission will be repealed with effect from 1 January 2021. The provision to voluntarily classify as Investment Entity will no longer be included in the law and the classification requirements will be aligned with the Standard.

The first reading of the bill in Parliament took place on 3 September 2020 and Members of Parliament did not challenge the repeal of the provision rather it was acknowledged that the provision should be deleted. The second and final reading was on 6 November 2020. The amendment was approved unanimously.

In line with the document [CTPA/GFTEI/2019/6] Drawing Conclusions on the Legal Frameworks Implementing the AEOI Standard the point where the bill is approved and no longer subject to change is reached. Liechtenstein has therefore requested a review of this recommendation and will request an amendment of the finding and determination in CR 1 and the overall determination to “In Place”.

Lithuania

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place

Lithuania's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place and is consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. This includes Lithuania's domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) and its international legal framework to exchange the information with all of Lithuania's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2).

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Lithuania commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2017.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Lithuania:

- enacted Article 61-¹ of the Law on Tax Administration, Resolution No. 1017 of 23 September 2015 and Article 198-¹ of the Code of Administrative Offences;
- introduced the Rules for the Provision of Information Necessary for Implementation of the International Cooperation Obligations Concerning Automatic Exchange of Financial Account Information;
- introduced Article 198-¹ of the Code of Administrative Offences of 3 December 2019; and
- issued further guidance, which is legally binding.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 January 2016. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2016 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2017.

Following the initial Global Forum peer review, Lithuania amended its legislative framework to address issues identified, effective from 10 September 2020.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Lithuania:

- is a Party to the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2017;
- has in place the European Directive 2011/16/EU on Administrative Cooperation in the Field of Taxation as amended by Directive 2014/107/EU;
- has in place European Union agreements with five European third countries;¹ and
- put in place a bilateral agreement.²

Macau (China)

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: Not In Place

Macau's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is not in place in accordance with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. While Macau's international legal framework to exchange the information with all of Macau's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2) is consistent with the requirements, its domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) has significant deficiencies in areas that are fundamental to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard. Most significantly, there is a gap in the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions and there are significant deficiencies in the due diligence procedures required for New Accounts.

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Macau commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2018.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Macau:

- enacted Law No. 5/2017 (Legal System of Tax Information Exchange);
- issued Chief Executive Resolution No. 211/2017; and
- enacted Law No. 21/2019 (Revision of Complementary Tax Regulation) which revises Articles 4, 5, 10 and 11 of Law No. 5/2017.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 July 2017. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 30 June 2018 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 30 June 2019.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Macau has the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters in place¹ and Macau activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2018.

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for Macau are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

CR1 Domestic legal framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein.

Determination: Not In Place

Macau's domestic legislative framework is not in place as required as it does not contain several key aspects of the CRS and its Commentary. Significant deficiencies have been identified in relation to the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions required to report information (SR 1.1), the scope of Financial Accounts required to be reported (SR 1.2) and the framework to enforce the requirements (SR 1.4). Most significantly, there is a fundamental deficiency in the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions, self-certifications for New Accounts are permitted to be collected after account opening in all cases, and there are no sanctions for failing to collect such self-certifications.

SR 1.1 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions consistently with the CRS.

Macau has not defined the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions in its domestic legislative framework in a manner that is consistent with the CRS and its Commentary as significant deficiencies have been identified. Most significantly, Macau defines a Reporting Financial Institution by reference to a discrete list of entities carrying out a financial business, which does not cover all relevant entities (particularly, but not necessarily limited to, certain Investment Entities). Furthermore, Macau provides for eight jurisdiction-specific Non-Reporting Financial Institutions that are not in accordance with the requirements. The scope of Reporting Financial Institutions, including the provision of Non-Reporting Financial Institutions, is material to the operation of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

Macau should amend its domestic legislative framework to ensure its definition of Reporting Financial Institution reflects the detailed definitions in the AEOI Standard, rather than relying on a discrete list of Entities carrying out a financial business as this will not cover all relevant Entities, including certain Investment Entities in particular.

Macau should amend its domestic legislative framework to remove three entries from its jurisdiction-specific list of categories of Non-Reporting Financial Institutions as they do not meet the requirements. The entries are: i) finance companies; ii) pension funds; and iii) "Other Financial Institutions".

Macau should amend its domestic legislative framework to remove five entries from its jurisdiction-specific list of categories of Non-Reporting Financial Institutions as they would in many cases be Non-Financial Entities and should therefore be treated as such under the AEOI Standard. The entries are: i) cash couriers; ii) currency exchangers; iii) finance leasing entities; iv) general insurers; and v) gaming venue currency exchangers.

Macau should amend its domestic legislative framework to require the term Investment Entity to be interpreted consistently with similar language defining "financial institutions" in the Financial Action Task Force Recommendations.

SR 1.2 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Financial Accounts and Reportable Accounts consistently with the CRS and incorporate the due diligence procedures to identify them.

Macau has not defined the scope of the Financial Accounts that are required to be reported in its domestic legislative framework and has not incorporated the due diligence procedures that must be applied to identify them in a manner that is consistent with the CRS and its Commentary as significant deficiencies have been identified. Most significantly, Macau's legislative framework does not fully incorporate the due diligence procedures to identify Controlling Persons and provides for three jurisdiction-specific Excluded

Accounts that are not in accordance with the requirements. The scope of Financial Accounts, including the provision of Excluded Accounts, as well as the due diligence procedures, are material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

Macau should amend its domestic legislative framework to fully incorporate the definition of Controlling Persons in accordance with the AEOI Standard by including all natural persons required to be identified in relation to trusts and similar legal arrangements.

Macau should amend its domestic legislative framework to define New Accounts in accordance with the AEOI Standard, rather than limiting the scope only to accounts opened by new customers.

Macau should amend its domestic legislative framework to redefine or remove dormant accounts from its jurisdiction-specific list of categories of Excluded Accounts as they do not meet the requirements of the AEOI Standard.

Macau should amend its domestic legislative framework to remove two entries from its jurisdiction-specific list of categories of Excluded Accounts as they do not meet the requirements. The entries are: i) provident fund accounts; and ii) private pension fund accounts.

SR 1.3 Jurisdictions should incorporate the reporting requirements contained in Section I of the CRS into their domestic legislative framework.

Macau has incorporated the reporting requirements in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.4 Jurisdictions should have a legislative framework in place that allows for the enforcement of the requirements of the CRS in practice.

Macau does not have a legislative framework in place to enforce the requirements in a manner that is consistent with the CRS and its Commentary as significant deficiencies have been identified. More specifically, Macau's legislative framework:

- does not contain rules to prevent Financial Institutions, persons or intermediaries from adopting practices intended to circumvent the reporting and due diligence procedures as required; and
- does not incorporate measures to ensure that self-certifications are always obtained and validated for New Accounts as is required.

These are key areas of the required enforcement framework are therefore material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

Macau should amend its domestic legislative framework to include rules to prevent Financial Institutions, persons and intermediaries from adopting practices intended to circumvent the due diligence and reporting procedures.

Macau should amend its domestic legislative framework to include sanctions for failure to apply the due diligence and reporting procedures in accordance with the AEOI Standard.

Macau should amend its domestic legislative framework to limit the circumstances when it is permissible to obtain a valid self-certification after the opening of a New Account, and include strong measures to ensure that valid self-certifications are always obtained for New Accounts in accordance with the requirements.

CR2 International legal framework: Jurisdictions should have exchange relationships in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners as committed to and that provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the Model CAA.

Determination: In Place

Macau's international legal framework to exchange the information is in place, is consistent with the Model CAA and its Commentary and provides for exchange with all of Macau's Interested Appropriate Partners (i.e. all jurisdictions that are interested in receiving information from Macau and that meet the required standard in relation to confidentiality and data safeguards). (SRs 2.1 – 2.3)

SR 2.1 Jurisdictions should have exchange agreements in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information.

Macau has exchange agreements that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information in effect with all its Interested Appropriate Partners.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.2 Such an exchange agreement should be put in place without undue delay, following the receipt of an expression of interest from an Interested Appropriate Partner.

Macau put in place its exchange agreements without undue delay.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.3 Jurisdictions should ensure that the exchange agreements in effect provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Macau's exchange agreements provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

Comments by the assessed jurisdiction

Macau (China) is currently revising Chief Executive Resolution No. 211/2017. Legislative amendments plan was significantly delayed due to the COVID-19 pandemic. Limited services and operations were available during the epidemic since the end of January amongst private and public sectors. As a result, the consultation of legislative amendment was completed in April 2020 and relevant legislative procedures are to be conducted shortly.

Malaysia

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place

Malaysia's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place and is consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. This includes Malaysia's domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) and its international legal framework to exchange the information with all of Malaysia's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2).

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Malaysia commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2018.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Malaysia:

- enacted Sections 113A, 119B, 132B and 154(1)(c) of the Income Tax Act 1967;
- introduced the Income Tax (Automatic Exchange of Financial Account Information) Rules 2016 - P.U.(A) 355/2016 as amended in 2017 and 2020;
- introduced the Labuan Business Activity Tax (Automatic Exchange of Financial Account Information) Regulations 2018 – P.U.(A) 20/2018 (with effect from 1 July 2017) as amended in 2020; and
- issued further guidance, which is not legally binding.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 July 2017. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 30 June 2018 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 30 June 2019.

Following the initial Global Forum peer review, Malaysia amended its legislative framework to address an issue identified, which was effective from 28 August 2020.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Malaysia is a Party to the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2018.

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for Malaysia are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

CR1 Domestic legal framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein.

Determination: In Place

Malaysia's domestic legislative framework is in place and contains all of the key aspects of the CRS and its Commentary requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (SRs 1.1 – 1.3). It also provides for a framework to enforce the requirements (SR 1.4).

SR 1.1 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions consistently with the CRS.

Malaysia has defined the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.2 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Financial Accounts and Reportable Accounts consistently with the CRS and incorporate the due diligence procedures to identify them.

Malaysia has defined the scope of the Financial Accounts that are required to be reported in its domestic legislative framework and incorporated the due diligence procedures that must be applied to identify them in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.3 Jurisdictions should incorporate the reporting requirements contained in Section I of the CRS into their domestic legislative framework.

Malta

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place

Malta's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place and is consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. This includes Malta's domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) and its international legal framework to exchange the information with all of Malta's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2).

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Malta commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2017.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Malta:

- amended its Income Tax Act and Income Tax Management Act;
- introduced the Cooperation with Other Jurisdiction on Tax Matters (Amendment) Regulations, 2015; and
- issued further guidance, which is legally binding.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 January 2016. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2016 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2017.

Following the initial Global Forum peer review, Malta issued amended its legislative framework to address issues identified, effective from 1 January 2016.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Malta:

- is a Party to the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2017;
- has in place European Directive 2011/16/EU on Administrative Cooperation in the Field of Taxation as amended by Directive 2014/107/EU; and
- has in place European Union agreements with five European third countries.¹
- put in place two bilateral agreements.²

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for Malta are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

CR1 Domestic legal framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein.

Determination: In Place

Malta's domestic legislative framework is in place and contains all of the key aspects of the CRS and its Commentary requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (SRs 1.1 – 1.3). Mexico

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place But Needs Improvement

Mexico's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place but needs improvement in order to be fully consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. While Mexico's international legal framework to exchange the information with all of Mexico's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2) is consistent with the requirements, its domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) has deficiencies in an area relevant to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard. More specifically, Mexico provides for three jurisdiction-specific Excluded Accounts that do not meet the requirements.

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Mexico commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2017.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Mexico:

- relies on Article 32-B Bis of the Mexican Tax Code; and
- enacted Annex 25-Bis of the Mexican Administrative Tax Regulations.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 January 2016. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2016 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2017.

Following the initial Global Forum peer review, Mexico made various amendments to its legislative framework to address issues identified, the last of which was effective from 8 May 2019.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Mexico:

- is a Party to the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2017; and
- put in place a bilateral agreement.¹

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for Mexico are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

CR1 Domestic legal framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein.

Determination: In Place But Needs Improvement
--

Mexico's domestic legislative framework is in place and contains most of the key aspects of the CRS and its Commentary requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures, but it needs improvement in one area relating to the scope of Financial Accounts required to be reported (SR 1.2). More specifically, Mexico's legal framework provides for three jurisdiction-specific Excluded Accounts that do not meet the requirements.

SR 1.1 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions consistently with the CRS.

Mexico has defined the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.2 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Financial Accounts and Reportable Accounts consistently with the CRS and incorporate the due diligence procedures to identify them.

Mexico has defined the scope of the Financial Accounts that are required to be reported in its domestic legislative framework and incorporated the due diligence procedures that must be applied to identify them in a manner that is largely consistent with the CRS and its Commentary. However, deficiencies have been identified. More specifically, Mexico provides for three jurisdiction-specific Excluded Accounts that are not in accordance with the requirements. The definition of Financial Accounts, including the provision of Excluded Accounts, is material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard, although it should be noted that the incorrect entries are likely to currently have a very limited impact.

Recommendations:

Mexico should amend its domestic legal framework to remove three entries from its jurisdiction-specific list of Excluded Accounts as they do not meet the requirements because withdrawals are permitted before reaching a specified retirement age, disability or death with the only penalty being a different treatment for the purposes of calculating the annual income tax. The entities are: i) Voluntary contributions for retirement funds; ii) Accounts for individual retirement programme and iii) Retirement insurance contracts.

SR 1.3 Jurisdictions should incorporate the reporting requirements contained in Section I of the CRS into their domestic legislative framework.

Mexico has incorporated the reporting requirements in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.4 Jurisdictions should have a legislative framework in place that allows for the enforcement of the requirements of the CRS in practice.

Mexico has a legislative framework in place to enforce the requirements in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

CR2 International legal framework: Jurisdictions should have exchange relationships in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners as committed to and that provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the Model CAA.

Determination: In Place

Mexico's international legal framework to exchange the information is in place, is consistent with the Model CAA and its Commentary and provides for exchange with all of Mexico's Interested Appropriate Partners (i.e. all jurisdictions that are interested in receiving information from Mexico and that meet the required standard in relation to confidentiality and data safeguards). (SRs 2.1 – 2.3)

SR 2.1 Jurisdictions should have exchange agreements in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information.

Mexico has exchange agreements that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information in effect with all its Interested Appropriate Partners.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.2 Such an exchange agreement should be put in place without undue delay, following the receipt of an expression of interest from an Interested Appropriate Partner.

Mexico put in place its exchange agreements without undue delay.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.3 Jurisdictions should ensure that the exchange agreements in effect provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Mexico's exchange agreements provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

Monaco

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place But Needs Improvement

Monaco's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place but needs improvement in order to be fully consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. While Monaco's international legal framework to exchange the information with all of Monaco's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2) is consistent with the requirements, its domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) has a deficiency significant to the proper functioning of an element of the AEOI Standard. More specifically, the rules in Monaco's legislative framework to prevent persons or intermediaries from adopting practices intended to circumvent the reporting and due diligence procedures are insufficient in scope.

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Monaco commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2018.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Monaco:

- enacted Ordonnance souveraine n°6.208, Loi n°1.444 portant diverses mesures en matière de protection des informations nominatives et de confidentialité dans le cadre de l'échange automatique de renseignements en matière fiscale;
- introduced Loi n°1.445 portant diverses mesures relatives à la prescription et aux sanctions pénales applicables en matière d'échange automatique de renseignements en matière fiscale; and
- issued further guidance, which is not legally binding.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 January 2017. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2017 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2018.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Monaco:

- is a Party to the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2018; and
- has in place an agreement with the European Union.

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for Monaco are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

CR1 Domestic legal framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein.

Determination: In Place But Needs Improvement
--

Monaco's domestic legislative framework is in place and contains most of the key aspects of the CRS and its Commentary requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures, but it needs improvement in one area relating to the framework to enforce the requirements (SR 1.4). More specifically, the rules in Monaco's legislative framework to prevent persons or intermediaries from adopting practices intended to circumvent the reporting and due diligence procedures are insufficient in scope as they do not cover all relevant persons and circumstances.

SR 1.1 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions consistently with the CRS.

Monaco has defined the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.2 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Financial Accounts and Reportable Accounts consistently with the CRS and incorporate the due diligence procedures to identify them.

Monaco has defined the scope of the Financial Accounts that are required to be reported in its domestic legislative framework and incorporated the due diligence procedures that must be applied to identify them in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.3 Jurisdictions should incorporate the reporting requirements contained in Section I of the CRS into their domestic legislative framework.

Monaco has incorporated the reporting requirements in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.4 Jurisdictions should have a legislative framework in place that allows for the enforcement of the requirements of the CRS in practice.

Monaco has a legislative framework in place to enforce the requirements in a manner that is largely consistent with the CRS and its Commentary. However, a deficiency has been identified. More specifically, Monaco's legislative framework does not include rules to prevent all relevant persons (including Reporting Financial Institutions, other persons and intermediaries) from adopting any practices intended to circumvent the reporting and due diligence procedures as required. This is a key element of the required enforcement framework and is therefore material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

Monaco should amend its domestic legislative framework to include rules to prevent all Financial Institutions, persons and intermediaries from adopting practices intended to circumvent the due diligence and reporting procedures, rather than just Reporting Financial Institutions involved in a transaction or arrangement with the purpose of causing an account not to be a Reportable Account.

CR2 International legal framework: Jurisdictions should have exchange relationships in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners as committed to and that provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the Model CAA.

Determination: In Place

Monaco's international legal framework to exchange the information is in place, is consistent with the Model CAA and its Commentary and provides for exchange with all of Monaco's Interested Appropriate Partners (i.e. all jurisdictions that are interested in receiving information from Monaco and that meet the required standard in relation to confidentiality and data safeguards). (SRs 2.1 – 2.3)

SR 2.1 Jurisdictions should have exchange agreements in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information.

Monaco has exchange agreements that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information in effect with all its Interested Appropriate Partners.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.2 Such an exchange agreement should be put in place without undue delay, following the receipt of an expression of interest from an Interested Appropriate Partner.

Monaco put in place its exchange agreements without undue delay.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.3 Jurisdictions should ensure that the exchange agreements in effect provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Montserrat

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place

Montserrat's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place and is consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. This includes Montserrat's domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) and its international legal framework to exchange the information with all of Montserrat's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2).

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Montserrat commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2017.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Montserrat:

- enacted the Tax Information Exchange Act; and
- introduced the Tax Information Exchange (FATCA Agreement) (UK IGA) (CRS) (Montserrat) (Implementation) Regulations 2016, as amended in 2019.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 January 2016. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2016 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2017.

Following the initial Global Forum peer review, Montserrat amended its legislative framework to address issues identified, effective from 5 July 2019.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Montserrat:

- has the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters in place¹ and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2017; and
- put in place a bilateral agreement.²

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for Montserrat are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

Nauru

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place

Nauru's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place and is consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. This includes Nauru's domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) and its international legal framework to exchange the information with all of Nauru's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2).

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Nauru commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2018.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Nauru:

- enacted the Automatic Exchange of Financial Account Information Act 2016; and
- introduced the Automatic Exchange of Financial Account Information Regulations 2017.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 January 2017. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2017 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2018.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Nauru is a Party to the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2017.

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for Nauru are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

CR1 Domestic legal framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein.

Determination: In Place

Nauru's domestic legislative framework is in place and contains all of the key aspects of the CRS and its Commentary requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (SRs 1.1 – 1.3). It also provides for a framework to enforce the requirements (SR 1.4).

SR 1.1 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions consistently with the CRS.

Nauru has defined the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.2 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Financial Accounts and Reportable Accounts consistently with the CRS and incorporate the due diligence procedures to identify them.

Nauru has defined the scope of the Financial Accounts that are required to be reported in its domestic legislative framework and incorporated the due diligence procedures that must be applied to identify them in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.3 Jurisdictions should incorporate the reporting requirements contained in Section I of the CRS into their domestic legislative framework.

Nauru has incorporated the reporting requirements in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.4 Jurisdictions should have a legislative framework in place that allows for the enforcement of the requirements of the CRS in practice.

Nauru has a legislative framework in place to enforce the requirements in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

CR2 International legal framework: Jurisdictions should have exchange relationships in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners as committed to and that provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the Model CAA.

Determination: In Place

Nauru's international legal framework to exchange the information is in place, is consistent with the Model CAA and its Commentary and provides for exchange with all of Nauru's Interested Appropriate Partners (i.e. all jurisdictions that are interested in receiving information from Nauru and that meet the required standard in relation to confidentiality and data safeguards). (SRs 2.1 – 2.3)

SR 2.1 Jurisdictions should have exchange agreements in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information.

Nauru has exchange agreements that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information in effect with all its Interested Appropriate Partners.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.2 Such an exchange agreement should be put in place without undue delay, following the receipt of an expression of interest from an Interested Appropriate Partner.

Nauru put in place its exchange agreements without undue delay.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.3 Jurisdictions should ensure that the exchange agreements in effect provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Nauru's exchange agreements provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

Netherlands

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place But Needs Improvement

The Netherlands' legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place but needs improvement in order to be fully consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. While the Netherlands' international legal framework to exchange the information with all of the Netherlands' Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2) is consistent with the requirements, the Netherlands' domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) has a deficiency significant to the proper functioning of an element of the AEOI Standard. More specifically, a deficiency has been identified in the Netherlands' enforcement framework.

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

The Netherlands commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2017.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, the Netherlands:

- introduced the Decree of 23 December 2015 (Common Reporting Standard Identification and Reporting Requirements (Implementation) Decree);
- introduced the Ministerial Order on the Common Reporting Standard made on 30 December 2015;
- amended the International Assistance (Levying of Taxes) Act and Money Laundering and Terrorist Financing (Prevention) Act (Implementation) Decree 2018; and
- issued further guidance, which is not legally binding.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 January 2016. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2016 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2017.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, the Netherlands:

- is a Party to the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2017;
- has in place European Union Directive 2011/16/EU on Administrative Cooperation in the Field of Taxation, as amended by Directive 2014/107/EU;
- has in place European Union agreements with five European third countries¹; and
- put in place three bilateral agreements.²

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for the Netherlands are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

CR1 Domestic legal framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein.

Determination: In Place But Needs Improvement
--

The Netherlands' domestic legislative framework is in place and contains most of the key aspects of the CRS and its Commentary requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures, but it needs improvement in one area relating to the framework to enforce the requirements (SR 1.4). More specifically, the Netherlands does not have rules to prevent the circumvention of the due diligence and reporting procedures.

SR 1.1 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions consistently with the CRS.

The Netherlands has defined the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.2 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Financial Accounts and Reportable Accounts consistently with the CRS and incorporate the due diligence procedures to identify them.

The Netherlands has defined the scope of the Financial Accounts that are required to be reported in its domestic legislative framework and incorporated the due diligence procedures that must be applied to identify them in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.3 Jurisdictions should incorporate the reporting requirements contained in Section I of the CRS into their domestic legislative framework.

The Netherlands has incorporated the reporting requirements in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.4 Jurisdictions should have a legislative framework in place that allows for the enforcement of the requirements of the CRS in practice.

The Netherlands has a legislative framework in place to enforce the requirements in a manner that is largely consistent with the CRS and its Commentary. However, a deficiency has been identified. More specifically, the Netherlands' legislative framework does not include rules to prevent Financial Institutions, persons or intermediaries from adopting practices intended to circumvent the due diligence and reporting procedures. This is a key element of the required enforcement framework and is therefore material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

It is noted that the Netherlands has EU Directive 2018/22 (DAC 6) (the implementation of the Mandatory Disclosure Rules in the European Union) in place, which facilitates tax authorities becoming aware of practices intended to circumvent the reporting and due diligence procedures. The AEOI Standard, however, requires rules to be in place to prevent or ensure the effective implementation of the AEOI Standard once such practices are discovered.

Recommendations:

The Netherlands should amend its domestic legislative framework to include rules to prevent Financial Institutions, persons and intermediaries adopting practices intended to circumvent the due diligence and reporting procedures. While it is acknowledged that the mandatory reporting requirements in place will facilitate the identification of such practices, additional rules are needed to prevent such practices.

CR2 International legal framework: Jurisdictions should have exchange relationships in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners as committed to and that provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the Model CAA.

Determination: In Place

The Netherlands' international legal framework to exchange the information is in place, is consistent with the Model CAA and its Commentary and provides for exchange with all of the Netherlands' Interested Appropriate Partners (i.e. all jurisdictions that are interested in receiving information from the Netherlands and that meet the required standard in relation to confidentiality and data safeguards). (SRs 2.1 – 2.3)

SR 2.1 Jurisdictions should have exchange agreements in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information.

The Netherlands has exchange agreements that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information in effect with all its Interested Appropriate Partners.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.2 Such an exchange agreement should be put in place without undue delay, following the receipt of an expression of interest from an Interested Appropriate Partner.

The Netherlands put in place its exchange agreements without undue delay.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.3 Jurisdictions should ensure that the exchange agreements in effect provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

The Netherlands' exchange agreements provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

Comments by the assessed jurisdiction

We took note of the recommendation and initiated legislation to implement adequate rules to prevent or ensure the effective implementation of the AEOI Standard once anti-avoidance practices are discovered.

These rules will be comparable to the provisions of the UK and/or Canada. However, the implementation of new legislation takes time and the new rules will be in place as of 1 January 2022.

New Zealand

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place

New Zealand's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place and is consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. This includes New Zealand's domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) and its international legal framework to exchange the information with all of New Zealand's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2).

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

New Zealand commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2018.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, New Zealand:

- enacted legislation, primarily located in Part 11B of the Tax Administration Act 1994; and
- issued further guidance, which is not legally binding.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 July 2017. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 30 June 2018 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 30 June 2019.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, New Zealand:

- is a Party to the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2018; and
- put in place two bilateral agreements.¹

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for New Zealand are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

Pakistan

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place

Pakistan's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place and is consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. This includes Pakistan's domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) and its international legal framework to exchange the information with all of Pakistan's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2).

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Pakistan commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2018.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Pakistan:

- enacted section 107, section 165B and section 182 of the Income Tax Ordinance, 2001;
- issued the Common Standard Rules (CRS Rules) vide SRO 166(I)/2017; and
- published a Guidance Note, which is not legally binding.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 July 2017. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2017 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2018.

Following the initial Global Forum peer review, Pakistan amended its legislative framework to address issues identified, effective from 24 August 2020.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Pakistan is a Party to the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2018.

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for Pakistan are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

Panama

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place But Needs Improvement

Panama's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place but needs improvement in order to be fully consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. While Panama's international legal framework to exchange the information with all of Panama's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2) is consistent with the requirements, its domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) has deficiencies significant to the proper functioning of elements of the AEOI Standard. More specifically, Panama does not fully incorporate some of the due diligence procedures and does not incorporate the categories of Non-Reporting Financial Institutions in accordance with the requirements. Moreover, there is a deficiency in Panama's legal framework for the enforcement of the requirements.

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Panama commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2018.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Panama:

- enacted the Law 51 of 27 October 2016;
- promulgated the Executive Decree 124 of 12 May 2017;
- promulgated the Executive Decree 461 of 26 December 2017; and
- issued Resolution No 201-3931 of 29 June 2017.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 July 2017. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 30 June 2018 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 30 June 2019.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Panama is a Party to the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2018.

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for Panama are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

CR1 Domestic legal framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein.

Determination: In Place But Needs Improvement

Panama's domestic legislative framework is in place and contains many of the key aspects of the CRS and its Commentary requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures, but it needs improvement in relation to the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions required to report information (SR 1.1), the due diligence procedures that must be applied to Financial Accounts (SR 1.2) and the framework to enforce the requirements (SR 1.4). Most significantly, Panama provides for two Non-Reporting Financial Institutions that do not meet the requirements. Furthermore, Panama does not fully incorporate some of the due diligence procedures, and there is a deficiency in Panama's enforcement framework.

SR 1.1 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions consistently with the CRS.

Panama has defined the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions in its domestic legislative framework in a manner that is largely consistent with the CRS and its Commentary. However, deficiencies have been identified. Most significantly, Panama does not fully incorporate the category of Exempt Collective Investment Vehicle as a Non-Reporting Financial Institution and provides for a jurisdiction-specific Non-Reporting Financial Institution that is not in accordance with the requirements. The scope of Reporting Financial Institutions, including the provision of Non-Reporting Financial Institutions, is material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

Panama should amend its domestic legislative framework to prevent Exempt Collective Investment Vehicles from issuing bearer shares from a specified date in order to be treated as Non-Reporting Financial Institutions.

Panama should amend its domestic legislative framework to remove Fideicomisos (trusts) that serve solely as escrow for a debt or purchase obligation of a settlor from its jurisdiction-specific list of Non-Reporting Financial Institutions as this type of Entity is a Non-Financial Entity so should be treated as such under the AEOI Standard.

Panama should amend its domestic legislative framework to fully incorporate the term "managed by" in relation to the definition of Investment Entity.

SR 1.2 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Financial Accounts and Reportable Accounts consistently with the CRS and incorporate the due diligence procedures to identify them.

Panama has defined the scope of the Financial Accounts that are required to be reported in its domestic legislative framework and incorporated the due diligence procedures that must be applied to identify them in a manner that is largely consistent with the CRS and its Commentary. However, deficiencies have been identified. More specifically, Panama's legal framework:

- does not specify that Reporting Financial Institutions may only rely on a self-certification for the purposes of determining whether a Controlling Person of a Passive NFE is a Reportable Person;
- does not incorporate all the elements related to the residence address test for the purposes of identifying Reportable Accounts among Preexisting Individual Lower Value Accounts; and
- sets a threshold for the identification of Controlling Persons that differs from the one defined in its AML law.

These elements of the due diligence procedures are material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

Panama should amend its domestic legislative framework to specify that, for New Entity Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions may only rely on a self-certification provided by a Passive NFE Account Holder or its Controlling Person to determine whether the Controlling Person is a Reportable Person.

Panama should amend its domestic legislative framework to require Reporting Financial Institutions to use only a “current” residence address when applying the residence address test, in particular by specifying that if mail has been returned as undeliverable, then the address cannot be considered as “current”.

Panama’s should amend its domestic legislative framework to require Reporting Financial Institutions to apply the specified procedures if there is a change of circumstance relating to the cases where the residence address test was used.

Panama should amend its domestic legislative framework to ensure that the approach to determine Controlling Persons under the AEOI Standard is aligned to its approach to determine beneficial owners under its domestic AML/KYC procedures, by including a 10% threshold with respect to financial entities and a 25% threshold in relation to non-financial entities.

SR 1.3 Jurisdictions should incorporate the reporting requirements contained in Section I of the CRS into their domestic legislative framework.

Panama has incorporated the reporting requirements in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.4 Jurisdictions should have a legislative framework in place that allows for the enforcement of the requirements of the CRS in practice.

Panama has a legislative framework in place to enforce the requirements in a manner that is largely consistent with the CRS and its Commentary. However, a deficiency has been identified. More specifically, Panama’s domestic legal framework does not include sufficient rules to prevent Financial Institutions, persons or intermediaries from adopting practices intended to circumvent the reporting and due diligence procedures as required. This is a key element of the required enforcement framework and is therefore material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

Panama should amend its domestic legislative framework to include rules to prevent all Financial Institutions, persons and intermediaries from adopting practices intended to circumvent the due diligence and reporting procedures, rather than only Financial Institutions, persons and intermediaries located within the territory of Panama.

CR2 International legal framework: Jurisdictions should have exchange relationships in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners as committed to and that provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the Model CAA.

Determination: In Place

Panama’s international legal framework to exchange the information is in place, is consistent with the Model CAA and its Commentary and provides for exchange with all of Panama’s Interested Appropriate

Partners (i.e. all jurisdictions that are interested in receiving information from Panama and that meet the required standard in relation to confidentiality and data safeguards). (SRs 2.1 – 2.3)

SR 2.1 Jurisdictions should have exchange agreements in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information.

Panama has exchange agreements that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information in effect with all its Interested Appropriate Partners.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.2 Such an exchange agreement should be put in place without undue delay, following the receipt of an expression of interest from an Interested Appropriate Partner.

Panama put in place its exchange agreements without undue delay.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.3 Jurisdictions should ensure that the exchange agreements in effect provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Panama's exchange agreements provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

Poland

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place But Needs Improvement

Poland's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place but needs improvement in order to be fully consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. While Poland's international legal framework to exchange the information with all of Poland's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2) is consistent with the requirements, its domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) has deficiencies significant to the proper functioning of elements of the AEOI Standard. Most significantly, Poland's legislative framework does not define the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions in line with the requirements nor does it have rules to prevent practices intended to circumvent the due diligence and reporting procedures.

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Poland commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2017.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Poland:

- enacted the Act of March 9, 2017 on exchange of tax information with other countries; and
- made reference to the Act of November 16, 2000 on countering money laundering and terrorism financing for the purposes of the identification of Controlling Persons under the AEOI Standard.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 January 2016. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2017 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2018.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Poland:

- is a Party to the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2017;
- has in place European Directive 2011/16/EU on Administrative Cooperation in the Field of Taxation as amended by Directive 2014/107/EU; and
- has in place European Union agreements with five European third countries.¹

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for Poland are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

CR1 Domestic legal framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein.

Determination: In Place But Needs Improvement
--

Poland's domestic legislative framework is in place and contains most of the key aspects of the CRS and its Commentary requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures, but it needs improvement in relation to the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions required to report information (SR 1.1) and the framework to enforce the requirements (SR1.4). Most significantly, Poland's legislative framework does not define Financial Assets in accordance with the requirements nor does it contain rules to prevent practices intended to circumvent the reporting and due diligence procedures.

SR 1.1 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions consistently with the CRS.

Poland has defined the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions in its domestic legislative framework in a manner that is largely consistent with the CRS and its Commentary. However, deficiencies have been identified. Most significantly, Poland's legislative framework defines Financial Assets through an exhaustive list, which is not in accordance with the requirements. This is a key element to the definition of Reporting Financial Institution and is therefore material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

Poland should amend its domestic legislative framework to define Financial Asset using an inclusive approach as contained in the AEOI Standard, rather than using an exhaustive list.

Poland should amend its domestic legislative framework to require the term Investment Entity to be interpreted consistently with the language defining "financial institution" in the Financial Action Task Force Recommendation, although it is noted that the non-binding Explanatory Memorandum instructs that the interpretation of the Act be commensurate with the Commentary.

SR 1.2 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Financial Accounts and Reportable Accounts consistently with the CRS and incorporate the due diligence procedures to identify them.

Poland has defined the scope of the Financial Accounts that are required to be reported in its domestic legislative framework and incorporated the due diligence procedures that must be applied to identify them in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary. While a deficiency has been identified concerning New Accounts opened during a transitory period, as alternative procedures were required and as the transitional period ended in on 30 April 2017, this is considered to be relatively minor and its impact not to be material.

Recommendations:

Poland should ensure that New Accounts opened during the transitory period of 1 January 2016 to 30 April 2017 are subjected to due diligence procedures that are in accordance with the AEOI Standard.

SR 1.3 Jurisdictions should incorporate the reporting requirements contained in Section I of the CRS into their domestic legislative framework.

Poland has incorporated the reporting requirements in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.4 Jurisdictions should have a legislative framework in place that allows for the enforcement of the requirements of the CRS in practice.

Poland has a legislative framework in place to enforce the requirements in a manner that is largely consistent with the CRS and its Commentary. However, a deficiency has been identified. More specifically, Poland's legislative framework does not include rules to prevent Financial Institutions, persons and intermediaries from adopting practices intended to circumvent the reporting and due diligence procedures as required. This is a key element of the required enforcement framework and is therefore material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

Poland should amend its domestic legislative framework to include rules to prevent Financial Institutions, persons and intermediaries from adopting practices intended to circumvent the due diligence and reporting procedures. While it is acknowledged that the mandatory reporting requirements in place will facilitate the identification of such practices, additional rules are needed to prevent such practices.

CR2 International legal framework: Jurisdictions should have exchange relationships in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners as committed to and that provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the Model CAA.

Determination: In Place

Poland's international legal framework to exchange the information is in place, is consistent with the Model CAA and its Commentary and provides for exchange with all of Poland's Interested Appropriate Partners (i.e. all jurisdictions that are interested in receiving information from Poland and that meet the required standard in relation to confidentiality and data safeguards). (SRs 2.1 – 2.3)

SR 2.1 Jurisdictions should have exchange agreements in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information.

Poland has exchange agreements that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information in effect with all its Interested Appropriate Partners.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.2 Such an exchange agreement should be put in place without undue delay, following the receipt of an expression of interest from an Interested Appropriate Partner.

Poland put in place its exchange agreements without undue delay.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.3 Jurisdictions should ensure that the exchange agreements in effect provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Poland's exchange agreements provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

Comments by the assessed jurisdiction

As for the recommendation regarding SR 1.2, we would like to clarify that within our internal legal framework Financial Institutions are obliged to contact the account holders and request self-certification (with information on the residence as at the date of account opening) in order to document all accounts opened between 1 January 2016 and 30 April 2017 (apart from application of due diligence procedures for pre-existing accounts which they also have to apply). Based on current reporting status, financial institutions carried out most of required due diligence activities, with updated information subsequently transferred by the Polish tax administration to other countries participating in the CRS exchange.

We would like to underline that the Polish definition of Financial Asset includes all of the examples of assets listed within the paragraph 7 of the Section VIII of the Model Rules. At the same time, we want to emphasize that, although the list itself is exhaustive, the items listed in it (e.g. “security”) are not strictly defined in the Polish internal legal framework. Therefore, due to the broad and not strictly limited scope of the items included within the list, the definition allows a wide range of various assets to be covered.

As per the recommendation in respect of the definition of Investment Entity, we would like to add that we have published an official explanation (on the official website of the Ministry of Finance: <https://www.gov.pl/web/finanse/informacja-w-sprawie-interpretacji-pojecia-podmiot-inwestujacy>) in which we clearly state that the interpretation of term must be consistent with the Directive as well as the CRS standard (by extension, AML framework). We believe that our communication in this matter (although it is non-binding) leaves no doubt as to market practice in the interpretation of the term of Investment Entity.

Nevertheless, Polish Ministry of Finance is reconsidering the further recommendations related to the enforcement framework and to introducing adjusting amendments in the legal definitions of financial assets and investment entity.

Qatar

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place

Qatar's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place and is consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. This includes Qatar's domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) and its international legal framework to exchange the information with all of Qatar's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2).

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Qatar commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2018.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Qatar:

- enacted Article 34 of the Income Tax Law promulgated by Law No. 24 of the year 2019;
- introduced MOF Decisions No.1 of 2018, and No.17 of 2019; and
- introduced GTA Decisions No.8 of 2019, and No. 6 of 2020.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 July 2017. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 30 June 2018 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 30 June 2019.

Following the initial Global Forum peer review, Qatar amended its legislative framework to address issues identified, effective from 23 August 2020.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Qatar:

- put in place seven bilateral agreements in time for exchanges in 2018¹; and
- is a Party to the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2019.

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for Qatar are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

Romania

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: Not In Place

Romania's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is not in place in accordance with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. While Romania's international legal framework to exchange the information with all of Romania's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2) is consistent with the requirements, its domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) has significant deficiencies in areas that are fundamental to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard. Most significantly, there are deficiencies in relation to the scope of Financial Accounts and Reportable Accounts and the due diligence procedures to identify them and the framework to enforce the requirements.

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Romania commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2017.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Romania:

- enacted Law No. 70/2016;
- introduced Order No. 1939/2016 and Order No. 4142/2017;
- amended Law No. 207/2015 on the Fiscal Procedure Code; and
- enacted Law No. 129/2019 for preventing and combating money laundering and terrorist financing as amended by Emergency Government Ordinance No. 111/2020, which came into effect on 15 July 2020.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 January 2016. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2016 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2017.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Romania:

- is a Party to the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2017;
- has in place European Directive 2011/16/EU on Administrative Cooperation in the Field of Taxation as amended by Directive 2014/107/EU; and
- has in place European Union agreements with five European third countries.¹

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for Romania are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

CR1 Domestic legal framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein.

Determination: Not In Place

Romania's domestic legislative framework is not in place as required as it does not contain several key aspects of the CRS and its Commentary. Significant deficiencies have been identified in relation to the due diligence procedures to identify Reportable Accounts (SR 1.2) and the framework to enforce the requirements (SR 1.4). Most significantly, the definition of the term Controlling Persons and the due diligence procedures to identify Controlling Persons are incomplete and there are deficiencies in the framework to address non-compliance.

SR 1.1 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions consistently with the CRS.

Romania has defined the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary. While two deficiencies have been identified with respect to the definition of Financial Institutions, as there is nothing to suggest they will lead to an incorrect interpretation, they are considered to be relatively minor and their impact to not to be material.

Recommendations:

Romania should amend its domestic legislative framework to require the term Investment Entity to be interpreted consistently with the similar language defining "financial institution" in the Financial Action Task Force Recommendations.

Romania should amend its legislative framework to fully incorporate the term "managed by" in relation to the definition of Investment Entity.

SR 1.2 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Financial Accounts and Reportable Accounts consistently with the CRS and incorporate the due diligence procedures to identify them

Romania has not incorporated the due diligence procedures that must be applied to identify Reportable Accounts in a manner that is consistent with the CRS and its Commentary as significant deficiencies have been identified. Most significantly, Romania's legislative framework:

- incorporates an incomplete definition of the term Controlling Persons and does not fully incorporate the due diligence procedures to identify Controlling Persons;
- does not fully incorporate the provisions regarding the requirement that the residence address shall be "current";
- does not set out the definition of the term "passive income" as required; and
- does not include the requirement to re-determine the status of a Preexisting Entity Account where there is a change of circumstances that causes the Reporting Financial Institution to have reason to know that the self-certification or other documentation associated with the account is incorrect or unreliable.

The due diligence rules are material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

Romania should amend its domestic legislative framework to require Reporting Financial Institutions to always identify and determine the reportable status of Controlling Persons in accordance with the AEOI Standard.

Romania should amend its domestic legislative framework to fully incorporate the definition of the term Controlling Persons in accordance with the AEOI Standard, including by incorporating the elements set out in the Commentary.

Romania should amend its domestic legislative framework to require Reporting Financial Institutions to use only a “current” residence address when applying the residence address test, in particular by specifying that if mail has been returned as undeliverable, then the address cannot be considered “current”.

Romania should amend its domestic legislative framework to fully incorporate the definition of Documentary Evidence for the purposes of the residence address test.

Romania should amend its domestic legislative framework to define “passive income” in accordance with the AEOI Standard.

Romania should amend its domestic legislative framework to require Reporting Financial Institutions apply the specified procedures where they have reason to know that the original self-certification obtained is incorrect or unreliable.

Romania should amend its domestic legislative framework to require Reporting Financial Institutions to apply the change of circumstance procedures in relation to Preexisting Entity Accounts in accordance with the AEOI Standard.

SR 1.3 Jurisdictions should incorporate the reporting requirements contained in Section I of the CRS into their domestic legislative framework.

Romania has incorporated the reporting requirements in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary. While a deficiency has been identified with respect to the reporting of the currency denomination, it is considered to be relatively minor as the CRS XML Schema will compel the reporting of a currency type.

Recommendations:

Romania should amend its domestic legislative framework to require Reporting Financial Institutions to identify the currency in which each account is denominated.

SR 1.4 Jurisdictions should have a legislative framework in place that allows for the enforcement of the requirements of the CRS in practice.

Romania does not have a legislative framework in place to enforce the requirements in a manner that is consistent with the CRS and its Commentary as significant deficiencies have been identified. More specifically, Romania’s legislative framework:

- does not include rules to prevent Financial Institutions, persons or intermediaries from adopting practices intended to circumvent the due diligence and reporting procedures as required;
- does not include rules requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to keep records in accordance with the requirements;
- does not include a framework for enforcement to address non-compliance in accordance with the requirements; and
- does not include measures to ensure that valid self-certifications are always obtained in accordance with the requirements.

These are key elements of the required enforcement framework and are therefore material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

Romania should amend its domestic legislative framework to include rules to prevent Financial Institutions, persons and intermediaries from adopting practices intended to circumvent the due diligence and reporting procedures. While it is acknowledged that the mandatory reporting requirements in place will facilitate the identification of such practices, additional rules are needed to prevent such practices.

Romania should amend its domestic legislative framework to require Reporting Financial Institutions to keep records of the steps undertaken and any evidence relied upon for the performance of the due diligence procedures in accordance with the AEOI Standard.

Romania should amend its domestic legislative framework to include sanctions for failure to apply the due diligence and reporting procedures, rather than being limited to failures leading to incorrect reporting.

Romania should amend its domestic legislative framework to include strong measures to ensure that valid self-certifications are always obtained for New Accounts in accordance with the requirements.

CR2 International legal framework: Jurisdictions should have exchange relationships in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners as committed to and that provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the Model CAA.

Determination: In Place

Romania's international legal framework to exchange the information is in place, is consistent with the Model CAA and its Commentary and provides for exchange with all of Romania's Interested Appropriate Partners (i.e. all jurisdictions that are interested in receiving information from Romania and that meet the required standard in relation to confidentiality and data safeguards). (SRs 2.1 – 2.3)

SR 2.1 Jurisdictions should have exchange agreements in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information.

Romania has exchange agreements that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information in effect with all its Interested Appropriate Partners.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.2 Such an exchange agreement should be put in place without undue delay, following the receipt of an expression of interest from an Interested Appropriate Partner.

Romania put in place its exchange agreements without undue delay.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.3 Jurisdictions should ensure that the exchange agreements in effect provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Romania's exchange agreements provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

Comments by the assessed jurisdiction

First of all, we would like to express our gratitude for the support provided throughout the assessment process. We acknowledge the proposed recommendations. At the same time, we would like to note that Law No. 129/2019 and Emergency Government Ordinance No. 111/2020 that came into effect on 15 July 2020, as referred to above, has in our view already addressed the recommendations made under Sub-Requirement 1.2 relating to the definition and the due diligence procedures to identify Controlling Persons. While we understand that this has been brought to the attention of AEOI Peers too late to have it reflected in this year's report, we look forward to seeing these recommendations removed in accordance with the peer review process in the next year's report.

In relation to the other recommendations, eight months ago we started the process of re-evaluation of the legal framework currently in place. Alongside this measure, we have established an inter-institutional working party with the main objective to rethink the way the AEOI Standard is implemented.

However, the current pandemic has changed not only the way we live, but also how we work. On this note, maintaining a regular schedule for the working party meetings has been very troublesome, to the point that for extended periods of time we had to suspend the activity of the group.

On top of this, the pandemic called for immediate reactions at a policy level, therefore we were forced to prioritise imminent and urgent matters in order to help the economy maintain a relatively stable evolution.

We intend to keep the technical experts of the Secretariat up to date on the evolution of the national legislation implementing the CRS.

We re-affirm our commitment to continue our work to address the outstanding recommendations and have this reflected in the next year's report.

Russia

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place But Needs Improvement

Russia's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place but needs improvement in order to be fully consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. While Russia's international legal framework to exchange the information with all of Russia's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2) is consistent with the requirements, its domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) has deficiencies significant to the proper functioning of elements of AEOI Standard. Most significantly, the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions and Reportable Accounts are not fully in accordance with the AEOI Standard and there are deficiencies in relation to the framework to enforce of the requirements.

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Russia commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2018.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Russia:

- enacted Federal Law No. 340-FZ;
- introduced Decree of June 16, 2018 No. 693; and
- issued further guidance, which is not legally binding.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 20 July 2018. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 July 2018 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2018.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Russia is a Party to the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2018.

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for Russia are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

CR1 Domestic legal framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein.

Determination: In Place But Needs Improvement
--

Russia's domestic legislative framework is in place and contains many of the key aspects of the CRS and its Commentary requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures, but it needs improvement in relation to the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions required to report information (SR 1.1), the due diligence procedures to be applied (SR 1.2), and the framework to enforce the requirements (SR 1.4). Most significantly, key definitions significant to the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions, including Participating Jurisdiction Financial Institution and Financial Assets, are not in accordance with the requirements.

SR 1.1 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions consistently with the CRS.

Russia has defined the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions in its domestic legislative framework in a manner that is largely consistent with the CRS and its Commentary. However, deficiencies have been identified. Most significantly, Russia's legislative framework does not explicitly incorporate the definition of Participating Jurisdiction Financial Institution, and the definition of Financial Assets is not in accordance with the requirements. The scope of Reporting Financial Institutions is material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

Russia should amend its domestic legislative framework to define Financial Asset using an inclusive approach as contained in the AEOI Standard, rather than using an exhaustive list.

Russia should amend its domestic legislative framework to explicitly incorporate the relevant definitions defining the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions, such as the definition of Participating Jurisdiction Financial Institution.

Russia should amend its legislative framework to incorporate the definition of "managed by" in relation to the definition of Investment Entity.

Russia should amend its domestic legislative framework to require the interpretation of Investment Entity to be consistent with similar language defining "financial institution" in the Financial Action Task Force Recommendations.

SR 1.2 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Financial Accounts and Reportable Accounts consistently with the CRS and incorporate the due diligence procedures to identify them.

Russia has defined the scope of the Financial Accounts that are required to be reported in its domestic legislative framework and has incorporated the due diligence procedures that must be applied to identify them in a manner that is largely consistent with the CRS and its Commentary. However, deficiencies have been identified. More specifically, Russia's legislative framework:

- does not provide for the interpretation of "change of circumstances" in accordance with the requirements; and
- does not define Reportable Jurisdiction Person or Account Holder in accordance with the requirements.

The deficiencies relate to key elements of the AEOI Standard and are therefore material to its proper functioning.

Recommendations:

Russia should amend its domestic legislative framework to ensure that “change of circumstances” is defined in accordance with the AEOI Standard, rather than being restricted to circumstances that lead or may lead to the change of residence for tax purposes.

Russia should amend its domestic legislative framework to define Account Holder in accordance with the AEOI Standard.

Russia should amend its domestic legislative framework to explicitly include the estate of a decedent that was a resident of a Reportable Jurisdiction as a Reportable Jurisdiction Person.

SR 1.3 Jurisdictions should incorporate the reporting requirements contained in Section I of the CRS into their domestic legislative framework.

Russia has incorporated the reporting requirements in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.4 Jurisdictions should have a legislative framework in place that allows for the enforcement of the requirements of the CRS in practice.

Russia has a legislative framework in place to enforce the requirements in a manner that is largely consistent with the CRS and its Commentary. However, deficiencies have been identified. More specifically, Russia’s legislative framework:

- does not include rules to prevent Financial Institutions, persons or intermediaries from adopting practices intended to circumvent the due diligence and reporting procedures as required; and
- does not impose sanctions on Accounts Holders and Controlling Persons for the provision of a false self-certification.

These are key elements of the required enforcement framework and are therefore material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

Russia should amend its domestic legislative framework to include rules to prevent Financial Institutions, persons and intermediaries from adopting practices intended to circumvent the due diligence and reporting procedures.

Russia should amend its domestic legislative framework to include sanctions on Account Holders and Controlling Persons for the provision of a false self-certification.

CR2 International legal framework: Jurisdictions should have exchange relationships in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners as committed to and that provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the Model CAA.

Determination: In Place

Russia’s international legal framework to exchange the information is in place, is consistent with the Model CAA and its Commentary and provides for exchange with all of Russia’s Interested Appropriate Partners (i.e. all jurisdictions that are interested in receiving information from Russia and that meet the required standard in relation to confidentiality and data safeguards). (SRs 2.1 – 2.3)

SR 2.1 Jurisdictions should have exchange agreements in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information.

Russia has exchange agreements that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information in effect with all its Interested Appropriate Partners.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.2 Such an exchange agreement should be put in place without undue delay, following the receipt of an expression of interest from an Interested Appropriate Partner.

Russia put in place its exchange agreements without undue delay.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.3 Jurisdictions should ensure that the exchange agreements in effect provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Russia's exchange agreements provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

Saint Kitts and Nevis

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place

Saint Kitts and Nevis' legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place and is consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. This includes Saint Kitts and Nevis' domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) and its international legal framework to exchange the information with all of Saint Kitts and Nevis' Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2).

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Saint Kitts and Nevis commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2018.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Saint Kitts and Nevis:

- enacted the Common Reporting Standard (Automatic Exchange of Financial Account Information) Act 2016, as amended in 2018; and
- introduced the Common Reporting Standard (Automatic Exchange of Financial Account Information) Regulations 2016, as amended in 2018.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 January 2017. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2017 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2018.

Following the initial Global Forum peer review, Saint Kitts and Nevis made various amendments to its legislative framework to address issues identified, the last of which was effective from 16 August 2018.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Saint Kitts and Nevis is a Party to the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2018.

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for Saint Kitts and Nevis are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

CR1 Domestic legal framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein.

Determination: In Place

Saint Kitts and Nevis' domestic legislative framework is in place and contains all of the key aspects of the CRS and its Commentary requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (SRs 1.1 – 1.3). It also provides for a framework to enforce the requirements (SR 1.4).

SR 1.1 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions consistently with the CRS.

Saint Kitts and Nevis has defined the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.2 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Financial Accounts and Reportable Accounts consistently with the CRS and incorporate the due diligence procedures to identify them.

Saint Kitts and Nevis has defined the scope of the Financial Accounts that are required to be reported in its domestic legislative framework and incorporated the due diligence procedures that must be applied to identify them in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.3 Jurisdictions should incorporate the reporting requirements contained in Section I of the CRS into their domestic legislative framework.

Saint Kitts and Nevis has incorporated the reporting requirements in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.4 Jurisdictions should have a legislative framework in place that allows for the enforcement of the requirements of the CRS in practice.

Saint Kitts and Nevis has a legislative framework in place to enforce the requirements in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

CR2 International legal framework: Jurisdictions should have exchange relationships in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners as committed to and that provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the Model CAA.

Determination: In Place

Saint Kitts and Nevis' international legal framework to exchange the information in place, is consistent with the Model CAA and its Commentary and provides for exchange with all of Saint Kitts and Nevis' Interested

Appropriate Partners (i.e. all jurisdictions that are interested in receiving information from Saint Kitts and Nevis and that meet the required standard in relation to confidentiality and data safeguards). (SRs 2.1 – 2.3)

SR 2.1 Jurisdictions should have exchange agreements in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information.

Saint Kitts and Nevis has exchange agreements that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information in effect with all its Interested Appropriate Partners.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

Saint Lucia

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place But Needs Improvement

Saint Lucia's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place but needs improvement in order to be fully consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. While Saint Lucia's international legal framework to exchange the information with all of Saint Lucia's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2) is consistent with the requirements, its domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) has deficiencies significant to the proper functioning of elements of the AEOI Standard. Most significantly, Saint Lucia's legislative framework provides for a category of jurisdiction-specific Excluded Account that is not in accordance with the requirements and does not impose sanctions for the provision of a false self-certification.

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Saint Lucia commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2018.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Saint Lucia:

- enacted the Automatic Exchange of Financial Account Information Act No. 22 of 2016, which was subsequently amended by the Automatic Exchange of Financial Account Information (Amendment) Act No. 10 of 2017, the Automatic Exchange of Financial Account Information (Amendment Schedule 2) Order S.I. 105 of 2017 and the Automatic Exchange of Financial Account Information (Amendment) Act No. 7 of 2018;
- introduced the Automatic Exchange of Financial Account Information (Designation of Excluded Accounts) Order No. 106 of 2017 and the Automatic Exchange of Financial Account Information (Designation of Non-Reporting Financial Institution) Order No. 107 of 2017, which were subsequently amended by the Automatic Exchange of Financial Account Information (Designation of Excluded Accounts) Order No. 119 of 2017, the Automatic Exchange of Financial Account Information (Designation of Non-Reporting Financial Institution) Order No. 7 of 2019 and the Automatic Exchange of Financial Account Information (Designation of Excluded Accounts) Order No. 8 of 2019; and
- issued further guidance, which is not legally binding.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 January 2017. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2017 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2018.

Following the initial Global Forum peer review, Saint Lucia made various amendments to its legislative framework to address issues identified, the last of which was effective from 11 February 2019.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Saint Lucia is a Party to the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2018.

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for Saint Lucia are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

CR1 Domestic legal framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein.

Determination: In Place But Needs Improvement
--

Saint Lucia's domestic legislative framework is in place and contains most of the key aspects of the CRS and its Commentary requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures, but it needs improvement in relation to the scope of Financial Accounts required to be reported (SR 1.2) and the enforcement framework (SR 1.4). Most significantly, Saint Lucia provides for a category of jurisdiction-specific Excluded Account that is not in accordance with the requirements and does not impose sanctions on Accounts Holders and Controlling Persons for providing a false self-certification.

SR 1.1 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions consistently with the CRS.

Saint Lucia has defined the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.2 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Financial Accounts and Reportable Accounts consistently with the CRS and incorporate the due diligence procedures to identify them.

Saint Lucia has defined the scope of the Financial Accounts that are required to be reported in its domestic legislative framework and incorporated the due diligence procedures that must be applied to identify them largely in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary. However, a deficiency has been identified. More specifically, Saint Lucia has provided for a jurisdiction-specific Excluded Account that is not in accordance with the requirements. The scope of Financial Accounts, including the provision of Excluded Accounts, is material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

Saint Lucia should amend its domestic legislative framework to remove the Pension Fund Accounts from its jurisdiction-specific list of Excluded Accounts as they do not meet the requirements in the AEOI Standard, such as full reporting to the authorities with respect to the Account Holders and penalties on early withdrawals.

SR 1.3 Jurisdictions should incorporate the reporting requirements contained in Section I of the CRS into their domestic legislative framework.

Saint Lucia has incorporated the reporting requirements in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.4 Jurisdictions should have a legislative framework in place that allows for the enforcement of the requirements of the CRS in practice.

Saint Lucia has a legislative framework in place to enforce the requirements in a manner that is largely consistent with the CRS and its Commentary. However, deficiencies have been identified. Most significantly, Saint Lucia's legislative framework does not impose sanctions on Account Holders and Controlling Persons for the provision of a false self-certification. This is a key element of the required enforcement framework and is therefore material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

Saint Lucia should amend its domestic legislative framework to include sanctions on Account Holders and Controlling Persons for the provision of a false self-certification.

Saint Lucia should amend its domestic legislative framework to require Reporting Financial Institutions to maintain records of self-certifications for at least five years from the deadline to report the information, rather than six years from the date when an account is closed.

CR2 International legal framework: Jurisdictions should have exchange relationships in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners as committed to and that provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the Model CAA.

Determination: In Place

Saint Lucia's international legal framework to exchange the information is in place, is consistent with the Model CAA and its Commentary and provides for exchange with all of Saint Lucia's Interested Appropriate Partners (i.e. all jurisdictions that are interested in receiving information from Saint Lucia and that meet the required standard in relation to confidentiality and data safeguards). (SRs 2.1 – 2.3)

SR 2.1 Jurisdictions should have exchange agreements in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information.

Saint Lucia has exchange agreements that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information in effect with all its Interested Appropriate Partners.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.2 Such an exchange agreement should be put in place without undue delay, following the receipt of an expression of interest from an Interested Appropriate Partner.

Saint Lucia put in place its exchange agreements without undue delay.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.3 Jurisdictions should ensure that the exchange agreements in effect provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Saint Lucia's exchange agreements provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

Comments by the assessed jurisdiction

Saint Lucia notes the comments on the AEOI legal determination report and commits to making the necessary changes in adherence to the recommendations.

Saint Vincent and the Grenadines

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place But Needs Improvement

Saint Vincent and the Grenadines' legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place but needs improvement in order to be fully consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. While Saint Vincent and the Grenadines' international legal framework to exchange the information with all of Saint Vincent and the Grenadines Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2) is consistent with the requirements, its domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) has two main deficiencies significant to the proper functioning of elements of the AEOI Standard. These are, firstly, Saint Vincent and the Grenadines' legislative framework provides for jurisdiction-specific Non-Reporting Financial Institutions that are not in accordance with the requirements and secondly, there is a deficiency in the enforcement framework in place.

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Saint Vincent and the Grenadines commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2018.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Saint Vincent and the Grenadines:

- enacted the Automatic Exchange of Information (Common reporting Standards) Act 2016; and
- introduced the Automatic Exchange of Information (Common reporting Standards) Regulations 2016.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 January 2017. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2017 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2018.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Saint Vincent and the Grenadines is a Party to the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2018.

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for Saint Vincent and the Grenadines are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

CR1 Domestic legal framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein.

Determination: In Place But Needs Improvement
--

Saint Vincent and the Grenadines' domestic legislative framework is in place and contains most of the key aspects of the CRS and its Commentary requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures, but it needs improvement in relation to the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions required to report information (SR 1.1) and the framework to enforce the requirements (SR 1.4). More specifically, Saint Vincent and the Grenadines provides for jurisdiction-specific Non-Reporting Financial Institutions that are not in accordance with the requirements and there is a deficiency in the enforcement framework in place.

SR 1.1 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions consistently with the CRS.

Saint Vincent and the Grenadines has defined the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions in its domestic legislative framework in a manner that is largely consistent with the CRS and its Commentary. However, certain specific deficiencies have been identified, namely Saint Vincent and the Grenadines provides for two jurisdiction-specific Non-Reporting Financial Institutions that are not in accordance with the requirements. The scope of Reporting Financial Institutions, including the provision of Non-Reporting Financial Institutions, is material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

Saint Vincent and the Grenadines should amend its domestic legislative framework to remove Friendly Societies from its jurisdiction-specific list of Non-Reporting Financial Institutions as they do not meet the requirements of the AEOI Standard such as in relation to the purpose of the deposits and the restrictions on the contributions and withdrawals.

Saint Vincent and the Grenadines should amend its domestic legislative framework to remove Non-Profit Organisations from its jurisdiction-specific list of Non-Reporting Financial Institutions as they do not meet the requirements in the AEOI Standard.

SR 1.2 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Financial Accounts and Reportable Accounts consistently with the CRS and incorporate the due diligence procedures to identify them.

Saint Vincent and the Grenadines has defined the scope of the Financial Accounts that are required to be reported in its domestic legislative framework and incorporated the due diligence procedures that must be applied to identify them in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No Recommendations made.

SR 1.3 Jurisdictions should incorporate the reporting requirements contained in Section I of the CRS into their domestic legislative framework.

Saint Vincent and the Grenadines has incorporated the reporting requirements in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.4 Jurisdictions should have a legislative framework in place that allows for the enforcement of the requirements of the CRS in practice.

Saint Vincent and the Grenadines has a legislative framework in place to enforce the requirements in a manner that is largely consistent with the CRS and its Commentary. However, a deficiency has been identified. Saint Vincent and the Grenadines' legislative framework does not include sanctions on Reporting Financial Institutions for failing to apply due diligence procedures in accordance with the AEOI Standard. This is a key element of the required enforcement framework and is therefore material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

Saint Vincent and the Grenadines should amend its domestic legislative framework to include sanctions for failure to apply the due diligence and reporting procedures, rather than being limited to failures leading to incorrect reporting.

CR2 International legal framework: Jurisdictions should have exchange relationships in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners as committed to and that provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the Model CAA.

Determination: In Place

Saint Vincent and the Grenadines' international legal framework to exchange the information is in place, is consistent with the Model CAA and its Commentary and provides for exchange with all of Saint Vincent and the Grenadines' Interested Appropriate Partners (i.e. all jurisdictions that are interested in receiving information from Saint Vincent and the Grenadines and that meet the required standard in relation to confidentiality and data safeguards). (SRs 2.1 – 2.3)

SR 2.1 Jurisdictions should have exchange agreements in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information.

Saint Vincent and the Grenadines has exchange agreements that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information in effect with all its Interested Appropriate Partners.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.2 Such an exchange agreement should be put in place without undue delay, following the receipt of an expression of interest from an Interested Appropriate Partner.

Saint Vincent and the Grenadines put in place its exchange agreements without undue delay.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.3 Jurisdictions should ensure that the exchange agreements in effect provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Saint Vincent and the Grenadines' exchange agreements provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

Comments by the assessed jurisdiction

Saint Vincent and the Grenadines remains committed to ensuring that its legal framework for the implementation of the AEOI Standard is fully consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference.

Saint Vincent and the Grenadines notes the recommendations made and will work towards meeting these recommendations.

At the same time, Saint Vincent and the Grenadines wishes to record by way of comment, one matter arising from its present assessment. While Saint Vincent and the Grenadines immediately sees the necessity of removing Non-Profit Organizations from its List of Non-Reporting Financial Institutions, the country is obliged to indicate its view that the recommendation with respect to Friendly Societies does not properly reflect the facts in our jurisdiction with respect to this type of financial entity. A Friendly Society is an indigenous community driven, alternative savings association, developed to address a particular need of rural communities in relation to the affordability of burial expenses. Though the narrow purpose of the Friendly Society is a financial benefit upon the occurrence of death, one other incidental purpose has evolved along the years, in the form of very small savings brought about by any contribution in excess of the required contribution, being returned to the member once annually.

The authorities in Saint Vincent and the Grenadines are unable to refute the conclusion that based on the technical requirements of the Standard for Automatic Exchange of Financial Account Information in Tax Matters, a Friendly Society under the law of Saint Vincent and the Grenadines is precluded from being classified as a Broad Participation Retirement Fund, or strictly captured under Sub-Paragraph B(5)(1)(c). However, in the country's specific context, the authorities in Saint Vincent and the Grenadines wish to underscore that Friendly Societies are an example of a financial entity which fulfils the technical requirements of the Standards of being a Reporting Institution, however, its operational basis for AEOI is nil or negligible and likewise its financial account information will invariably have nil or negligible value to the country's AEOI partners.

The jurisdiction suggests that it may be worthwhile to consider whether it should be given an opportunity to bring Friendly Societies more in line with the requirements of a Non-Reporting Financial Institution as a more apposite treatment of this particular entity, rather than incurring an administrative burden on this type of low risk entity and causing a deluge of information to the country's AEOI partners, which the authorities are confident would serve no useful or relevant purpose in tackling tax evasion and avoidance.

Saint Vincent and the Grenadines reiterates its commitment to being a responsible, co-operative and accountable tax jurisdiction, as has been demonstrated by measures taken, both legislative and administrative, over the past several years.

Samoa

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place

Samoa's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place and is consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. This includes Samoa's domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) and its international legal framework to exchange the information with all of Samoa's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2).

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

General context

Samoa commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2018.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Samoa enacted the Tax Information Exchange Amendment Act 2017, which is an amendment to the Tax Information Exchange Act 2012.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 January 2017. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2017 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2018.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Samoa is a Party to the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2018.

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for Samoa are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

CR1 Domestic legal framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein.

Determination: In Place

Samoa's domestic legislative framework is in place and contains all of the key aspects of the CRS and its Commentary requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (SRs 1.1 – 1.3). It also provides for a framework to enforce the requirements (SR 1.4).

SR 1.1 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions consistently with the CRS.

Samoa has defined the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.2 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Financial Accounts and Reportable Accounts consistently with the CRS and incorporate the due diligence procedures to identify them.

Samoa has defined the scope of the Financial Accounts that are required to be reported in its domestic legislative framework and incorporated the due diligence procedures that must be applied to identify them in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.3 Jurisdictions should incorporate the reporting requirements contained in Section I of the CRS into their domestic legislative framework.

Samoa has incorporated the reporting requirements in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.4 Jurisdictions should have a legislative framework in place that allows for the enforcement of the requirements of the CRS in practice.

Samoa has a legislative framework in place to enforce the requirements in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

CR2 International legal framework: Jurisdictions should have exchange relationships in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners as committed to and that provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the Model CAA.

Determination: In Place

Samoa's international legal framework to exchange the information is in place, is consistent with the Model CAA and its Commentary and provides for exchange with all of Samoa's Interested Appropriate Partners (i.e. all jurisdictions that are interested in receiving information from Samoa and that meet the required standard in relation to confidentiality and data safeguards). (SRs 2.1 – 2.3)

SR 2.1 Jurisdictions should have exchange agreements in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information.

Samoa has exchange agreements that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information in effect with all its Interested Appropriate Partners.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.2 Such an exchange agreement should be put in place without undue delay, following the receipt of an expression of interest from an Interested Appropriate Partner.

Samoa put in place its exchange agreements without undue delay.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.3 Jurisdictions should ensure that the exchange agreements in effect provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Samoa's exchange agreements provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

Saudi Arabia

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place

Saudi Arabia's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place and is consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. This includes Saudi Arabia's domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) and its international legal framework to exchange the information with all of Saudi Arabia's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2).

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Saudi Arabia commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2018.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Saudi Arabia enacted:

- the Decision of the Council of Ministers No. (705) Approving the joining of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement on Automatic Exchange of Financial Account Information, and the Annex of the Common Standard on Reporting and Due Diligence for Financial Account Information (the Agreement and the Common Standard);
- the Royal Decree No. M/125 ratifying the joining of the Agreement and the Common Standard;
- the Decision of the Council of Ministers No. (706) Approving of the Special Regulations for Addressing Failures to Report Information for Tax Purposes in Accordance with the Provisions of Conventions to which the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia is a Party (the Enforcement Regulations);
- the Decision of the Council of Ministers No. (108) Approving the application of the provisions of the Special Regulations on the Agreement and the Common Standard; and
- the Ministerial Decision No. (893) Approving the Administrative Rules and Procedures for the Implementation of the Agreement and the Common Standard (The Implementation Rules), amended by Ministerial Decision No. (4483).

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 8 September 2017. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 28 February 2018 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2018.

Following the initial Global Forum peer review, Saudi Arabia amended its legislative framework to address issues identified, effective from 27 June 2020.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Saudi Arabia is a Party to the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2018.

Seychelles

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place But Needs Improvement

The Seychelles' legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place but needs improvement in order to be fully consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. While the Seychelles' international legal framework to exchange the information with all of the Seychelles' Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2) is consistent with the requirements, the Seychelles domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) has deficiencies significant to the proper functioning of elements of the AEOI Standard. More specifically, deficiencies have been identified in the Seychelles' enforcement framework.

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

The Seychelles commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2017.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, the Seychelles amended its Revenue Administration Act of 2009 and SI 1 of 2015.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 January 2016. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2016 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2017.

Following the initial Global Forum peer review, the Seychelles amended its legislative framework to address issues identified, effective from June 2017.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, the Seychelles is a Party to the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2017.

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for the Seychelles are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

CR1 Domestic legal framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein.

Determination: In Place But Needs Improvement

The Seychelles' domestic legislative framework is in place and contains most of the key aspects of the CRS and its Commentary requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures, but it needs improvement in relation to the framework to enforce the requirements (SR 1.4). Most significantly, the Seychelles' legislative framework does not impose sanctions on Account Holders and Controlling Persons for the provision of a false self-certification and does not include strong measures to ensure that valid self-certifications are always obtained for New Accounts.

SR 1.1 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions consistently with the CRS.

The Seychelles has defined the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No Recommendations made.

SR 1.2 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Financial Accounts and Reportable Accounts consistently with the CRS and incorporate the due diligence procedures to identify them.

The Seychelles has defined the scope of the Financial Accounts that are required to be reported in its domestic legislative framework and incorporated the due diligence procedures that must be applied to identify them in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No Recommendations made.

SR 1.3 Jurisdictions should incorporate the reporting requirements contained in Section I of the CRS into their domestic legislative framework.

The Seychelles has incorporated the reporting requirements in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.4 Jurisdictions should have a legislative framework in place that allows for the enforcement of the requirements of the CRS in practice.

The Seychelles has a legislative framework in place to enforce the requirements in a manner that is largely consistent with the CRS and its Commentary. However, deficiencies have been identified. More specifically, the Seychelles' legislative framework:

- does not impose sanctions on Account Holders and Controlling Persons for the provision of a false self-certification; and
- does not permits accounts to be reported as undocumented when self-certifications are not obtained and/or validated in the limited circumstances where they are not obtained on the opening of the account, rather than including measures to ensure that valid self-certifications are always obtained as required.

These are key elements of the required enforcement framework and are therefore material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

The Seychelles should amend its domestic legislative framework to include sanctions on Account Holders and Controlling Persons for the provision of a false self-certification.

The Seychelles should amend its domestic legislative framework to include strong measures to ensure that valid self-certifications are always obtained for New Accounts, rather than allowing accounts to be reported as undocumented in the limited circumstances a self-certification is permitted to be obtained after the opening of a New Account.

CR2 International legal framework: Jurisdictions should have exchange relationships in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners as committed to and that provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the Model CAA.

Determination: In Place

The Seychelles' international legal framework to exchange the information is in place, is consistent with the Model CAA and its Commentary and provides for exchange with all of the Seychelles' Interested Appropriate Partners (i.e. all jurisdictions that are interested in receiving information from the Seychelles and that meet the required standard in relation to confidentiality and data safeguards). (SRs 2.1 – 2.3)

SR 2.1 Jurisdictions should have exchange agreements in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information.

The Seychelles has exchange agreements that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information in effect with all its Interested Appropriate Partners.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.2 Such an exchange agreement should be put in place without undue delay, following the receipt of an expression of interest from an Interested Appropriate Partner.

The Seychelles put in place its exchange agreements without undue delay.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.3 Jurisdictions should ensure that the exchange agreements in effect provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

The Seychelles' exchange agreements provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

Comments by the assessed jurisdiction

General context: The Republic of Seychelles is in the process of amending Schedule 4 and 5 of the Revenue Administration (Common Reporting Standards) Regulation of 2015 to include the list of participating and reportable jurisdictions. We are encountering some delays due to the pandemic Covid-19. The Seychelles is also working on a proposal for amending the law to include very strong sanctions/measures so as to ensure that valid self-certifications are always obtained for New Accounts.

SR 1.4: The Republic of Seychelles have not developed their own guidance but we are using the one issued on the OECD's website.

Singapore

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place

Singapore's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place and is consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. This includes Singapore's domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) and its international legal framework to exchange the information with all of Singapore's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2).

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Singapore commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2018.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Singapore:

- enacted Part XXB of the Income Tax Act;
- introduced the Income Tax (International Tax Compliance Agreements) (Common Reporting Standard) Regulations 2016; and
- issued Frequently Asked Questions, which are not legally binding.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 January 2017. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2017 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2018.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Singapore:

Comments by the assessed jurisdiction

Singapore has been a member of the Global Forum on Transparency and Exchange of Information since its establishment as a self-standing body in 2009.

We are pleased with the overall determination of our legal framework to be “In Place” as assigned under the current review based on the AEOI Terms of Reference. It affirms the robustness of Singapore's Exchange of Information (EOI) regime, and that the regime is in line with the international AEOI Standard based on the Common Reporting Standard.

Singapore remains fully committed to the AEOI standard and will continue to ensure that our EOI regime continues to be in line with the international standard.

Note

¹ With Australia, Canada, Denmark, Estonia, Finland, Iceland, Ireland, Italy, Japan, Korea, Latvia, Lithuania, Malta, the Netherlands, New Zealand, Norway, South Africa, Switzerland and the United Kingdom. At the request of eight jurisdictions, namely Australia, Canada, Estonia, Italy, Japan, Korea, the Netherlands and New Zealand, Singapore has also activated relationships under the CRS MCAA with them.

Sint Maarten

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: Not In Place

Sint Maarten's legal framework to implement the AEOI Standard is not in place. This is because Sint Maarten has not put in place a domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) nor an international legal framework to exchange the information with all Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2).

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Sint Maarten has not yet implemented the necessary legal frameworks.

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for Sint Maarten are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

CR1 Domestic legal framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein.

Determination: Not In Place

Sint Maarten has not put in place a domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures, therefore the CR1 Domestic legal framework is determined to be not in place. As no such framework is in place a detailed analysis in relation to each SR has not been possible.

CR2 International legal framework: Jurisdictions should have exchange relationships in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners as committed to and that provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the Model CAA.

Determination: Not In Place

Sint Maarten has not put in place the international legal framework to exchange the information with all of Sint Maarten's Interested Appropriate Partners, therefore the CR2 International legal framework is determined to be not in place. As no such framework is in place a detailed analysis in relation to each SR has not been possible.

Comments by the assessed jurisdiction

Notwithstanding the many setbacks that Sint Maarten has faced during the last few years, political instability and a major hurricane among others, Sint Maarten can announce that its primary legislation is finally in place and we are working diligently on having our secondary legislation put 'in place'. This is currently in the legislative process and our hopes are that this also can be finalized expeditiously. Only after this legislation is in place a notification to the Co-ordinating Body Secretariat pursuant to Section 7 of the Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement on Exchange of Financial Account Information, signed on behalf of the Competent Authority of Sint Maarten, can be considered in order to receive an 'In Place' determination regarding Sint Maarten's International legal framework.

Sint Maarten has started working on the Action Plan to meet the Confidentiality and Data safeguard requirements. The target date for this to be completed is September 2021.

Slovak Republic

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place But Needs Improvement

The Slovak Republic's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place but needs improvement in order to be fully consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. While the Slovak Republic's international legal framework to exchange the information with all of the Slovak Republic's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2) is consistent with the requirements, its domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) has a deficiency significant to the proper functioning of an element of the AEOI Standard. More specifically, the Slovak Republic does not include sanctions for the provision of a false self-certification.

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

The Slovak Republic commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2017.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, the Slovak Republic:

- enacted Act 359/2015 Coll., as amended by Act 300/2016 and Act 305/2019; and
- introduced Decree 446/2015 Coll., as amended by Decree 348/2018.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 January 2016. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2016 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2017.

Following the initial Global Forum peer review, the Slovak Republic made various amendments to its legislative framework to address issues identified, the last of which was effective from 1 January 2020.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, the Slovak Republic:

- is a Party to the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2017;
- has in place European Directive 2011/16/EU on Administrative Cooperation in the Field of Taxation as amended by Directive 2014/107/EU; and
- has in place European Union agreements with five European third countries.¹

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for the Slovak Republic are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

CR1 Domestic legal framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein.

--

The Slovak Republic's domestic legislative framework is in place and contains most of the key aspects of the CRS and its Commentary requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures, but it needs improvement in relation to the framework to enforce the requirements (SR 1.4). More specifically, the Slovak Republic does not provide for sanctions on Account Holders and Controlling Persons for the provision of a false self-certification.

SR 1.1 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions consistently with the CRS.

The Slovak Republic has defined the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.2 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Financial Accounts and Reportable Accounts consistently with the CRS and incorporate the due diligence procedures to identify them.

The Slovak Republic has defined the scope of the Financial Accounts that are required to be reported in its domestic legislative framework and incorporated the due diligence procedures that must be applied to identify them in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.3 Jurisdictions should incorporate the reporting requirements contained in Section I of the CRS into their domestic legislative framework.

The Slovak Republic has incorporated the reporting requirements in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.4 Jurisdictions should have a legislative framework in place that allows for the enforcement of the requirements of the CRS in practice.

The Slovak Republic has a legislative framework in place to enforce the requirements in a manner that is largely consistent with the CRS and its Commentary. However, a deficiency has been identified. More specifically, the Slovak Republic's legislative framework does not impose sanctions on Accounts Holders and Controlling Persons for the provision of a false self-certification. This is a key element of the required enforcement framework and is therefore material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

The Slovak Republic should amend its domestic legislative framework to include sanctions on Account Holders and Controlling Persons for the provision of a false self-certification.

CR2 International legal framework: Jurisdictions should have exchange relationships in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners as committed to and that provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the Model CAA.

Determination: In Place

The Slovak Republic's international legal framework to exchange the information is in place, is consistent with the Model CAA and its Commentary and provides for exchange with all of the Slovak Republic's Interested Appropriate Partners (i.e. all jurisdictions that are interested in receiving information from the Slovak Republic and that meet the required standard in relation to confidentiality and data safeguards). (SRs 2.1 – 2.3)

SR 2.1 Jurisdictions should have exchange agreements in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information.

The Slovak Republic has exchange agreements that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information in effect with all its Interested Appropriate Partners.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.2 Such an exchange agreement should be put in place without undue delay, following the receipt of an expression of interest from an Interested Appropriate Partner.

The Slovak Republic put in place its exchange agreements without undue delay.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.3 Jurisdictions should ensure that the exchange agreements in effect provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

The Slovak Republic's exchange agreements provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

Comments by the assessed jurisdiction

With regard to the outstanding recommendation, the Slovak Republic points out that the legislative process for adopting the provision on imposing the sanctions for false self-certification is at the final stage of the legislative process. The Slovak Parliament should adopt the amendment of the Act 359/2015 of Coll. at the end of September 2020 with effect from 1 January 2021.

Slovenia

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place

Slovenia's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place and is consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. This includes Slovenia's domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) and its international legal framework to exchange the information with all of Slovenia's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2).

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Slovenia commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2017.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Slovenia:

- amended the Tax Procedure Act (ZDavP-2I, as further amended in the OJ No. 69/2017 of 8 December 2017);
- amended the Rules on the implementation of the Tax Procedure Act; and
- issued further guidance, which is not legally binding.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 January 2016. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2016 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2017.

Following the initial peer review by the Global Forum, Slovenia amended its legislative framework to address issues identified, effective from 9 December 2017.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Slovenia:

- is a Party to the convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2017;
- has implemented European Directive 2011/16/EU on Administrative Cooperation in the Field of Taxation, as amended by Directive 2014/107/EU; and
- has in place European Union agreements with five European third countries.¹

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for Slovenia are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

CR1 Domestic legal framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein.

Determination: In Place

Slovenia's domestic legislative framework is in place and contains all of the key aspects of the CRS and its Commentary requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (SRs 1.1 – 1.3). It also provides for a framework to enforce the requirements (SR 1.4).

SR 1.1 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions consistently with the CRS.

Slovenia has defined the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.2 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Financial Accounts and Reportable Accounts consistently with the CRS and incorporate the due diligence procedures to identify them.

Slovenia has defined the scope of the Financial Accounts that are required to be reported in its domestic legislative framework and incorporated the due diligence procedures that must be applied to identify them in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.3 Jurisdictions should incorporate the reporting requirements contained in Section I of the CRS into their domestic legislative framework.

Slovenia has incorporated the reporting requirements in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.4 Jurisdictions should have a legislative framework in place that allows for the enforcement of the requirements of the CRS in practice.

Slovenia has a legislative framework in place to enforce the requirements in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

CR2 International legal framework: Jurisdictions should have exchange relationships in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners as committed to and that provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the Model CAA.

Determination: In Place

Slovenia's international legal framework to exchange the information is in place, is consistent with the Model CAA and its Commentary and provides for exchange with all of Slovenia's Interested Appropriate

Partners (i.e. all jurisdictions that are interested in receiving information from Slovenia and that meet the required standard in relation to confidentiality and data safeguards). (SRs 2.1 – 2.3)

SR 2.1 Jurisdictions should have exchange agreements in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information.

Slovenia has exchange agreements that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information in effect with all its Interested Appropriate Partners.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.2 Such an exchange agreement should be put in place without undue delay, following the receipt of an expression of interest from an Interested Appropriate Partner.

Slovenia put in place its exchange agreements without undue delay.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.3 Jurisdictions should ensure that the exchange agreements in effect provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Slovenia's exchange agreements provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

Comments by the assessed jurisdiction

Slovenia wishes to express its gratitude and deep appreciation for the excellent work carried out by the Secretariat of the Global Forum and the AEOI Assessment Panel. Slovenia is confident that the AEOI legal determination report is a fair and accurate picture of the legal framework in force. We are satisfied with the conclusion that Slovenia's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place and is consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference and that there are no recommendations.

South Africa

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place But Needs Improvement

South Africa's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place but needs improvement in order to be fully consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. While South Africa's international legal framework to exchange the information with all of South Africa's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2) is consistent with the requirements, its domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) has deficiencies significant to the proper functioning of elements of the AEOI Standard. More specifically, South Africa provides for two categories of jurisdiction-specific Excluded Accounts that are not in accordance with the requirements.

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

South Africa commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2017.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, South Africa:

- enacted enabling provisions in the Tax Administration Act, 28 of 2011;
- introduced the CRS Regulations; and
- issued further guidance, which is not legally binding.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 March 2016. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 28 February 2017 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 28 February 2018.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, South Africa:

- is a Party to the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2017; and
- put in place three bilateral agreements.¹

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for South Africa are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

CR1 Domestic legal framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein.

Determination: In Place But Needs Improvement
--

South Africa's domestic legislative framework is in place and contains most of the key aspects of the CRS and its Commentary requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures, but it needs improvement in relation to the scope of Financial Accounts required to be reported (SR 1.2). More specifically, South Africa has provided for two categories of jurisdiction-specific Excluded Accounts that are not in accordance with the requirements.

SR 1.1 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions consistently with the CRS.

South Africa has defined the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.2 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Financial Accounts and Reportable Accounts consistently with the CRS and incorporate the due diligence procedures to identify them.

South Africa has defined the scope of the Financial Accounts that are required to be reported in its domestic legislative framework and incorporated the due diligence procedures that must be applied to identify them in a manner that is largely consistent with the CRS and its Commentary. However, two deficiencies have been identified. More specifically, South Africa has provided for two categories of jurisdiction-specific Exclude Accounts that are not in accordance with the requirements. The definition of Financial Accounts, including the provision of Excluded Accounts, is material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

South Africa should amend its domestic legislative framework to remove two entries from its jurisdiction-specific list of Excluded Accounts: i) the Central Securities Accounts and ii) the Depository Accounts held by Non-Profit Organizations. These do not meet the relevant requirements as i) no restrictions are made in accordance with the AEOI Standard and ii) the contributions into the accounts are not limited and withdrawals are also not restricted.

SR 1.3 Jurisdictions should incorporate the reporting requirements contained in Section I of the CRS into their domestic legislative framework.

South Africa has incorporated the reporting requirements in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.4 Jurisdictions should have a legislative framework in place that allows for the enforcement of the requirements of the CRS in practice.

South Africa has a legislative framework in place to enforce the requirements in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

CR2 International legal framework: Jurisdictions should have exchange relationships in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners as committed to and that provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the Model CAA.

Determination: In Place

South Africa's international legal framework to exchange the information is in place, is consistent with the Model CAA and its Commentary and provides for exchange with all of South Africa's Interested Appropriate Partners (i.e. all jurisdictions that are interested in receiving information from South Africa and that meet the required standard in relation to confidentiality and data safeguards). (SRs 2.1 – 2.3)

SR 2.1 Jurisdictions should have exchange agreements in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information.

South Africa has exchange agreements that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information in effect with all its Interested Appropriate Partners.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.2 Such an exchange agreement should be put in place without undue delay, following the receipt of an expression of interest from an Interested Appropriate Partner.

South Africa put in place its exchange agreements without undue delay.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.3 Jurisdictions should ensure that the exchange agreements in effect provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

South Africa's exchange agreements provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

Comments by the assessed jurisdiction

South Africa has removed the two categories of jurisdiction-specific Excluded Accounts referred to in the recommendations under SR 1.2 in the CRS Regulations. These amendments were published on 9 October 2020, but will take effect from 1 June 2021.

Spain

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place

Spain's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place and is consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. This includes Spain's domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) and its international legal framework to exchange the information with all of Spain's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2).

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Spain commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2017.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Spain:

- enacted the 22nd Additional Provision of General Taxation Law passed by Act 58/2003; and
- introduced the Royal Decree 1021/2015 that contains the requirement to determine the residence for tax purposes of Account Holders and those who have control over Financial Accounts and the requirement to report information pursuant to Mutual Assistance; and
- introduced the Order HAP/1695/2016 on FORM 289 on annual reporting on financial accounts in the field of mutual assistance.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 January 2016. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2016 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2017.

Spain has introduced a draft bill to address the recommendations made, but the legislative procedure has been delayed due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Spain:

- is a Party to the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2017;
- has in place European Directive 2011/16/EU on Administrative Cooperation in the Field of Taxation as amended by Directive 2014/107/EU; and
- has in place European Union agreements with five European third countries.¹

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for Spain are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

CR1 Domestic legal framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein.

Determination: In Place

Spain's domestic legislative framework is in place and contains all of the key aspects of the CRS and its Commentary requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (SRs 1.1 – 1.3). It also provides for a framework to enforce the requirements (SR 1.4).

SR 1.1 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions consistently with the CRS.

Spain has defined the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.2 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Financial Accounts and Reportable Accounts consistently with the CRS and incorporate the due diligence procedures to identify them.

Spain has defined the scope of the Financial Accounts that are required to be reported in its domestic legislative framework and incorporated the due diligence procedures that must be applied to identify them in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.3 Jurisdictions should incorporate the reporting requirements contained in Section I of the CRS into their domestic legislative framework.

Spain has incorporated the reporting requirements in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.4 Jurisdictions should have a legislative framework in place that allows for the enforcement of the requirements of the CRS in practice.

Spain has a legislative framework in place to enforce the requirements in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary. While a deficiency has been identified with respect to the retention period for records in relation to closed accounts, it is considered relatively minor and does not materially undermine the implementation of SR 1.4. This is because the deficiency is only with respect to closed accounts and Spanish Financial Institutions are still required to keep records of the steps taken and evidence relied upon in relation to such accounts until the end of the fourth year following the year in which the account was closed.

Recommendations:

Spain should amend its domestic legislative framework to require Reporting Financial Institutions to maintain records for at least five years from the deadline to report the information, even when the account is closed.

CR2 International legal framework: Jurisdictions should have exchange relationships in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners as committed to and that provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the Model CAA.

Determination: In Place

Spain's international legal framework to exchange the information is in place, is consistent with the Model CAA and its Commentary and provides for exchange with all of Spain's Interested Appropriate Partners (i.e. all jurisdictions that are interested in receiving information from Spain and that meet the required standard in relation to confidentiality and data safeguards). (SRs 2.1 – 2.3)

SR 2.1 Jurisdictions should have exchange agreements in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information.

Spain has exchange agreements that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information in effect with all its Interested Appropriate Partners.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.2 Such an exchange agreement should be put in place without undue delay, following the receipt of an expression of interest from an Interested Appropriate Partner.

Spain put in place its exchange agreements without undue delay.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.3 Jurisdictions should ensure that the exchange agreements in effect provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Spain's exchange agreements provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Switzerland

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place But Needs Improvement

Switzerland's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place but needs improvement in order to be fully consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. While Switzerland's international legal framework to exchange the information with all of Switzerland's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2) is consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference, its domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) has deficiencies significant to the proper functioning of elements of the AEOI Standard. More specifically, Switzerland provides for jurisdiction-specific Non-Reporting Financial Institutions and Excluded Accounts that do not meet the requirements of the AEOI Standard.

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Switzerland commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2018.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Switzerland:

- enacted the Federal Act of 18 December 2015 on the International Automatic Exchange of Information in Tax Matters; as amended on 9 October 2020;
- introduced the Ordinance of 23 November 2016 on the International Automatic Exchange of Information in Tax Matters; as amended on 9 October 2020;
- issued further guidance, which is legally binding; and
- made reference to the Federal Act of 12 December 2014 on the Implementation of the Revised FATF Recommendations of 2012 for the purposes of the identification of Controlling Persons under the AEOI Standard.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 January 2017. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2017 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2018.

Following the initial Global Forum peer review, Switzerland made various amendments to its legislative framework to address issues identified, the last of which will be effective from 1 January 2021.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Switzerland:

- is a Party to the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2018;
- has in place an agreement with the European Union; and
- put in place two bilateral agreements.¹

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for Switzerland are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

CR1 Domestic legal framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein.

Determination: In Place But Needs Improvement
--

Switzerland's domestic legislative framework is in place and contains most of the key aspects of the CRS and its Commentary requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures, but it needs improvement in relation to the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions required to report information (SR 1.1), and the scope of Financial Accounts required to be reported (SR 1.2).

More specifically, Switzerland provides for categories of jurisdiction-specific Non-Reporting Financial Institutions and Excluded Accounts that do not meet the requirements of the AEOI Standard.

SR 1.1 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions consistently with the CRS.

Switzerland has defined the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions in its domestic legislative framework in a manner that is largely consistent with the CRS and its Commentary. However, deficiencies have been identified. More specifically, Switzerland provides for two categories of jurisdiction-specific Non-Reporting Financial Institutions that do not correspond to any of the categories of Non-Reporting Financial Institutions foreseen in the AEOI Standard. The scope of Reporting Financial Institutions, including the provision on Non-Reporting Financial Institutions is material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

Switzerland should amend its domestic legislative framework to remove two categories from its jurisdiction-specific list of Non-Reporting Financial Institutions as they do not correspond to any of the categories of Non-Reporting Financial Institutions foreseen in the AEOI Standard. The entries are: i) associations that pursue a non-commercial purpose, and ii) foundations that pursue a public, charitable or non-material purpose.

SR 1.2 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Financial Accounts and Reportable Accounts consistently with the CRS and incorporate the due diligence procedures to identify them.

Switzerland has defined the scope of the Financial Accounts that are required to be reported in its domestic legislative framework and incorporated the due diligence procedures that must be applied to them in a manner that is largely consistent with the CRS and its Commentary. However, deficiencies have been identified. More specifically, Switzerland provides for three jurisdiction-specific Excluded Accounts which are not in line with the requirements of the AEOI Standard. Two of the Excluded Accounts do not correspond to any of the categories of Excluded Accounts in the AEOI Standard. The capital contribution accounts have some similarity to escrow accounts, but do not relate to the sale, exchange or lease of real or personal property and do not have sufficiently similar characteristics to the requirements nor to ensure that these accounts pose a low risk of being used to evade tax. The scope of Financial Accounts, including the provision of Excluded Accounts, is material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

Switzerland should amend its domestic legislative framework to remove three entries from its jurisdiction-specific list of Excluded Accounts as they do not meet the requirements. The entries are: i) accounts of associations that pursue a non-commercial purpose; ii) accounts of foundations that pursue a public, charitable or non-material purpose; and iii) capital contribution accounts.

SR 1.3 Jurisdictions should incorporate the reporting requirements contained in Section I of the CRS into their domestic legislative framework.

Switzerland has incorporated the reporting requirements in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.4 Jurisdictions should have a legislative framework in place that allows for the enforcement of the requirements of the CRS in practice.

Switzerland has a legislative framework in place to enforce the requirements in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

CR2 International legal framework: Jurisdictions should have exchange relationships in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners as committed to and that provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the Model CAA.

Determination: In Place

Switzerland's international legal framework to exchange the information is in place, is consistent with the Model CAA and its Commentary and provides for exchange with all of Switzerland's Interested Appropriate Partners (i.e. all jurisdictions that are interested in receiving information from Switzerland and that meet the required standard in relation to confidentiality and data safeguards). (SRs 2.1 – 2.3)

SR 2.1 Jurisdictions should have exchange agreements in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information.

Switzerland has exchange agreements that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information in effect with all its Interested Appropriate Partners.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.2 Such an exchange agreement should be put in place without undue delay, following the receipt of an expression of interest from an Interested Appropriate Partner.

Switzerland put in place its exchange agreements without undue delay.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.3 Jurisdictions should ensure that the exchange agreements in effect provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Switzerland's exchange agreements provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

Comments by the assessed jurisdiction

Switzerland would like to express its general appreciation for the work of the Global Forum and reiterates that it takes its commitment to implement the AEOI Standard according to the Global Forum's recommendations very seriously. Following the initial Global Forum peer review, Switzerland made various amendments to its legislative framework to address the issues identified.

Switzerland takes note of the remaining recommendations set out under SR 1.1. and 1.2., but is convinced that the entities and accounts concerned have a very low risk of being misused for tax evasion, especially as the legal framework contains strict requirements that significantly reduce or exclude the danger of abuse, which is therefore of a theoretical nature. Nonetheless, Switzerland understands the reasons for the recommendations in the context of the applicable standard.

Switzerland would like to highlight that the treatment of the concerned entities and accounts will be discussed as a part of the OECD's review of the AEOI Standard with first discussions starting in late October 2020. Regarding the treatment of non-profit entities, the OECD Secretariat has already submitted a specific proposal for the review of the AEOI Standard. This proposal reflects Switzerland's concerns and would take into account four recommendations on SR 1.1 and SR 1.2 regarding non-commercial associations and charitable foundations. As regards capital contribution accounts, it is necessary to await the outcome of the discussions.

As long as the discussions of the issues raised as part of the OECD's review of the AEOI Standard have not taken place, the question whether or not the entities and accounts aforementioned are exempt from the reporting requirements should be left open and should not prejudice Switzerland's legal determination.

Trinidad and Tobago

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: Not In Place

Trinidad and Tobago's legal framework to implement the AEOI Standard is not in place. This is because Trinidad and Tobago has not put in place a domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) nor an international legal framework to exchange the information with all Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2).

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Trinidad and Tobago has not yet implemented the necessary legal frameworks.

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for Trinidad and Tobago are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

CR1 Domestic legal framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein.

Determination: Not In Place

Trinidad and Tobago has not put in place a domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures, therefore the CR1 Domestic legal framework is determined to be not in place. As no such framework is in place a detailed analysis in relation to each SR has not been possible.

CR2 International legal framework: Jurisdictions should have exchange relationships in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners as committed to and that provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the Model CAA.

Determination: Not In Place

Trinidad and Tobago has not put in place the international legal framework to exchange the information with all of Trinidad and Tobago's Interested Appropriate Partners, therefore the CR2 International legal framework is determined to be not in place. As no such framework is in place a detailed analysis in relation to each SR has not been possible.

Turkey

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place

Turkey's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place and is consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. This includes Turkey's domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) and its international legal framework to exchange the information with all of Turkey's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2).

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Turkey commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2018.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Turkey:

- relies on Articles 148, 149 and 152/A of the Tax Procedure Law;
- issued the Official letter from the Turkish Revenue Administration dated 30/06/2017 and its attachment "Guidance on Residency and Due Diligence", that was amended in April 2020; and
- made reference to the Regulation on Prevention Measures Regarding Laundering Proceeds of Crime and Financing of Terrorism (reviewed for the definition of beneficial owner) implementing the FATF Recommendations for the purposes of the identification of Controlling Persons under the AEOI Standard.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 July 2017. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 30 June 2018 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 30 June 2019.

Following the initial Global Forum peer review, Turkey amended its legislative framework to address issues identified, effective from 1 April 2020.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Turkey:

- put in place two bilateral agreements in time for exchanges from 2018¹; and
- is a Party to the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2020.

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for Turkey are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

CR1 Domestic legal framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein.

Determination: In Place

Turkey's domestic legislative framework is in place and contains all of the key aspects of the CRS and its Commentary requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (SRs 1.1 – 1.3). It also provides for a framework to enforce the requirements (SR 1.4).

SR 1.1 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions consistently with the CRS.

Turkey has defined the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.2 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Financial Accounts and Reportable Accounts consistently with the CRS and incorporate the due diligence procedures to identify them.

Turkey has defined the scope of the Financial Accounts that are required to be reported in its domestic legislative framework and incorporated the due diligence procedures that must be applied to identify them in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.3 Jurisdictions should incorporate the reporting requirements contained in Section I of the CRS into their domestic legislative framework.

Turkey has incorporated the reporting requirements in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.4 Jurisdictions should have a legislative framework in place that allows for the enforcement of the requirements of the CRS in practice.

Turkey has a legislative framework in place to enforce the requirements in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

CR2 International legal framework: Jurisdictions should have exchange relationships in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners as committed to and that provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the Model CAA.

Determination: In Place

Turkey's international legal framework to exchange the information is in place, is consistent with the Model CAA and its Commentary and provides for exchange with all of Turkey's Interested Appropriate Partners

(i.e. all jurisdictions that are interested in receiving information from Turkey and that meet the required standard in relation to confidentiality and data safeguards). (SRs 2.1 – 2.3)

SR 2.1 Jurisdictions should have exchange agreements in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information.

Turkey has exchange agreements that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information in effect with all its Interested Appropriate Partners.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.2 Such an exchange agreement should be put in place without undue delay, following the receipt of an expression of interest from an Interested Appropriate Partner.

Turkey put in place its exchange agreements without undue delay.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.3 Jurisdictions should ensure that the exchange agreements in effect provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Turkey's exchange agreements provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

Turks and Caicos Islands

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place But Needs Improvement

The Turks and Caicos Islands' legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place but needs improvement in order to be fully consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. While the Turks and Caicos Islands' international legal framework to exchange the information with all of the Turks and Caicos Islands' Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2) is consistent with the requirements, its domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures has deficiencies in areas significant to the proper functioning of elements of the AEOI Standard. More specifically, the Turks and Caicos Islands provides for a jurisdiction-specific Excluded Account that is not in accordance with the requirements and its legislative framework does not ensure that valid self-certifications are always obtained for New Accounts.

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

The Turks and Caicos Islands commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2018.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, the Turks and Caicos Islands:

- amended the Tax Information (Exchange and Mutual Administrative Assistance) Ordinance;
- introduced the Tax Information (Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement on Automatic Exchange of Financial Account Information and the Common Reporting Standard) Order 2016, as amended in 2017;
- introduced the International Tax Compliance Regulations 2016, as amended in May 2017; and
- issued further guidance, which is not legally binding.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 January 2016. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2016 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2017.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, the Turks and Caicos Islands:

- has the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters in place¹ and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2018; and
- put in place two bilateral agreements.²

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for the Turks and Caicos Islands are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

CR1 Domestic legal framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein.

Determination: In Place But Needs Improvement

The Turks and Caicos Islands' domestic legislative framework is in place and contains most of the key aspects of the CRS and its Commentary requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures, but it needs improvement in relation to the scope of Financial Accounts required to be reported (SR 1.2) and the framework to enforce the requirements (SR 1.4). More specifically, the Turks and Caicos Islands provides for a jurisdiction-specific Excluded Account that is not in accordance with the requirements and does not provide for specific measures to ensure that valid self-certifications are always obtained for New Accounts.

SR 1.1 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions consistently with the CRS.

The Turks and Caicos Islands has defined the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.2 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Financial Accounts and Reportable Accounts consistently with the CRS and incorporate the due diligence procedures to identify them.

The Turks and Caicos Islands has defined the scope of the Financial Accounts that are required to be reported in its domestic legislative framework and incorporated the due diligence procedures that must be applied to identify them in a manner that is largely consistent with the CRS and its Commentary. However, a deficiency has been identified. More specifically the Turks and Caicos Islands has provided for a jurisdiction-specific Excluded Account that does not meet the requirements. The cope of Financial Accounts, including the provision of Excluded Accounts, is material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

The Turks and Caicos Islands should amend its domestic legislative framework to remove Dormant Accounts from its jurisdiction-specific list of Excluded Accounts as they do not meet the requirements of the AEOI Standard, as no threshold for the exclusion has been set as required.

SR 1.3 Jurisdictions should incorporate the reporting requirements contained in Section I of the CRS into their domestic legislative framework.

The Turks and Caicos Islands has incorporated the reporting requirements in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.4 Jurisdictions should have a legislative framework in place that allows for the enforcement of the requirements of the CRS in practice.

The Turks and Caicos Islands has a legislative framework in place to enforce the requirements in a manner that is largely consistent with the CRS and its Commentary. However, a deficiency has been identified. More specifically, the Turks and Caicos Islands' legislative framework permits accounts to be reported as undocumented when self-certifications are not obtained and/or validated after the opening of the account, rather than include measures to ensure valid self-certifications are always obtained as required. This is a key element of the required enforcement framework and is therefore material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

The Turks and Caicos Islands should amend its domestic legislative framework to include strong measures to ensure that valid self-certifications are always obtained for New Accounts and, more specifically, in the limited circumstances where a valid self-certification is permitted to be obtained after the opening of a New Account.

CR2 International legal framework: Jurisdictions should have exchange relationships in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners as committed to and that provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the Model CAA.

Determination: In Place

The Turks and Caicos Islands' international legal framework to exchange the information is in place, is consistent with the Model CAA and its Commentary and provides for exchange with all of the Turks and Caicos Islands' Interested Appropriate Partners (i.e. all jurisdictions that are interested in receiving information from the Turks and Caicos Islands and that meet the required standard in relation to confidentiality and data safeguards). (SRs 2.1 – 2.3)

SR 2.1 Jurisdictions should have exchange agreements in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information.

The Turks and Caicos Islands has exchange agreements that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information in effect with all its Interested Appropriate Partners.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.2 Such an exchange agreement should be put in place without undue delay, following the receipt of an expression of interest from an Interested Appropriate Partner.

The Turks and Caicos Islands put in place its exchange agreements without undue delay.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.3 Jurisdictions should ensure that the exchange agreements in effect provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

The Turks and Caicos Islands' exchange agreements provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

Comments by the assessed jurisdiction

The Turks and Caicos Islands wishes to acknowledge the work of the Assessment Team and Experts reviewing the AEOI standard for compliance, and thank them for their assistance and cooperation. It was not a simple exercise and proved to be quite costly for a small jurisdiction to implement in terms of administration, technology and legislation. The capacity in terms of resources is still expanding with continuous efforts being made to fall within the boundaries of the standard.

Turks and Caicos Islands has recently implemented a new AEOI Reporting Tool with greater efficiency and reporting capabilities. For those partner jurisdictions that had some difficulty with previous years' submissions, we will happily review the files and re-submit.

United Arab Emirates

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place

The United Arab Emirates' legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place and is consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. This includes the United Arab Emirates' domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) and its international legal framework to exchange the information with all of the United Arab Emirates' Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2).

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

The United Arab Emirates commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2018.

The United Arab Emirates has a decentralised regulatory system to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged. There are now six Regulatory Authorities specified by Cabinet Resolution No. (5/11) of 2020, with each Regulatory Authority of the United Arab Emirates having enacted rules to cover the entities they regulate. These are:

- The Central Bank (CB)- Notice No. 404/2016, amended on 20 August 2020;
- The Securities and Commodities Authority (SCA) - Decision of the Chairman of the SCA Board of Directors No. (25 / R.M) of 2017 Concerning the Issuance of Regulation for Common Standards to Prepare the Tax Reports, amended on 3 August 2020;
- The Insurance Authority (IA) - Insurance Authority Circular No. 34 issued on 9 September 2020;
- The Dubai International Finance Centre (DIFC) - Common Reporting Standard Law No. (2) of 2018 and the CRS Regulations of the Board of Directors of the DIFCA, amended on 30 July 2020;
- The Abu Dhabi Global Market (ADGM) - Common Reporting Standard Regulations 2017, amended on 24 June 2020; and
- Ministry of Finance (MoF) – CRS Guidance Notes issued in 2016, revised and reissued on 3 August 2020.

The United Arab Emirates also made reference to Federal Decree-law No. 20 of 2018 relating to anti-money laundering for the purposes of the identification of Controlling Persons under the AEOI Standard.

Centralised guidance was also issued by the Ministry of Finance. The Guidance and the aforementioned rules enacted by Regulatory Authorities are legally binding.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 January 2017. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2017 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2018.

Following the initial Global Forum peer review, the United Arab Emirates amended its legislative framework to address issues identified, the last of which was effective from 20 August 2020.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, the United Arab Emirates is a Party to the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2018.

Detailed findings

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place

The United Kingdom's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place and is consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. This includes the United Kingdom's domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) and its international legal framework to exchange the information with all of the United Kingdom's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2).

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

The United Kingdom commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2017.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, the United Kingdom:

- enacted Section 222 of the Finance Act 2013;
- introduced the International Tax Compliance Regulations 2015 as amended by Statutory Instruments 1839 of 2015, 899 of 2016, 598 of 2017, 490 of 2018, 881 of 2019 and 438 of 2020; and
- issued further guidance, which is not legally binding.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 January 2016. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2016 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2017.

Following the initial Global Forum peer review, the United Kingdom made various amendments to its legislative framework to address issues identified, the last of which was effective from 13 May 2020.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, the United Kingdom:

- is a Party to the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2017;
- has in place European Directive 2011/16/EU on Administrative Cooperation in the Field of Taxation as amended by Directive 2014/107/EU;
- has in place European Union agreements with five European third countries¹; and
- put in place 12 bilateral agreements.²

Uruguay

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place But Needs Improvement

Uruguay's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place but needs improvement in order to be fully consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. While Uruguay's international legal framework to exchange the information with all of Uruguay's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2) is consistent with the requirements, its domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) has deficiencies significant to the proper functioning of elements of the AEOI Standard. More specifically, some definitions necessary to define Reportable Financial Institutions and Financial Accounts are incomplete, and there are no rules to prevent the circumvention of the due diligence and reporting procedures.

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Uruguay commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2018.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Uruguay:

- enacted Decree 77/017, as amended by Decree N° 243/2018;
- enacted DGI Resolution N° 6396/2017 of 25 September, 2017;
- published Frequently Asked Questions, which are not legally binding; and
- made reference to Law 19.484 for purposes of the identification of Controlling Persons under the AEOI Standard.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 1 January 2017. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2017 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2018.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Uruguay is a Party to the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2018.

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for Uruguay are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

CR1 Domestic legal framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein.

Determination: In Place But Needs Improvement
--

Uruguay's domestic legislative framework is in place and contains most of the key aspects of the CRS and its Commentary requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures, but it needs improvement in relation to the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions required to report information (SR 1.1), the scope of Financial Accounts required to be reported (SR 1.2) and the framework to enforce the requirements (SR 1.4). Most significantly, it is not clear that fiscally transparent Reporting Financial Institutions are fully in scope, certain definitions related to Reportable Accounts are incomplete, and Uruguay's enforcement framework does not contain rules to prevent circumvention of due diligence and reporting obligations.

SR 1.1 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions consistently with the CRS.

Uruguay has defined the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions in its domestic legislative framework in a manner that is largely consistent with the CRS and its Commentary. However, deficiencies have been identified. Most significantly, Uruguay's legislative framework does not specify how the residence of a fiscally transparent Reporting Financial Institution is to be determined. The scope of Reporting Financial Institutions is material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

Uruguay should amend its domestic legislative framework to ensure that the residency of a fiscally transparent Financial Institution is determined in accordance with the AEOI Standard.

Uruguay should amend its domestic legislative framework to require the term Investment Entity to be interpreted in accordance with similar language defining "financial institution" in the FATF Recommendations.

Uruguay should amend its domestic legislative framework to remove Health Insurance Companies from its jurisdiction-specific list of categories of Non-Reporting Financial Institutions as their characteristics are not substantially similar to those set out in the AEOI Standard.

SR 1.2 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Financial Accounts and Reportable Accounts consistently with the CRS and incorporate the due diligence procedures to identify them.

Uruguay has defined the scope of the Financial Accounts that are required to be reported in its domestic legislative framework and incorporated the due diligence procedures that must be applied to identify them in a manner that is largely consistent with the CRS and its Commentary. However, deficiencies have been identified. Most significantly, Uruguay's domestic legal framework does not fully incorporate the definitions of Entity, Equity Interest and Annuity Contract. The scope of Financial Accounts and the due diligence procedures are material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

Uruguay should amend its domestic legislative framework to define Entity in accordance with the AEOI Standard.

Uruguay should amend its domestic legislative framework to define the term Equity Interest in the case of partnerships, in accordance with the AEOI Standard.

Uruguay should amend its domestic legislative framework to include the complete definition of the term Annuity Contract in accordance with the AEOI Standard.

Uruguay should amend its domestic legislative framework to remove three entries from its jurisdiction-specific list of categories of Excluded Accounts as they do not meet the requirements. These are: i) insurance contracts and ii) retirement account policies held by Uruguayan residents, and iii) Dormant Accounts.

SR 1.3 Jurisdictions should incorporate the reporting requirements contained in Section I of the CRS into their domestic legislative framework.

Uruguay has incorporated the reporting requirements in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.4 Jurisdictions should have a legislative framework in place that allows for the enforcement of the requirements of the CRS in practice.

Uruguay has a legislative framework in place to enforce the requirements in a manner that is largely consistent with the CRS and its Commentary. However, deficiencies have been identified. Most significantly, Uruguay's legislative framework does not include rules to prevent Financial Institutions, persons or intermediaries from adopting practices intended to circumvent the reporting and due diligence procedures as required. This is a key element to the required enforcement framework and is therefore material to the proper functioning of the AEOI Standard.

Recommendations:

Uruguay should amend its domestic legislative framework to introduce rules to prevent Financial Institutions, persons and intermediaries from adopting practices intended to circumvent the due diligence and reporting procedures.

Uruguay should amend its domestic legislative framework to require Reporting Financial Institutions to maintain records for at least five years from the deadline to report the information, rather than from when they file the report.

CR2 International legal framework: Jurisdictions should have exchange relationships in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners as committed to and that provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the Model CAA.

Determination: In Place

Uruguay's international legal framework to exchange the information is in place, is consistent with the Model CAA and its Commentary and provides for exchange with all of Uruguay's Interested Appropriate Partners (i.e. all jurisdictions that are interested in receiving information from Uruguay and that meet the required standard in relation to confidentiality and data safeguards). (SRs 2.1 – 2.3)

SR 2.1 Jurisdictions should have exchange agreements in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information.

Uruguay has exchange agreements that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information in effect with all its Interested Appropriate Partners.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.2 Such an exchange agreement should be put in place without undue delay, following the receipt of an expression of interest from an Interested Appropriate Partner.

Uruguay put in place its exchange agreements without undue delay.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.3 Jurisdictions should ensure that the exchange agreements in effect provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Uruguay's exchange agreements provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

Vanuatu

Overall findings

Overall determination on the legal framework: In Place

Vanuatu's legal framework implementing the AEOI Standard is in place and is consistent with the requirements of the AEOI Terms of Reference. This includes Vanuatu's domestic legislative framework requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (CR1) and its international legal framework to exchange the information with all of Vanuatu's Interested Appropriate Partners (CR2).

The methodology used for the peer reviews and that therefore underpins this report is outlined in Chapter 2.

Conclusions on the legal framework

General context

Vanuatu commenced exchanges under the AEOI Standard in 2018.

In order to provide for Reporting Financial Institutions to collect and report the information to be exchanged, Vanuatu:

- enacted International Tax Cooperation Act No. 7 of 2016 that was subsequently replaced by Tax Administration Act No. 37 of 2018 (with full effect from 1 January 2020);
- introduced Automatic Exchange of Information Regulations Order No. 76 of 2017 that was subsequently replaced by the Tax Administration Regulation Order No. 154 of 2019 (with full effect from 1 January 2020), as amended with effect from 14 September 2020; and
- issued further guidance, which is not legally binding.

Under this framework Reporting Financial Institutions were required to commence the due diligence procedures in relation to New Accounts from 30 June 2017. With respect to Preexisting Accounts, Reporting Financial Institutions were required to complete the due diligence procedures on High Value Individual Accounts by 31 December 2017 and on Lower Value Individual Accounts and Entity Accounts by 31 December 2018.

Following the initial Global Forum peer review, Vanuatu made various amendments to its legislative framework to address issues identified, the last of which was effective from 14 September 2020.

With respect to the exchange of information under the AEOI Standard, Vanuatu is a Party to the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters and activated the associated CRS Multilateral Competent Authority Agreement in time for exchanges in 2018.

Detailed findings

The detailed findings for Vanuatu are below, organised per Core Requirement (CR) and sub-requirement (SR), as extracted from the AEOI Terms of Reference (www.oecd.org/tax/transparency/documents/aeoi-terms-of-reference.pdf).

CR1 Domestic legal framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein.

Determination: In Place

Vanuatu's domestic legislative framework is in place and contains all of the key aspects of the CRS and its Commentary requiring Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures (SRs 1.1 – 1.3). It also provides for a framework to enforce the requirements (SR 1.4).

SR 1.1 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions consistently with the CRS.

Vanuatu has defined the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.2 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Financial Accounts and Reportable Accounts consistently with the CRS and incorporate the due diligence procedures to identify them.

Vanuatu has defined the scope of the Financial Accounts that are required to be reported in its domestic legislative framework and incorporated the due diligence procedures that must be applied to identify them in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.3 Jurisdictions should incorporate the reporting requirements contained in Section I of the CRS into their domestic legislative framework.

Vanuatu has incorporated the reporting requirements in its domestic legislative framework in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 1.4 Jurisdictions should have a legislative framework in place that allows for the enforcement of the requirements of the CRS in practice.

Vanuatu has a legislative framework in place to enforce the requirements in accordance with the CRS and its Commentary.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

CR2 International legal framework: Jurisdictions should have exchange relationships in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners as committed to and that provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the Model CAA.

Determination: In Place

Vanuatu's international legal framework to exchange the information is in place, is consistent with the Model CAA and its Commentary and provides for exchange with all of Vanuatu's Interested Appropriate

Partners (i.e. all jurisdictions that are interested in receiving information from Vanuatu and that meet the required standard in relation to confidentiality and data safeguards). (SRs 2.1 – 2.3)

SR 2.1 Jurisdictions should have exchange agreements in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information.

Vanuatu has exchange agreements that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information in effect with all its Interested Appropriate Partners.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.2 Such an exchange agreement should be put in place without undue delay, following the receipt of an expression of interest from an Interested Appropriate Partner.

Vanuatu put in place its exchange agreements without undue delay.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

SR 2.3 Jurisdictions should ensure that the exchange agreements in effect provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Vanuatu's exchange agreements provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA.

Recommendations:

No recommendations made.

Comments by the assessed jurisdiction

Vanuatu thanks the Global Forum and its staff for the assistance and support given to us to ensure that Vanuatu's legal framework is in place.

Vanuatu is committed to meeting our international obligations and will work with the Global Forum into the future to ensure our framework stays compliant with international best practice.

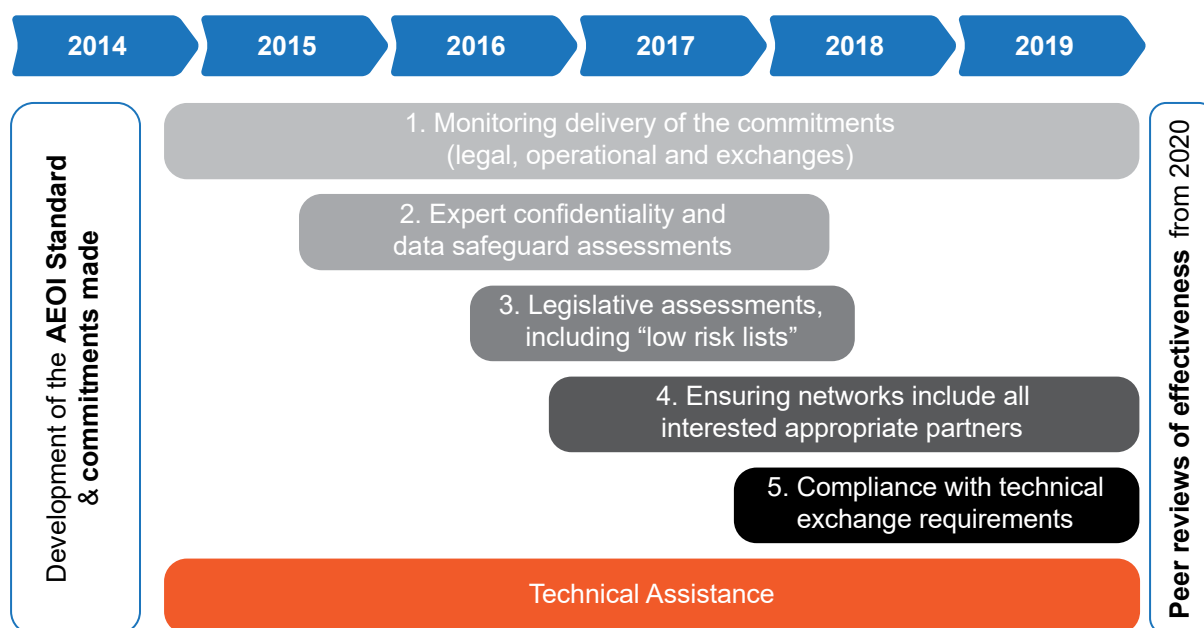

Annex A. Assessments carried out under the Staged Approach

In recognition that not all requirements of the AEOI Standard could be reviewed once exchanges take place, the Global Forum put in place a “Staged Approach” to monitor, assess and assist in the implementation of the AEOI Standard while it is being implemented.

Staging the assessments meant that issues across all key areas of the implementation of the AEOI Standard could be identified, even prior to exchanges taking place. This approach was chosen to help ensure effective implementation from the start.

The diagram below depicts each module of the Staged Approach, including the timings with respect to the jurisdictions committed to commence exchanges from 2017 or 2018. The individual modules are described in more detail below.

Source: Secretariat of the Global Forum on Transparency and Exchange of Information for Tax Purposes.

Individual modules of the Staged Approach

1. Commitments and monitoring implementation: Implementation milestones are tracked with jurisdictions providing regular updates to the Global Forum on their progress. This also allows the identification of assistance needs, on domestic legislation, international agreements, information technology systems and administrative infrastructure. The results of this process have been used to provide regular internal monitoring reports to Global Forum members and to the G20, as well as to produce this report.

2. Expert confidentiality and data safeguard assessments: Legal and operational frameworks must be in place to keep the information exchanged confidential and properly safeguarded. An expert panel from member jurisdictions conduct pre-exchange assessments to ensure jurisdictions meet the confidentiality and data safeguard requirements, prior to them exchanging information. The Global Forum provides assistance where issues are identified. Post-exchange reviews, including of the operational frameworks actually used for the exchanges, are also conducted to provide assurance that the requirements continue to be met.

3. Legislative assessments, including low-risk lists: Legislation is also needed to ensure Reporting Financial Institutions conduct the required due diligence and reporting procedures, including a framework for enforcement. Each jurisdiction's domestic legislative framework is therefore peer reviewed once it is put in place (i.e. even before exchanges commence). This includes a legislative gap analysis to ensure all of the key elements of the AEOI Standard are incorporated and an assessment of each jurisdiction's lists of Non-Reporting Financial Institutions and Excluded Accounts to ensure their conformity with the AEOI Standard. Where gaps are found, recommendations are made.

4. Ensuring networks include interested appropriate partners: Monitoring the exchange agreements being put in place is also a key component of the monitoring and review processes. This ensures the delivery by each jurisdiction of its commitment to exchange information with "all Interested Appropriate Partners". Where a jurisdiction is concerned about delays to the putting in place of a particular exchange agreement it can trigger a peer review of the situation.

5. Compliance with the technical exchange requirements: Ultimately, jurisdictions must collect the actual information from the Reporting Financial Institutions and exchange it. Each jurisdiction's technical readiness to exchange is therefore also monitored.

Technical assistance: Bringing together all jurisdictions on the basis of a level playing field, including ensuring developing countries can access the benefits the AEOI Standard has to offer, requires support. The Global Forum therefore provides technical assistance throughout the commitment and implementation process.

Reviews of the effectiveness of the implementation of the AEOI Standard: Lastly, it must be ensured that the implementation of the AEOI Standard is effective in practice, including that jurisdictions are ensuring that Reporting Financial Institutions are effectively implementing the requirements. With exchanges now fully underway, and with the publication of the conclusions with respect to the legal framework, the peer reviews with respect to the effectiveness of the implementation of the AEOI Standard in practice are commencing. These are due to conclude in 2022.

Annex B. Details of the exchange agreements in place

The table below presents information on all the exchanges agreements in place with respect to the AEOI Standard. Annex C. Extract from the AEOI Terms of Reference with respect to the legal frameworks

Below is an extract from the AEOI Terms of Reference, containing each of the Core Requirements and Sub-Requirements relating to the required legal frameworks to implement the AEOI Standard.

CR 1 Legal framework: Jurisdictions should have a domestic legislative framework in place that requires all Reporting Financial Institutions to conduct the due diligence and reporting procedures in the CRS, and that provides for the effective implementation of the CRS as set out therein

Defining Reporting Financial Institutions

SR 1.1 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Reporting Financial Institutions consistently with the CRS, in particular by:

- a) incorporating the definitions contained in paragraph A of Section VIII of the CRS into their domestic legislative framework; and
- b) ensuring that any Financial Institution or category of Financial Institutions defined domestically as a Non-Reporting Financial Institution meets the requirements for its status as a Non-Reporting Financial Institution as set out in paragraph B of Section VIII of the CRS.

Defining the Financial Accounts to be reported and incorporating the due diligence procedures to identify them

SR 1.2 Jurisdictions should define the scope of Financial Accounts and Reportable Accounts consistently with the CRS and incorporate the due diligence procedures to identify them, in particular by:

- a) incorporating the definitions contained in subparagraphs C. 1 to 16, and paragraphs D and E of Section VIII of the CRS into their domestic legislative framework.
- b) defining New Accounts as those opened from the first day of the calendar year (or other appropriate reporting period) prior to the year of first exchange and Preexisting Accounts as those that are open on the last day of the preceding calendar year (or other appropriate reporting period).
- c) incorporating the due diligence procedures contained in Sections II to VII of the CRS into their domestic legislative framework.¹
- d) ensuring that any Financial Account or category of Financial Accounts defined in their domestic legislative framework as an Excluded Account meets the requirements for its status as an Excluded Account as set out in subparagraph C. 17 of Section VIII of the CRS.

Reporting the information

SR 1.3 Jurisdictions should incorporate the reporting requirements contained in Section I of the CRS into their domestic legislative framework.²

Enforcement

SR 1.4 Jurisdictions should have a legislative framework in place that allows for the enforcement of the requirements of the CRS in practice, including through rules to:

- a) prevent Financial Institutions, persons or intermediaries from adopting practices intended to circumvent the due diligence and reporting procedures;
- b) require Reporting Financial Institutions to keep records of the steps undertaken and any evidence relied upon for the due diligence procedures for at least five years following the end of the period within which the Reporting Financial Institution must report the information required to be reported under Section I of the CRS;
- c) ensure that valid self-certifications are always obtained for New Accounts; and
- d) address non-compliance with the requirements of the CRS.

CR2 Legal framework: Jurisdictions should have exchange relationships in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners as committed to and that provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the Model CAA

Putting in place the exchange agreements on time

SR 2.1 Jurisdictions should have exchange agreements in effect with all Interested Appropriate Partners that permit the automatic exchange of CRS information.

SR 2.2 Such an exchange agreement should be put in place without undue delay, following the receipt of an expression of interest from an Interested Appropriate Partner.³

The contents of the agreements

SR 2.3 Jurisdictions should ensure that the exchange agreements in effect provide for the exchange of information in accordance with the requirements of the Model CAA,⁴ including with respect to:

- a) the categories of information to be exchanged;⁵
- b) the timing of the exchange of information;⁶
- c) the notifying of an exchange partner when the jurisdiction has reason to believe that an error may have led to incomplete or incorrect information reporting or there is non-compliance with the due diligence or reporting procedures by a Reporting Financial Institution, located in the exchange partner;⁷ and
- d) taking all appropriate measures available under the jurisdiction's domestic law to address errors or non-compliance notified to it.⁸

Notes

¹ Sections II to VII of the CRS set out the General Due Diligence Requirements, the Due Diligence for Preexisting Individual Accounts, the Due Diligence for New Individual Accounts, the Due Diligence for Preexisting Entity Accounts, the Due Diligence for New Entity Accounts, the Special Due Diligence Rules and the Defined Terms respectively. Paragraphs D and E of 3 Section VIII of the CRS set out the definitions relevant to the due diligence procedures.

² Section I of the CRS sets out the General Reporting Requirements, specifying the information that must be reported with respect to each Reportable Account.

³ Exchange agreements are expected to be put in place in time for exchanges from the date committed to unless the expression of interest indicates a later date for the commencement of exchanges or the expression of interest is not received in time. Whether the expression of interest is received in time for exchanges to commence in a particular year will depend on the specific circumstances, including the approach to the implementation of the AEOI Standard taken by the potential exchange partners.

⁴ Note that the agreements can take various forms. What is key is that both exchange partners are satisfied that the arrangement in place delivers the outcomes specified in the requirements.

⁶ Section 3 of the Model CAA

⁷ Section 4 of the Model CAA

⁸ Section 4 of the Model CAA

GLOBAL FORUM ON TRANSPARENCY AND EXCHANGE
OF INFORMATION FOR TAX PURPOSES

Peer Review of the Automatic Exchange of Financial Account Information 2020

The Global Forum on Transparency and Exchange of Information for Tax Purposes is a multilateral framework for tax transparency and information sharing, within which over 160 jurisdictions participate on an equal footing. The Global Forum monitors and peer reviews the implementation of the international standards of Exchange of Information on Request (EOIR) and Automatic Exchange of Information (AEOI).

AEOI provides for the automatic exchange of a predefined set of financial account information between tax authorities on an annual basis in order to assist them in ensuring the correct amount of tax is paid. To ensure the AEOI standard is fully effective, the Global Forum carries out a review of each jurisdiction's domestic and international legal frameworks to ensure they are complete, and a review of the effectiveness of the implementation of the standard in practice.

This report presents the conclusions of the peer reviews of the legal frameworks put in place by each jurisdiction to implement the AEOI standard. The results relate to the 100 jurisdictions that committed to commence AEOI from 2017 or 2018. The Global Forum has also begun the reviews of the effectiveness in practice of the implementation of the standard, the results of which are expected to be published in 2022.
