METHODOLOGICAL NOTES¹

Financial accounts and financial balance sheets are part of the system of national accounts (SNA) of the Russian Federation. The SNA contains a broad range of macroeconomic data characterising processes of goods and services production, generation, distribution, redistribution and usage of income, and corresponding changes in financial and non-financial assets and liabilities.

Financial accounts and financial balance sheets of the SNA are compiled in accordance with Federal Law No. 86-FZ, dated 10 July 2002, ‘On the Central Bank of the Russian Federation (Bank of Russia)’. The Bank of Russia takes part in developing financial accounts methodology and organises the compilation of the financial account of the SNA (Clause 16.1, Article 4 of Federal Law No. 86FZ).²

The Bank of Russia has been publishing the annual financial accounts and financial balance sheets since 2015, covering the period from 2012.

Financial accounts and financial balance sheets present data on financial transactions broken down by institutional sector and financial instruments.

Financial accounts and financial balance sheets are compiled annually and quarterly in accordance with the international standards. The System of National Accounts Manual³ (2008 SNA) sets forth the conceptual and methodological framework for compiling financial accounts and financial balance sheets.

The key information blocks for compiling financial accounts and financial balance sheets are as follows: monetary statistics, external sector statistics, government finance statistics, annual accounting (financial) statements, federal statistical report forms, and securities database.

Financial accounts records financial transactions between resident institutional units, and between resident institutional units and the rest of the world. A financial transaction creates (or liquidates) financial asset and corresponding counterparty liability simultaneously; it can change ownership of a financial asset as well. Financial accounts present a symmetric shape applying the same financial instruments’ classification for assets and liabilities side.

Financial balance sheets (sectoral balance sheets) present values of institutional sectors’ financial positions at the beginning and the end of a reporting period. Asset or liability position changes at the same time as transactions, price changes, or other changes in the volume of assets or liabilities change.

² The clause 16.1 was introduced by Federal Law No. 285-FZ, dated 19 October 2011.

INSTITUTIONAL SECTORS

An institutional unit is an economic entity that is capable, in its own right, of owning assets, incurring liabilities and engaging in economic activities and in transactions with other entities (2008 SNA: 4.2). Institutional units are grouped into sectors and subsectors.

The classification of the economic sectors used in compiling the SNA accounts corresponds to Appendix B ‘Classification of institutional sectors of the economy’ of the All-Russian Classification of Forms of Incorporation OK 028-2012 (approved by Rosstandart Order No. 505st, dated 16 October 2012).

Each institutional resident unit belongs to one of the following institutional sectors (subsectors) (Table 1).

Non-financial corporations sector comprises corporations whose principal activity is market goods and non-financial services production. This sector also includes non-resident corporations’ branches engaged in non-financial production in the Russian Federation and non-profit institutions that are market producers.⁴

Financial corporations sector includes corporations whose principal activity is to provide financial services. This sector is divided into the following subsectors: ‘Central bank and other depository corporations’; ‘Investment funds’; ‘Other financial intermediaries’ (other financial corporations (intermediaries), except insurance corporations and pension funds, and financial auxiliaries); ‘Insurance corporations’; and ‘Pension funds’.

Central bank and other depository corporations subsector includes the central bank and credit institutions.

Investment funds subsector includes all joint-stock and mutual investment funds: open-end, interval, closed-end, and exchange-traded investment funds.

Insurance corporations subsector comprises all insurance corporations and mutual insurance companies. This subsector does not include insurance brokers and insurance agents. Insurance brokers and agents, which are legal entities, are included in the Other Financial Intermediaries subsector. Insurance brokers and agents, which are private individuals, are included in the Household sector.

Pension funds subsector comprises institutions licensed to engage in pension services management and pension funding.

Other financial intermediaries subsector consists of financial corporations engaged in providing financial services and they are not included into other subsectors of the 'Financial corporations' sector, e.g. brokers, dealers, depositories, other professional securities market participants, microfinance institutions, pawnshops, credit consumer cooperatives, leasing companies etc.

General government sector comprises all federal, regional and local authorities of the Russian Federation, extra-budgetary funds (Social Fund of Russia⁵, and the Federal Mandatory Health Insurance Fund), and non-market non-profit institutions controlled by government authorities and financed from the federal, regional and local budgets and extra-budgetary funds. The composition of the sector is harmonised with the government finance statistics.⁶

In the financial account and financial balance sheets framework, the sectors 'Households' and 'Non-profit institutions serving households' are presented as a single one, Households and NPISH sector.

Households comprise institutional units consisting of one individual or a group of individuals, including individual entrepreneurs.

Non-profit institutions serving households are institutional units, which are non-market producers created to provide social services to households. They include political parties, trade union organisations, social movement groups, religious organisations, charity organisations, indigenous minority communities, housing owners associations, and others.

The Rest of the world consists of all non-resident institutional units that are engaged in transactions with resident units, or have other economic links with resident units, as well as international organisations. Accounts and balance sheets of the Rest of the World record information only on economic links between residents and non-residents. Transactions between non-residents are out of scope.

⁶ The government finance statistics are compiled according to Order of the Ministry of Finance of the Russian Federation No. 221 n, dated 30 November 2016, 'On Approving the Procedure for Compiling Government Finance Statistics'.

FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

The classification of financial instruments (Table 2), used to compile the financial account and financial balance sheets, are developed in accordance with the 2008 SNA methodological principles.

Monetary gold and Special Drawing Rights are assets solely held by the central bank.

Monetary gold is a reserve asset of the central bank. Monetary gold is the only financial asset with no corresponding liability of another institutional unit.

Special Drawing Rights (SDRs) are also a reserve asset of the central bank. The International Monetary Fund (IMF) sets quotas allocating SDRs among the IMF member countries. SDR holdings represent the unconditional right of an IMF member country to exchange SDRs for freely usable currencies. The value of the SDR are based on the basket of the five currencies. Countries may purchase SDRs to fulfil their obligations to the IMF and sell SDRs to adjust the structure of international reserves.

Currency and deposits include currency, transferable and other deposits.

Currency consists of notes and coins issued by central banks. Currency may only be the liability of the subsector 'Central bank' (domestic currency) and the Rest of the world (foreign currencies). Currency can be an asset of institutional units of any sector.

Deposits comprise bank accounts, demand deposits, letters of credit, as well as time deposits, credit institutions' required reserves with the central bank, and the reserve position in the IMF. Transactions between credit institutions (including non-resident banks), both in terms of deposits and loans, are classified as deposits according to 2008 SNA. Deposits may only be liabilities for institutional units of the subsector 'Central bank and other depository corporations' and the Rest of the world. Transferable and other deposits may be assets held by institutional units of any sector.

Debt securities comprise bonds, bills, savings certificates, certificates of deposit, depository receipts for bonds and other debt securities. Debt securities give their holders the rights to receive contractually determined payments on a specified date. Transactions with debt securities include issuance, redemption, acquisition and sale.

Loans include long- and short-term loans, repurchase agreements, as well as claims on or liabilities to the IMF in the form of loans, and other transactions. Loans between two credit institutions are classifies as deposits in accordance with 2008 SNA and are not presented under the 'Loans' instrument.

Equity and investment fund shares comprise shares, depository receipts for shares, mutual investment funds' shares and other equity. Equity and investment fund shares evidence ownership.

F8	Other accounts receivable / payable

Data on Equity and investment fund shares are presented on a consolidated basis in the financial accounts and financial balance sheets of the general government sector. Thus, as for Equity and investment fund shares, there is no liabilities of the general government sector.

Insurance, pension and standardised guarantee schemes constitute life and non-life insurance reserves, as well as pension entitlements and entitlements to non-pension benefits. Insurance and pension reserves are liabilities of institutional units related to Insurance corporations and Pension Funds subsectors and the Rest of the world. At the same time, they represent assets of insurance and pension schemes' participants.

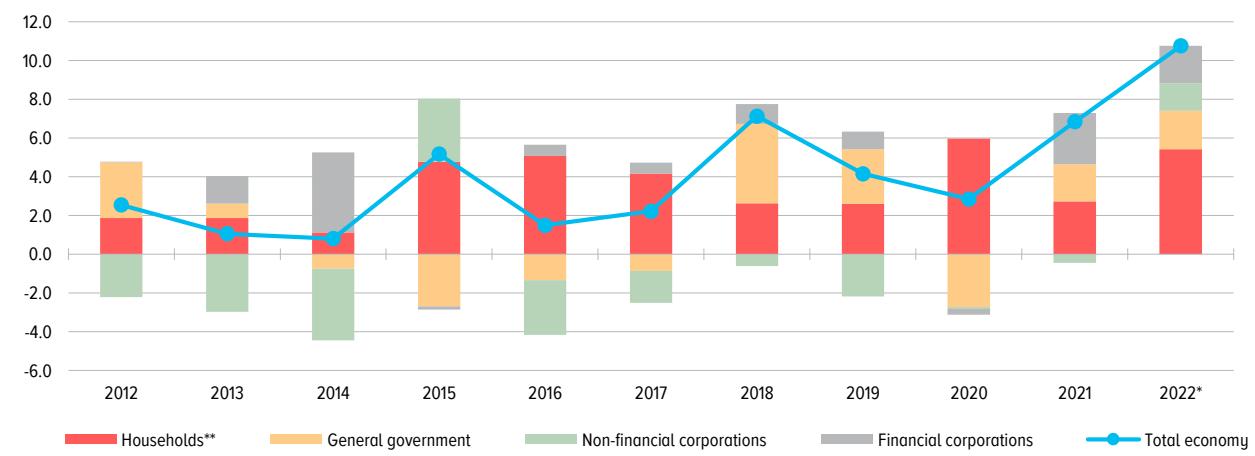

Other accounts receivable/payable comprise trade credit, other accounts receivable or payable and escrow accounts of households for the contracts for participation in shared-equity construction and for purchases of real estate. This category also includes data on financial derivatives.

SELECTED DEVELOPMENTS

In 2022, amid the ongoing processes of structural adaptation of the Russian economy to the changed macroeconomic conditions, the total net lending of the domestic economy (Chart 1) increased to its highest level in the last ten years and amounted to 16.5 trln rubles or 10.8% of GDP (in 2021 – 9.2 trln rubles or 6.8% of GDP). Households sector had the largest contribution to the growth of net lending (8.3 trln rubles or 5.4% of GDP). In addition, in 2022 the sector of non-financial corporations became a net creditor (2.2 trln rubles or 1.4% of GDP).

 Preliminary data.

Large-scale government support measures implemented in 2022 contributed to the easing of fiscal policy and growth of current budget expenditures due to additional revenues of the consolidated budget of the Russian Federation. The general government sector net lending rose to 3.1 trln rubles or 2.0% of GDP⁷.

Financial corporations

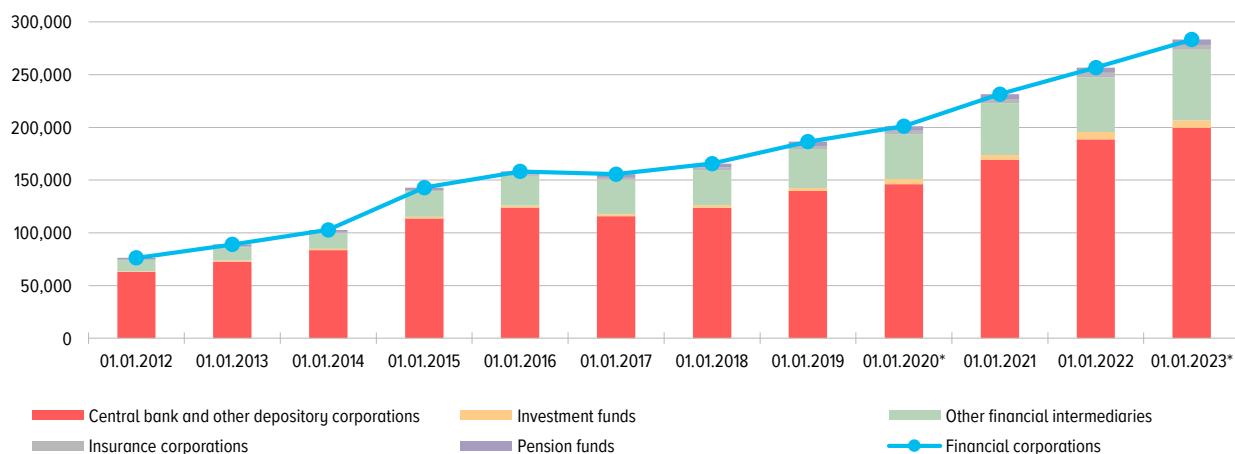

Net lending of financial corporations decreased in comparison with the previous year and amounted to 3 trln rubles or 1.9% of GDP (3.6 trln rubles or 2.7% of GDP in 2021). The decline of net lending was caused by subsector of other financial corporations (-503.5 bln rubles). Banking sector, on the contrary, increased the volume of net lending to 3.1 trln rubles in 2022 in comparison with 2.6 trln rubles in 2021 and dominated by the volume of assets in the Russian financial sector (chart 2).

The high level of lending maintained by the banking sector (also due to the government support measures) provided the economy with resources needed for adaptation to the new macroeconomic conditions. The volume of total financing by the banking system to all sectors of the economy exceeded the same indicator in 2021 and amounted to 11.6 trln rubles (in 2021 – 10.1 trln rubles).

Households

In 2022, financial assets of households increased from 120.1 to 124.5 trln rubles (Chart 3). The share of cash in financial portfolio of households significantly increased to 64.4 trln rubles or 51.7% (in 2021 – 47.8%). The second largest part of households financial assets was equity and investment fund shares – 41.5 trln rubles or 33.3% (in 2021 – 37.4%). The shares of insurance, pension and standardized guarantee schemes and debt securities has changed slightly – from 5.4 and 3.2% to 5.3 and 2.7% correspondingly.

Under the rise of economic uncertainty about macroeconomic development in 2022, households demand for cash significantly increased. As a result, the growth⁸ of cash in national and foreign currency held by households exceeded the level of 2021 by more than three times and amounted to 3.2 trln rubles⁹ (chart 4). Substantial growth¹⁰ of households deposits was supported by an attractive level of interest rates. Increase of total amount of cash and deposits was almost 8.0 trln rubles (in 2021 – 3.4 trln rubles) reflected the transition of households to a savings behavior model.

* Preliminary data.

In 2022, there was the highest since 2012 inflow of households funds to equity and investment fund shares (2.6 trln rubles) due to their investments in listed residents' shares (two times higher than in 2021). At the same time, growth of households funds in escrow accounts decreased to 1.0 trln rubles (in 2021 – 1.9 trln rubles). Households investment in debt securities declined to 46 bln rubles in comparison with the maximum level of 906 bln rubles in 2021.

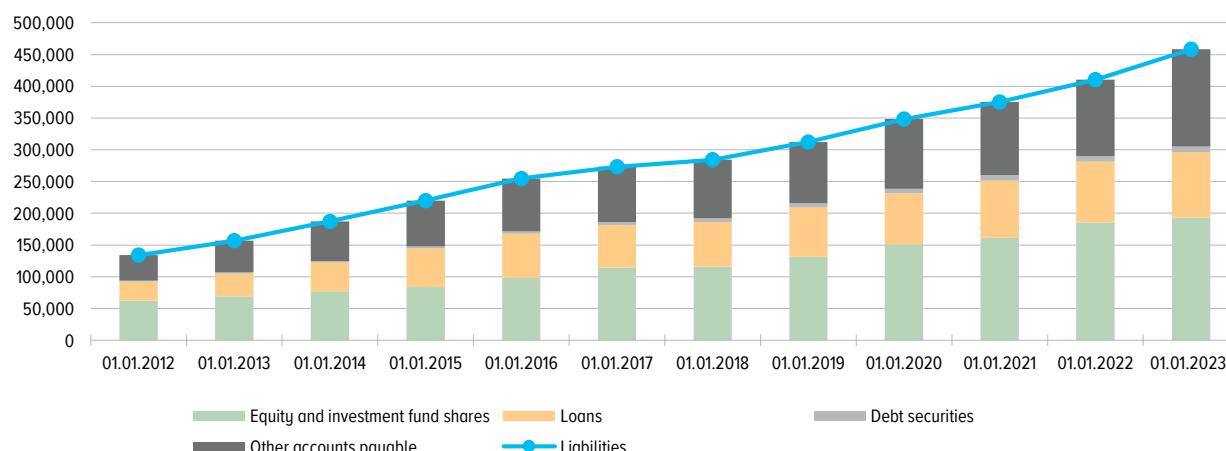

Households borrowings. In 2022, the volume of households loans decreased to 2.8 trln rubles, that was almost two times lower than in 2021 (5.1 trln rubles), mainly due to the growth of lending costs and credit policy tightening. Mortgage loans had the main contribution to the growth of households borrowings (2.0 trln rubles) to a certain extent thanks to the government subsidized mortgages program.

Nonfinancial corporations

Equity and investment fund shares formed the largest part of nonfinancial corporations liabilities – 193.1 trln rubles or 42.1% (in 2021 – 45.1%). Outstanding amounts of loans was equal to 102.9 trln rubles or 22.5% of the total liabilities (23.4% in 2021). The share of other accounts payable significantly increased in 2022 to 153.3 trln rubles or 33.5% (29.3% in 2021). The volume of debt securities in the structure of liabilities remained at the same level and amounted to 8.9 trln rubles or 1.9%.

The volume of financing attracted by non-financial corporations through loans increased almost by 44% in comparison with 2021 and amounted to 9.5 trln rubles (in 2021 – 6.6 trln rubles). This growth also occurred due to the governments support measures of systematically important corporations as a part of anti-crisis policy, an increase in project financing of housing construction as well as financing of large investment projects and gradual substitution of external borrowing by internal one.

The volume of capital raised through equity and investment fund shares increased to 2.4 trln rubles (1.5 trln rubles in 2021), while the financing by issuing debt securities was low and amounted to 163 bln rubles (828 bln rubles in 2021).
